Nixon Remains Ike's Choice

Adviser Calls On Dulles To Hobble Wandering Feet

Frequent Trips Called Harmful To U. S. Policy

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The sharpest attack yet made on Secretary of State Dulles' habit of dashing about the world came today from one of his own top level advisers, who recommended that he hobble his wandering feet.

The outspoken counselor is Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president emeritus of Brown University and the man who has done perhaps more than any other to help Dulles reorganize the U.S. foreign service. He is an adviser on administrative and personnel problems when needed and a member of an advistory committee for the Foreign Service Institute.

In an article in "Foreign Affairs," a magazine published by the Council on Foreign Relations in New York, Wriston writes that frequent absences of Dulles or any other secretary of state from his office here are positively harmful to the making and conducting of U.S. foreign policy.

Envoys "Messenger Boys"

The President does not get the advice he needs, according to Wriston; U.S. ambassadors abroad are shown up almost as messenger boys and the secretary himself loses broad understanding of the problems he must solve.

"The vital requisites for the effective discharge of the duties of the secretary of state are perspective and wisdom," Wriston wrote. "Those qualities find their most effective employment when there is at least a modicum of leisure for quiet reflection."

Wriston went on to say that perspective and wisdom are not always found in men of "the rugged constitution and physical endurance required for perpetual motion."

Traveled 300,000 Miles

Dulles who since becoming secretary of state 3½ years ago has traveled more than 300,000 miles —or better than 11 times around the equator—and visited 38 countries is famous for his rugged physique.

Dulles himself defended his traveling today in the course of a brief talk to the Girls Nation, a gathering of high school girls sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary.

Wriston said the problem of conducting diplomacy in modern times should be reviewed and techniques should be reformed "to make it possible for men of normal strength hereafter to carry the load."

Dixie Manifesto Calls Rights Bill Liberty Threat

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP) — A new Southern manifesto declared tonight "the pending so-called civil rights legislation" threatens the liberties of all citizens.

Signed by 83 members of the House from 11 states, the statement called on the House and Senate to defeat the legislation.

The declaration, in the form of a resolution, is to be read to the House by Rep. Tuck (D-Va) tomorrow—three days in advance of the start of debate on the civil rights bill in the House.

Advanced by the administration and supported by Northern Democrats as well as Republicans, the legislation was approved by the House Judiciary Committee.

Briefly, it would set up a bipartisan Commission on Civil Rights, create a new Civil Rights Division in the Justice Department, and make it easier for individual civil rights complaints to be taken into federal courts.

"No one," the Southerners said in the resolution, "has the wildest idea of the purpose for which the extraordinary powers created by this legislation will be employed, and to grant them by such vague language as is contained in the bill approaches recklessness."

Rep. Colmer (D-Miss), a leader in circulating the statement, said its prime purpose "is to educate the people of the country" that the legislation "strikes at the fundamental concepts of our government."

"It goes far beyond the racial question, far beyond the question of segregation," Colmer said.

Officer Bill Passed

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Senate unanimously approved today an administration request for an increase of more than 60,000 officers of the Air Force and Army who may have regular career commissions.

Yugoslavia Welcomes Egyptian President

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 12 (AP)—Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, leading champion of Arab independence of East-West blocs, came to Yugoslavia today for conferences with two other world exponents of neutrality.

His eight-day stay in Yugoslavia will be concluded with a meeting with President Tito of Yugoslavia and Indian Prime Minister Nehru at the secluded island of Brioni, Tito's Adriatic retreat.

Political informants predicted the talks will produce some sort of agreement aimed at expanding and promoting their own neutrality bloc among nations.

U. S. Court Orders Start On Va. School Integration

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., July 12 (AP)—Federal Judge John Paul today ordered the first breakthrough in Virginia's segregated public school line.

He told the Charlottesville School Board it should plan to begin desegregation by the beginning of the term this fall.

He overrode State objections that the court was without jurisdiction, that Negro attorneys hadn't presented a proper ease and that a start on desegregation this year would present mountainous administrative problems. Then specifically he told the Charlottesville School Board that it:

"Should go on the assumption that they've got to make plans to integrate this coming session."

Entry of a formal decree in the suit of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People for an injunction against the School Board and the school superintendent was deferred until opposing lawyers made their recommendations to the court.

But even though the decree doubtless will call for a prompt start on desegregation, the effective date may be suspended on appeal. Judge Paul said this was his understanding and Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. said the appeal certainly would be made to the 4th Federal Circuit Court.

Soviet Agrees To West Arms Cut Proposals

Blasts By Gromyko After Concession Stir Anti-Red Wrath

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., July 12 (AP)—Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko agreed today to proposed Western ceilings on armed forces of world powers. But he stirred up a bitter anti-Communist barrage by assailing Western policies around the globe.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister told the U.N. Disarmament Commission Moscow is ready to accept Western proposals to cut to 2½ million men each the armed forces of the United States, Soviet Union, and Communist China and to 750,000 each the forces of Britain and France. He rejected President Eisenhower's "open skies" inspection plan.

Blasts Anger Lodge

Then he took off on blasts against the West, its defense pacts, and particularly American "monopolists" who are, he said, pushing the armaments race to garner huge profits.

Angered, U.S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. retorted Gromyko had made a "scurrilous attack" on the United States in accord with the "worst type of Stalinism."

Lodge declared Gromyko is in no position to cast aspersions on policies of others "as long as Russia holds satellites in an iron grip from which the heroic Poles are trying to escape with the applause of the world."

Other Delegates Reply

In quick succession, delegates of Iran, Britain, France, Nationalist China, Canada, Australia and Peru also replied to Gromyko. They assailed him for straying from disarmament into global politics. Gromyko looked grimmer than usual when he departed after the commission adjourned for lunch.

Gromyko regarded his speech as so important that he had English translations prepared for the delegates. This is unusual with the Russians. Early in his speech, he dropped Russia's proposal for troop ceilings of from 1 to 1½ million for the United States, China and the Soviet Union and 650,000 each for Britain and France.

Many Reds Hide In Entertainment Field, Probe Told

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP) — A former Navy intelligence officer now serving as professional consultant on communism to the radio-television industry said today the greatest danger of Red infiltration is among the younger performers.

"It is advantageous to their careers, if not to become party members, at least to become 'progressives,'" he said. "They are afraid if they don't go along they won't get opportunities."

The testimony came from Vincent Hartnett of New York at a hearing of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. The committee is inquiring into a "Report on Blacklisting" in the entertainment world, sponsored by the Fund for the Republic.

Hartnett testified that "not more than five per cent of the Communists in the entertainment business have been uncovered." He said there were probably 150 Reds in the American Federation of Radio and Television Artists and "also Communist blocs" in Equity and the American Guild of Variety Artists.

Officials of both AGVA and Equity challenged Hartnett's testimony. Jackie Bright, national administrative secretary of AGVA, said in New York: "We defy Hartnett to show that there is a single Communist in AGVA, let alone a Communist bloc."

Alfred Harding, assistant to the president of Actors Equity, said in New York that "over a period of 30 years allegations of this kind have been advanced with varying degrees of responsibility" and added:

"Every member of Actors Equity Assn. who has been identified in any way in this connection has denied under oath that he is a Communist and no evidence has been presented whether those charges are true."

Steel Industry, Union Resume Joint Sessions

PITTSBURGH, July 12 (AP)—Steel negotiators today resumed efforts to end the 12-day old nationwide steel strike and recessed nearly two hours later without a word of progress. However, another negotiating session was scheduled for tomorrow (10 a.m.)

The session appeared to end on a more amiable note than was evident before it began when Union President David J. McDonald said the industry "has no intention" to work out a new wage contract "at this time."

The industry's top spokesman immediately denied McDonald's statement. And when the meeting ended neither industry nor union leaders had any further comment.

The Federal Mediation Service's three-man team sat in on the meeting for only 45 minutes, then said it was leaving the two parties to "bargain in good faith."

Shortly before the meeting recessed, the mediators were summoned back to the negotiating room. Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Mediation Service, then told newsmen another session will be held tomorrow. He said he felt the spirit of collective bargaining was evidenced in the meeting—the first negotiation session held since the strike of 650,000 steelworkers began July 1.

Finnegan said he and his aides would be standing by tomorrow morning when the meetings are resumed. But he declared the government has no plans to sit in on the session.

Government Claims Wenzell's Dual Role Voided Power Pact

Contends It Owes Dixon-Yates Nothing

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Justice Department today branded as "unlawful ... and contrary to public policy" the Dixon-Yates power contract which the government entered at the direction of President Eisenhower.

Accordingly, department lawyers told the U.S. Court of Cliams, the government is under no obligation to pay any of the 3½ million dollars the contractors sought for work done before the contract was canceled. The cancellation also was ordered by Eisenhower.

The lawyers for the department said the contract was void, primarily because of a conflict of interest they ascribed to Adolphe H. Wenzell.

Wenzell was a consultant to the government's Budget Bureau at the same time he was a salaried official of the First Boston Corp., of New York City, which became financial agent for the Dixon-Yaes interest.

The department told the court: "The role played by Wenzell ... involved a conflict of interest so contrary to public policy as to render the alleged agreement null and void."

The fight began as a public-vs.-private power dispute, with Democrats contending it was an administration attempt to dismantle the Tennessee Valley Authority and the administration arguing that the project would be in the public interest—particularly the taxpayers'—and in the spirit of free enterprise.

Private interests headed by Edgar A. Dixon, president of Middle South Utilities, Inc., and Eugene A. Yates, board chairman of the Southern Co., were given the contract Nov. 11, 1954. Their contracting firm was the Mississippi Valley Generating Co.

It was proposed to build a 107-million-dollar private power plant at West Memphis, Ark., to feed electricity into the TVA grid to replace power drawn off by Atomic Energy Commission plants.

AEC had entered into the contract after orders from Eisenhower to negotiate it, and ground was broken May 30, 1955.

However, the uproar set off by Democrats in Congress—on the floor of the Senate and in committees particularly — never ceased.

On July 11, 1955, Eisenhower ordered the contract canceled after the city of Memphis announced it would build its own power plant rather than use Dixon-Yates electricity. On last Nov. 23, the AEC announced its refusal to pay cancellation damages.

Brazilian Claims Coffee Production Estimates Inflated

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)— A Brazilian coffee spokesman today declared misleading estimates of coffee supplies are causing "confusion and misunderstanding" about current high coffee prices.

Vito Sa, head of the Brazilian Coffee Institute office here, made the statement after a big Eastern coffee processer stated the American coffee-drinker is "getting the business" and recommended a boycott.

William Black, president of the Chock Full O'Nuts Coffee Corp., claimed South American countries are holding back their supplies to keep prices up. Coffee prices have recently risen to about $1.10 a pound for a vacuum can that last summer cost about 87 cents.

Sa said inflated estimates of coffee production for the next year are not realistic. He added there can be no reason to doubt Brazil's estimates that it will have only 10 million bags of green coffee for export this year.

Dulles Tells Senate Unit Aid Slash Could Spell 'Disaster'

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles, pleading for more foreign aid money than the House voted, said today "it would be a disaster" to relax now in the face of the threat of world communism.

Dulles and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, went before the Senate Appropriations Committee one day after the House voted to hold foreign aid appropriations to $3,600,000,000.

Radford testified that the "serious reductions" voted by the House, from President Eisenhower's request for $4,900,000,000, would "involve serious jeopardy to our security position and might well lead to a further weakening of the defense efforts to our allies."

The Dulles-Radford testimony was reported to newsmen by the committee after they appeared in a closed session.

The most that the administration can hope for is an increase in the foreign aid appropriation to $4,014,000,000, the ceiling set in authorization legislation that has already passed Congress.

Whatever appropriation the Senate votes for would have to be adjusted with the $3,600,000,000 the House voted yesterday.

The summary of testimony showed that Dulles told the Senate committee any appropriation substantially below the four-billion-dollar authorized ceiling would be interpreted abroad as meaning that Congress believed the danger of Communist aggression has passed.

He said that while developments in the world picture have been favorable, "It would be a disaster if we were now to sit back and assume that victory has been won."

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) urged the Senate to vote an appropriation all the way up to the four-billion-dollar ceiling.

Senate Passes Atom Power Bill

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Senate overrode administration objections today and passed a bill authorizing a 400-million-dollar program of government construction of atomic power reactors.

The vote was 49-50. The measure now goes to the House.

Backers said the measure was essential to get the nation's atomic power industry launched and to win the race with Russia for world leadership in development of the new energy resource.

Forty-six Democrats voted for passage and were joined by three Republicans, Sens. Kuchel of Calif., Langer of N.D., and Wiley of Wis. All 40 votes against passage were cast by Republicans.

The Republican opponents insisted that the legislation was not needed and that it might actually retard efforts of private industry in the field by scaring off private capital.

Gardner Raps Security Setup As Impractical

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP) — House investigators heard today about a security-barred scientist who "unfortunately" keeps coming up with secret and top-secret ideas.

Travor Gardner, former assistant secretary of the Air Force, outlined the case to a Government Operations subcommittee as a "classic example" of how the government's security system sometimes does not "meet the practicalities of the situation."

The testimony was an offshoot in the subcommittee's inquiry into policy on the release of government information.

Gardner made his own estimate that "at least half" of the papers now classified need not be secret. He said he thinks "we are deluding ourselves if we think we are keeping very much secret" from the potential enemy.

Gardner, who resigned earlier this year in a dispute with superiors over research and development funds, told the subcommittee that "quite frequently" a person will get security clearance from one branch of the armed services but not from another. And if one service bars a man, he said, the other won't hire him.

Gardner told of a scientist of "international reputation" whom the Air Force wanted to put to work. He said another service had refused the man security clearance. The man's name and the other service were not specified.

So the Air Force gave the man a nonsecret contract, he said, and puts a secrecy stamp on some of the results when the man's work comes in.

President, '52 Running Mate Confer Today

Eisenhower Will Return To White House Next Week

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 12 (AP) —President Eisenhower made it "absolutely" clear today that he still would be pleased to team up with Vice President Nixon on the Republican ticket this year.

The recuperating President also decided to go back to Washington and the White House next Monday or Tuesday.

It was Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall who told reporters Eisenhower still would be happy to have Nixon as his vice presidential running mate. Tomorrow the President will have a chance to give that assurance to Nixon in person.

Hall flew in from Washington today for an hour's political huddle with Eisenhower. Nixon arrives tomorrow, with Secretary of State Dulles, mainly to report on his round-the-world trip and calls at six Asiatic capitals.

Ike To Accept In Person

The expected rather than the unexpected came out of the Eisenhower-Hall conference and a subsequent session the Republican chairman held with newsmen. There was word that:

Eisenhower will appear in person at the GOP National Convention in San Francisco in August to accept his nomination.

The assistant Republican leader, in the House, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, will place Eisenhower's name in nomination.

At present there is "no indication" anyone else other than Nixon will be put in nomination for vice president.

Intriguing Item

Hall left one intriguing item hanging. He said that "in a sense" as a result of his talk with Eisenhower, he may have something to say in the near future about the vice presidential candidacy. Also, he said, in the next few days "we will be able to say who will nominate the vice president."

"To remove any faint doubt on this," a newsman asked, "Can't we say correctly that the President did reaffirm his desire to have Nixon?"

"I have said all along," Hall replied, "and I think the President himself said that he was pleased with the idea of Mr. Nixon being on the ticket. I think those were his words. And I think it's Eisenhower and Nixon. That's it."

Threatening Letters Sent Officers Probed

BONN, Germany, July 12 (AP)—West German and American authorities have launched an investigation of threatening letters sent to high U.S. Army officers in Germany, the American Embassy said today.

The Bonn government was informed of the threats by the embassy following the Army's disclosure yesterday that American generals, colonels and others are being besieged by letters warning them to leave Germany.

It was learned the matter has been placed in the hands of the Interior Ministry, which deals with subversive and other trouble making organizations.

The letters were sent by an organization calling itself the "Fighting Assn. for an Independent Germany."

Kidnaper Signed Ransom Note "Your Baby Sitter"

WESTBURY, N.Y., July 12 (AP)—Police disclosed today that the July 4 kidnaper of Peter Weinberger signed the ransom note "your baby sitter." The signature was worthless as a clue because the family never hired a baby sitter.

Nassau County's chief of detectives, Stuyvesant Pinell, discussed with reporters details of the ransom note not hitherto publicized. He told them:

"The note had 35 or more words in it, which certainly points to premeditation and preparation."

The grammar was correct and apparently the work of an adult, he added. Handwriting experts, however, have been unable to determine the age or sex of the writer.

As for the kidnaper, Pinell declared:

"It could be a man or a woman, two men or even two women."

The 5-weeks-old baby was taken from his carriage on the patio of his home in midafternoon. The ransom note demanded $2,000 in cash.

In telephone calls last Friday, a man satisfied the child's father, Morris Weinberger, that he was the kidnaper. He upped the ransom demand to $5,000.

The FBI threw its full resources into the investigation yesterday for the first time.

Shortly before the meeting recessed, the mediators were summoned back to the negotiating room. Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Mediation Service, then told newsmen another session will be held tomorrow. He said he felt the spirit of collective bargaining was evidenced in the meeting—the first negotiation session held since the strike of 650,000 steelworkers began July 1.

Finnegan said he and his aides would be standing by tomorrow morning when the meetings are resumed. But he declared the government has no plans to sit in on the session.

HANOVER, Germany, July 12 (AP) —The new German army today inaugurated its first officers' academy here today. Maj. Gen. Fritz Laegeler of the Bonn Defense Ministry officially opened the school at a ceremony attended by 320 cadets and members of a U.S. training team.

Government Claims Wenzell's Dual Role Voided Power Pact

Contends It Owes Dixon-Yates Nothing

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Justice Department today branded as "unlawful ... and contrary to public policy" the Dixon-Yates power contract which the government entered at the direction of President Eisenhower.

Accordingly, department lawyers told the U.S. Court of Cliams, the government is under no obligation to pay any of the 3½ million dollars the contractors sought for work done before the contract was canceled. The cancellation also was ordered by Eisenhower.

The lawyers for the department said the contract was void, primarily because of a conflict of interest they ascribed to Adolphe H. Wenzell.

Wenzell was a consultant to the government's Budget Bureau at the same time he was a salaried official of the First Boston Corp., of New York City, which became financial agent for the Dixon-Yaes interest.

The department told the court:

"The role played by Wenzell ... involved a conflict of interest so contrary to public policy as to render the alleged agreement null and void."

The fight began as a public-vs.-private power dispute, with Democrats contending it was an administration attempt to dismantle the Tennessee Valley Authority and the administration arguing that the project would be in the public interest—particularly the taxpayers'—and in the spirit of free enterprise.

Private interests headed by Edgar A. Dixon, president of Middle South Utilities, Inc., and Eugene A. Yates, board chairman of the Southern Co., were given the contract Nov. 11, 1954. Their contracting firm was the Mississippi Valley Generating Co.

It was proposed to build a 107-million-dollar private power plant at West Memphis, Ark., to feed electricity into the TVA grid to replace power drawn off by Atomic Energy Commission plants.

AEC had entered into the contract after orders from Eisenhower to negotiate it, and ground was broken May 30, 1955.

However, the uproar set off by Democrats in Congress—on the floor of the Senate and in committees particularly — never ceased.

On July 11, 1955, Eisenhower ordered the contract canceled after the city of Memphis announced it would build its own power plant rather than use Dixon-Yates electricity. On last Nov. 23, the AEC announced its refusal to pay cancellation damages.

Brazilian Claims Coffee Production Estimates Inflated

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)— A Brazilian coffee spokesman today declared misleading estimates of coffee supplies are causing "confusion and misunderstanding" about current high coffee prices.

Vito Sa, head of the Brazilian Coffee Institute office here, made the statement after a big Eastern coffee processer stated the American coffee-drinker is "getting the business" and recommended a boycott.

William Black, president of the Chock Full O'Nuts Coffee Corp., claimed South American countries are holding back their supplies to keep prices up. Coffee prices have recently risen to about $1.10 a pound for a vacuum can that last summer cost about 87 cents.

Sa said inflated estimates of coffee production for the next year are not realistic. He added there can be no reason to doubt Brazil's estimates that it will have only 10 million bags of green coffee for export this year.

Dulles Tells Senate Unit Aid Slash Could Spell 'Disaster'

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles, pleading for more foreign aid money than the House voted, said today "it would be a disaster" to relax now in the face of the threat of world communism.

Dulles and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, went before the Senate Appropriations Committee one day after the House voted to hold foreign aid appropriations to $3,600,000,000.

Radford testified that the "serious reductions" voted by the House, from President Eisenhower's request for $4,900,000,000, would "involve serious jeopardy to our security position and might well lead to a further weakening of the defense efforts to our allies."

The Dulles-Radford testimony was reported to newsmen by the committee after they appeared in a closed session.

The most that the administration can hope for is an increase in the foreign aid appropriation to $4,014,000,000, the ceiling set in authorization legislation that has already passed Congress.

Whatever appropriation the Senate votes for would have to be adjusted with the $3,600,000,000 the House voted yesterday.

The summary of testimony showed that Dulles told the Senate committee any appropriation substantially below the four-billion-dollar authorized ceiling would be interpreted abroad as meaning that Congress believed the danger of Communist aggression has passed.

He said that while developments in the world picture have been favorable, "It would be a disaster if we were now to sit back and assume that victory has been won."

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) urged the Senate to vote an appropriation all the way up to the four-billion-dollar ceiling.

Senate Passes Atom Power Bill

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Senate overrode administration objections today and passed a bill authorizing a 400-million-dollar program of government construction of atomic power reactors.

The vote was 49-50. The measure now goes to the House.

Backers said the measure was essential to get the nation's atomic power industry launched and to win the race with Russia for world leadership in development of the new energy resource.

Forty-six Democrats voted for passage and were joined by three Republicans, Sens. Kuchel of Calif., Langer of N.D., and Wiley of Wis. All 40 votes against passage were cast by Republicans.

The Republican opponents insisted that the legislation was not needed and that it might actually retard efforts of private industry in the field by scaring off private capital.

Gardner Raps Security Setup As Impractical

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP) — House investigators heard today about a security-barred scientist who "unfortunately" keeps coming up with secret and top-secret ideas.

Travor Gardner, former assistant secretary of the Air Force, outlined the case to a Government Operations subcommittee as a "classic example" of how the government's security system sometimes does not "meet the practicalities of the situation."

The testimony was an offshoot in the subcommittee's inquiry into policy on the release of government information.

Gardner made his own estimate that "at least half" of the papers now classified need not be secret. He said he thinks "we are deluding ourselves if we think we are keeping very much secret" from the potential enemy.

Gardner, who resigned earlier this year in a dispute with superiors over research and development funds, told the subcommittee that "quite frequently" a person will get security clearance from one branch of the armed services but not from another. And if one service bars a man, he said, the other won't hire him.

Gardner told of a scientist of "international reputation" whom the Air Force wanted to put to work. He said another service had refused the man security clearance. The man's name and the other service were not specified.

So the Air Force gave the man a nonsecret contract, he said, and puts a secrecy stamp on some of the results when the man's work comes in.

President, '52 Running Mate Confer Today

Eisenhower Will Return To White House Next Week

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 12 (AP) —President Eisenhower made it "absolutely" clear today that he still would be pleased to team up with Vice President Nixon on the Republican ticket this year.

The recuperating President also decided to go back to Washington and the White House next Monday or Tuesday.

It was Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall who told reporters Eisenhower still would be happy to have Nixon as his vice presidential running mate. Tomorrow the President will have a chance to give that assurance to Nixon in person.

Hall flew in from Washington today for an hour's political huddle with Eisenhower. Nixon arrives tomorrow, with Secretary of State Dulles, mainly to report on his round-the-world trip and calls at six Asiatic capitals.

Ike To Accept In Person

The expected rather than the unexpected came out of the Eisenhower-Hall conference and a subsequent session the Republican chairman held with newsmen. There was word that:

Eisenhower will appear in person at the GOP National Convention in San Francisco in August to accept his nomination.

The assistant Republican leader, in the House, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, will place Eisenhower's name in nomination.

At present there is "no indication" anyone else other than Nixon will be put in nomination for vice president.

Intriguing Item

Hall left one intriguing item hanging. He said that "in a sense" as a result of his talk with Eisenhower, he may have something to say in the near future about the vice presidential candidacy. Also, he said, in the next few days "we will be able to say who will nominate the vice president."

"To remove any faint doubt on this," a newsman asked, "Can't we say correctly that the President did reaffirm his desire to have Nixon?"

"I have said all along," Hall replied, "and I think the President himself said that he was pleased with the idea of Mr. Nixon being on the ticket. I think those were his words. And I think it's Eisenhower and Nixon. That's it."

Threatening Letters Sent Officers Probed

BONN, Germany, July 12 (AP)— West German and American authorities have launched an investigation of threatening letters sent to high U.S. Army officers in Germany, the American Embassy said today.

The Bonn government was informed of the threats by the embassy following the Army's disclosure yesterday that American generals, colonels and others are being besieged by letters warning them to leave Germany.

It was learned the matter has been placed in the hands of the Interior Ministry, which deals with subversive and other trouble making organizations.

The letters were sent by an organization calling itself the "Fighting Assn. for an Independent Germany."

Kidnaper Signed Ransom Note "Your Baby Sitter"

WESTBURY, N.Y., July 12 (AP)— Police disclosed today that the July 4 kidnaper of Peter Weinberger signed the ransom note "your baby sitter." The signature was worthless as a clue because the family never hired a baby sitter.

Nassau County's chief of detectives, Stuyvesant Pinell, discussed with reporters details of the ransom note not hitherto publicized. He told them:

"The note had 35 or more words in it, which certainly points to premeditation and preparation."

The grammar was correct and apparently the work of an adult, he added. Handwriting experts, however, have been unable to determine the age or sex of the writer.

As for the kidnaper, Pinell declared:

"It could be a man or a woman, two men or even two women."

The 5-weeks-old baby was taken from his carriage on the patio of his home in midafternoon. The ransom note demanded $2,000 in cash.

In telephone calls last Friday, a man satisfied the child's father, Morris Weinberger, that he was the kidnaper. He upped the ransom demand to $5,000.

The FBI threw its full resources into the investigation yesterday for the first time.

Eden Says Britain Will Go Ahead With Cyprus Constitution

LONDON, July 12 (AP) — Prime Minister Eden said today Britain will push plans to give self-government to Cyprus, but not "until terrorism has been overcome."

Eden brushed aside the idea of putting the dispute over the island colony before NATO now. The United States reportedly favors this course.

Eden's statement to Parliament on government policy avoided any reference to self-determination. This is the No. 1 demand of Greek-speaking Cypriots fighting to end British rule and join the island with Greece.

In Nicosia, Gov. Sir John Harding told the people of Cyprus that island extremists are beginning to crack. Therefore he saw no reason for further delay in developing self-government.

The Cyprus governor appealed in a broadcast for "patience and common sense." He asked Cypriots to "tackle this problem one step at a time." Harding warned there would be no relaxation in the drive against terrorism.

Eden said Lord Radcliffe, a legal expert, will fly to Nicosia tomorrow to start work on "the framework of a new liberal constitution."

This constitution, Eden said, will include "safeguards for the interests of all communities."

Cypriots of Greek blood make up about four-fifths of the population, which also includes many of Turkish descent. Turkish Cypriots oppose union with Greece. They contend that if British rule is ended the island should revert to Turkey.

Dr. Fazil Kuchuk, chairman of the "Cyprus is Turkish" party, said in Nicosia that Eden's statement is "good news and satisfactory.

At the same time, he said the Turkish minority cannot accept paper safeguards and renewed a demand for equal representation for Turk and Greek Cypriots in the upper house of the proposed National Assembly. The Turks will not object to majority representation in the lower house he added.

Greek Cypriot leaders withheld comment.

Soviet Deputy Urges Changes In Pension Bill

MOSCOW, July 12 (AP)—A deputy of the Supreme Soviet stood up in that Parliament today and proposed major amendments to a government-sponsored social security bill.

This was an innovation in Soviet legislative practice.

Previously Supreme Soviet members have not proposed in public session any significant changes in draft laws submitted to them. However, traditionally, they have been permitted to suggest insignificant amendments to state budgets, some of which have been adopted in the final version.

The deputy who thus stuck his toe into the uncharted waters of liberalization of Soviet parliamentary procedure was M. A. Gedvilas, former Premier of Soviet Lithuania.

He was dismissed from the premiership last January, but retains his position as chairman of the Committee on Legislative Proposals of the Council of Nationalities, one of the two houses of the Supreme Soviet.

It is unlikely the Soviet government did not know what Gedvilas was going to say when he got up to speak. His official position seems to label his proposals as changes already government-approved.

It's nevertheless worth recording that the new collective leadership is on record as believing such public debate is useful — within limits. Stalin would not have tolerated even this.

The bill to which Gedvilas proposed amendments was the new pension law. It is currently the most important domestic issue in the Soviet Union—overshadowing in the minds of ordinary citizens the campaign to downgrade Stalin.

The bill is intended to liberalize antiquated previous pension laws by raising low allotments to a minimum of 300 rubles monthly. Simultaneously it will reduce top-bracket luxury pensions to a maximum of 1,200 rubles monthly. The government has estimated the new pension system will add more than 12 billion rubles in cost to the current annual social security budget of 25 billion.

Fawn Injured By Mower Only Deer To Wear Boots

HANCOCK, Iowa July 12 (AP) — Little Bucky with his high-topped boots is probably the best-dressed deer in deerdom.

He's a guest of the Rod Krummel family on a farm near here, and the object of lots of loving attention from the Krummels' five children.

What makes Bucky so special is that, besides being the pet of the Krummel family, he's probably the only deer either in or out of captivity who wears boots.

Bucky was living with his mother on the Krummel farm.

About three weeks ago Bucky and his mother were taking it easy in a hay field when Krummel moved in with his mower.

Bucky's mother took off for the timber and Bucky undoubtedly was supposed to follow as fleetly as a fawn could flee.

But Bucky didn't follow and the mower snipped through his two rear legs just above the hooves. Krummel stopped the mower at once but Bucky's two front legs were also severely injured.

"I just couldn't do away with the little fellow, even though he was badly hurt," Krummel said.

He took the injured fawn to a veterinarian and all four legs were put in casts. Back at the Krummel home, when Bucky began to hobble on his casts, it was decided the fawn needed protection for his injured hooves.

Krummel took Bucky to a shoe repair man who made leather boots, four inches high which lace up the front.

Bucky is getting around nicely in his new boots and is thriving on bread and milk.

Man And $19,000 In Dope Seized

PITTSBURGH, July 12 (AP) — A Hill District man, carrying six one-ounce packages of heroin valued at $19,000, stepped from a plane at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport today into the custody of federal narcotics agents and police.

Howard Middlebrook, 23, was quoted by arresting officers as saying, "there's going to be an awful lot of sick dope fiends now." Middlebrook had been free under bond awaiting trial in both federal and State courts on narcotics charges.

Officers said they trailed Middlebrook to the airport last night and notified New York narcotics men after he boarded a plane bound for there.

New York agents shadowed him all night and notified authorities here when he left for Pittsburgh on a morning flight. Arresting agents here said they confiscated six packages of narcotics which would have brought $19,000 at "retail" prices.

Middlebrook was among 54 persons nabbed here in a narcotics raid last May.

Senate Approves Steps To Curtail Narcotics Traffic

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Senate today passed four resolutions aimed at curbing the illicit narcotics traffic through international action.

One resolution requests President Eisenhower to undertake negotiations with the Mexican government looking to conclusion of a treaty to prohibit boundary crossings by dealers and users of narcotic drugs and marihuana. The others:

1. Action by the United Nations urging governments which have not done so to proscribe heroin in an effort "to stamp out this most evil of all drugs." This is aimed at getting Albania, Bahrein, Belgium, France, Hungary, Italy and Paraguay to outlaw the drug.

2. Action by the United Nations urging nations which have not done so to sign an international agreement limiting cultivation of the poppy plant and wholesale trade in opium.

3. The United Nations to require its narcotics laboratory to report to all members the results of all tests made of samples of opium seized in the illicit traffic.

Disabled Vet Payment Hike Voted By House

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Over administration protests, the House unanimously voted today for a general increase of around 10 per cent in payments to some two million veterans disabled by their military service.

The roll call vote of 391-0 passed the compensation bill and sent it to the Senate where it faces an uncertain future at this point late in the session.

Offered by Chairman Olin E. Teague (D-Tex) of the Veterans Affairs Committee, the measure would add an estimated 172 million dollars the first year to Veterans Administration compensation payments now running about $1,800,000,000 a year. The bill's costs would decrease in later years.

The VA and the Bureau of the Budget, representing the White House, said the bill was not needed because the cost of living has only gone up one half of one per cent since Congress last voted for compensation increases. That was in 1954, also an excellent year.

Committee officials estimated the Teague bill would affect all but about 20,000 of the 2,084,230 veterans now drawing VA compensation for service-connected disability.

It would raise by 10 per cent the present compensation payments, which range from $17 a month for 10 per cent disability to $163 a month for 90 per cent disability.

Veterans rated 100 per cent service-disabled would get about a 24 per cent increase, from $181 to $225 a month.

The additional payments to service-disabled veterans for their dependents would also be increased 10 per cent.

Maryland Once Again Has Title To Assateague

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—Those much discussed, often confused and much sought-after 540 acres of Assateague Island, off the Worcester County mainland, once more belong to the State of Maryland.

In 1951, Gov. McKeldin signed over to Leon Ackerman, Washington real estate operator who is developing the island, title to 668 acres for $6.75 an acre.

Today, the beaming governor received the deed to 540 acres for which the state paid the same price, $6.75 an acre, or $3,645.

Ackerman, at a hearing before the Public Service Commission last year offered to give the land to the State for use as a park in exchange for PSC approval of a private bridge to be built by residents of the island who had bought lots from Ackerman.

Approval was late in coming and the offer of the free land was withdrawn.

Later, some question arose about the property and Ackerman offered to sell it back to the state at cost after it was testified he did not have clear title to the 540 acres.

The Assateague Island Bridge Corp., a private company, was granted permission a few months ago to build a bridge to the island with the proviso construction must begin before next Jan. 1.

Highway Standards Discussed At Chicago

CHICAGO, July 12 (AP)—Federal and state highway officials met in Chicago today to discuss standards for an inter-state highway system approved by Congress.

Meeting in closed session were representatives of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and the American Assn. of State Highway Officials. Forty-six states were represented at the meeting.

Rex Whitton, president of the association, said the officials hope to work out road standards for the highway system recently authorized by congress.

Whitton said the meeting will continue through tomorrow.

New Trial Granted Property Owners

ANNAPOLIS, July 12 (AP) — The Court of Appeals today granted a new trial to eight Prince Georges County property owners feuding with their neighbors over mud and debris flowing onto their property.

Mary Lois Battisto and others from the Queens Chapel Manor subdivision contended that the property had been damaged by the overflow from lots at a higher elevation but lost their case in Prince Georges Circuit Court.

Judge John R. Fletcher directed a verdict of acquittal for the upper property owners.

The Court of Appeals said today the damage suit should have gone to the jury.

It said that in preparing the 28-acre tract on the upper level for home sites "it was entirely foreseeable that the removal of all ground cover might increase the run-off during rainstorms and cause damage to the lower owners, and we think the upper owners were under a duty to use reasonable precautions against harm."

Windstorm Injures Two In Okla. Area

NORTH MIAMI, Okla., July 12 (AP)—A windstorm, described as a tornado, buffeted North Miami late today, injuring two persons and possibly several others.

Disabled Vet Payment Hike Voted By House

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Over administration protests, the House unanimously voted today for a general increase of around 10 per cent in payments to some two million veterans disabled by their military service.

The roll call vote of 391-0 passed the compensation bill and sent it to the Senate where it faces an uncertain future at this point late in the session.

Offered by Chairman Olin E. Teague (D-Tex) of the Veterans Affairs Committee, the measure would add an estimated 172 million dollars the first year to Veterans Administration compensation payments now running about $1,800,000,000 a year. The bill's costs would decrease in later years.

The VA and the Bureau of the Budget, representing the White House, said the bill was not needed because the cost of living has only gone up one half of one per cent since Congress last voted for compensation increases. That was in 1954, also an excellent year.

Committee officials estimated the Teague bill would affect all but about 20,000 of the 2,084,230 veterans now drawing VA compensation for service-connected disability.

It would raise by 10 per cent the present compensation payments, which range from $17 a month for 10 per cent disability to $163 a month for 90 per cent disability.

Veterans rated 100 per cent service-disabled would get about a 24 per cent increase, from $181 to $225 a month.

The additional payments to service-disabled veterans for their dependents would also be increased 10 per cent.

Maryland Once Again Has Title To Assateague

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—Those much discussed, often confused and much sought-after 540 acres of Assateague Island, off the Worcester County mainland, once more belong to the State of Maryland.

In 1951, Gov. McKeldin signed over to Leon Ackerman, Washington real estate operator who is developing the island, title to 668 acres for $6.75 an acre.

Today, the beaming governor received the deed to 540 acres for which the state paid the same price, $6.75 an acre, or $3,645.

Ackerman, at a hearing before the Public Service Commission last year offered to give the land to the State for use as a park in exchange for PSC approval of a private bridge to be built by residents of the island who had bought lots from Ackerman.

Approval was late in coming and the offer of the free land was withdrawn.

Later, some question arose about the property and Ackerman offered to sell it back to the state at cost after it was testified he did not have clear title to the 540 acres.

The Assateague Island Bridge Corp., a private company, was granted permission a few months ago to build a bridge to the island with the proviso construction must begin before next Jan. 1.

Highway Standards Discussed At Chicago

CHICAGO, July 12 (AP)—Federal and state highway officials met in Chicago today to discuss standards for an inter-state highway system approved by Congress.

Meeting in closed session were representatives of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and the American Assn. of State Highway Officials. Forty-six states were represented at the meeting.

Rex Whitton, president of the association, said the officials hope to work out road standards for the highway system recently authorized by congress.

Whitton said the meeting will continue through tomorrow.

New Trial Granted Property Owners

ANNAPOLIS, July 12 (AP) — The Court of Appeals today granted a new trial to eight Prince Georges County property owners feuding with their neighbors over mud and debris flowing onto their property.

Mary Lois Battisto and others from the Queens Chapel Manor subdivision contended that the property had been damaged by the overflow from lots at a higher elevation but lost their case in Prince Georges Circuit Court.

Judge John R. Fletcher directed a verdict of acquittal for the upper property owners.

The Court of Appeals said today the damage suit should have gone to the jury.

It said that in preparing the 28-acre tract on the upper level for home sites "it was entirely foreseeable that the removal of all ground cover might increase the run-off during rainstorms and cause damage to the lower owners, and we think the upper owners were under a duty to use reasonable precautions against harm."

Windstorm Injures Two In Okla. Area

NORTH MIAMI, Okla., July 12 (AP)—A windstorm, described as a tornado, buffeted North Miami late today, injuring two persons and possibly several others.

North Miami is two miles northeast of Miami, in northeast Oklahoma, about 10 miles from the Kansas line.

Miami Baptist Hospital reported Mrs. Ethelen Jones, 75, was being treated for shoulder injuries received when a chicken house crumpled and pinned her to the ground. Ruth Esther Chapman, 14, suffered severe lacerations, was treated and released. The hospital spokesman said, "The ambulance driver said he was going back to bring in others."

Boy Drowns In Farm Pond Near Thurmont

THURMONT, Md., July 12 (AP)—Robert John Bentz, 16, was seized with a cramp and drowned while swimming in a farm pond near his home today.

A companion, Harry Francis Portner, 14, tried to rescue Bentz but was unable to hold on to the considerably larger victim.

The body was recovered an hour and a half later and the victim was pronounced dead by the county medical examiner.

Venerable Bartenders Toast Fading Art Of Robust Tippling

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—With a trace of a tear and many a backward glance, Manhattan's most venerable bartenders yesterday toasted an august but fading art—the art of robust tippling.

To a man, they nodded gray heads in accord as Tom Norton, 80, philosophized:

"Two or three drinks a day never did a man any harm—unless there's something wrong with him."

The occasion was a get-together of 25 retired bartenders to celebrate the inauguration by the bartenders union of its new pension program for the men behind the bar.

Many an eye glazed at the fond memory of the nickel beer and the free lunch. And there was a touch of honest scorn, too, for the modern drinker too puny to take his booze neat.

And dames?

"I'd keep women from the bar," declared Norton, a bartender for 58 years until he retired two years ago. "Back to the back room and the family entrance. Yes, I'd be tickled pink to see them put in the back room again.

"And the young ones. They can drink you and me blind. A slip of a girl—95 pounds give or take—with six or eight beers and still fresh as a daisy."

What about mixed drinks, such as the Tom Collins and the whisky sour?

"Ugh," was the succinct reaction of Charles Oestreich, 77, whose career began in 1904. He blamed the profanation of good, clean spirits on prohibition—"when the stuff was so foul tasting it had to be disguised with the contents of a fruit bowl."

Oestreich nudged a crony with a bony elbow and cackled softly as he recalled another feature of the dear dead days. He said a client then poured his own whisky from a decanter placed on the bar. If he poured too liberally, a towel was tossed in front of him. It conveyed this message:

"Why don't you take a bath in the stuff?"

There was one area of vast disagreement between the old gentlemen whose cumulative experience added up to 1,000 years, more or less, of work behind the bar. What to do for a hangover?

"I suppose you need the hair of the dog that last bit you," one of them finally intoned. "And if he can't fight it nobody else can."

Then they turned back to their discreet nips — straight, if you please.

WASHINGTON — The Little Youghiogheny Watershed Project, which is so important to Garrett County, has been approved by the Department of Agriculture. The project plan is in its final stages. With Committee approval of legislation cutting the waiting time from 45 days to 15, there is no reason why the project cannot be finally approved before Congress adjourns.

Congress has approved an increase in the overall ceiling for small flood control projects which the Army Corps of Engineers is authorized to initiate and complete without specific Congressional approval. The amendment raises the ceiling from its present $3,000,000 to $10,000,000. Total cost permitted for individual projects has also 000.
been raised from $150,000 to $400,-

The flood control project on Bear Creek at Friendsville is to be constructed as a part of the small flood control projects by the Army Engineers. Rapid progress is being made on approval by the Corps of Engineers for this flood prevention work. The total cost is estimated to be $50,000, well under the limits of the amended Flood Control Act. A plea of insufficient funds by the Engineers is no longer an obstacle to this worthwhile project.

Various bills to revamp the federal retirement program are now before Congressional committees. Each has its own merits and my hope is that an acceptable bill will be worked out and reported to the floor for consideration by the members of the House and Senate. But I would like to call attention again to the fact that bills now being considered do not include increases in annuities for the federal worker who has already retired. I believe the Congress will fail its duty if it does not bring the incomes of these retired individuals more in line with the current cost of living.

On my calendar: Mrs. Hyde and I will attend the annual Carrollton Manor picnic on Wednesday, July 18. I also plan to attend the Montgomery County Real Estate Board's Seventh Annual Summer Outing at the Manor Country Club on July 19 after the House has adjourned for the day.

Mature women, as well as young girls, confess shyness. To change, make a change in your thinking.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Others Are Shy, Too

If you are shy, you have plenty of company. Yes, and company of your own age, even if you've stopped counting your birthdays. Almost as many mature women as young girls confess shyness.

Shyness is nothing to be embarrassed about—a trace of it in your manner can be charming. Just learn to overcome the degree of shyness that makes you suffer when you should be enjoying yourself, or lose out when you should be making a pleasant impression. This isn't too difficult, and you can start right now by thinking the whole thing through.

First of all, remember that your're not alone—there's shyness in the innermost nature of everyone. The person you hesitate to talk to may need your encouragement more than you need his.

Then take stock of all good things you've learned from living things like sincerity, tolerance, and kindness that young people haven't had time to learn so well. You may not be brilliant; but, with qualities like these, you have something very worthwhile to contribute to acquaintance, friendship, and even to chance conversation. Value these qualities in yourself as others will value them in you.

Try to see beyond attitudes of overconfidence in others—they may be no more than whistling in the dark. Some people develop bold manners to cover up lack of confidence. The perceptive aren't fooled, and they have more respect for quieter confidence of the kind that can be natural to you.

Realize that when you're feeling painfully shy, you're thinking too much about yourself. When you switch your attention to someone else, you forget yourself, and shyness disappears. Put another at ease and no one will need to do the same thing for you.

Senate Cloakroom

by Sen. J. Glenn Beall

"Except in time of war or during a national emergency proclaimed by the President," the Senate and the House of Representatives must adjourn each year by the last day of July, according to the Legislative Reorganization Act.

Mist of my colleagues on Capitol Hill agree that the present session will probably end prior to that legal deadline, but recently I made a routine inquiry to see what procedure would be followed if important business did detain the present Congress until August.

The answer was: "None."

National Emergency

The reason, I was reminded, is that our country is still officially in a state of "national emergency" proclaimed in 1950 by Mr. Truman, who was President at the time.

Even under ordinary circumstances, the time limit which was imposed on Congressional sessions by the Legislative Reorganization measure of 1946 could be extended by the mere passage of a resolution by both Houses.

Speaking of adjournment, it is also interesting to note that in case of disagreement between the two Houses as to a time, the Constitution authorizes the President to "adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper."

No President has ever exercised this power, and there is some question as to whether it might not apply solely to special sessions which he himself called.

Precautionary Measure

The condition of "national emergency" which I mentioned in connection with this discussion on adjournment should not be confused in any way with a state of war.

Under an emergency proclamations such as the one which has been in effect since the Korean conflict, a great many provisions of law are automatically kept in force to permit the Government to take necessary action promptly.

The condition has been maintained as a precautionary, stand-by measure.

Gallery Passes

One last word, now, about adjournment.

Many Marylanders have told me that they would like to see a debate or discussion on the Senate floor.

Since the 84th Congress is now in the process of winding up its business, anyone who wishes to visit the Senate while it is in session should do so within the next week or two.

Passes permitting visitors to enter the Senate gallery are available in my office—Room 443, Senate Office Building. We will be glad to have you drop in to pick them up.

Aspirin, Vitamin Vending Machines Banned In State

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—A legal "thumbs-down' has been given a business firm's plan to sell aspirin and vitamins through vending machines in Maryland.

Judge Reuben Oppenheimer refused the request of National Enterprises, Inc., for an order restraining the State Board of Health and attorney general from interfering with plans to install the machines in such places as "taverns, bars, grocery stores, hotels and clubs."

The main point in the jurist's 13-page opinion dealt with the true meaning of a section of the Maryland Code. That particular section—258 of Article 43—says other laws governing pharmacies shall not interfere with "sale or display by general merchants" of patent medicines and commonly used household remedies.

Judge Oppenheimer said this section was passed in 1902 to allow the old fashion country store and its descendants to sell patent medicines and household remedies. He said the section must be strictly interpreted, not broadly as the vending machine firm wished.

". . . It was not the intent to permit the sales in any kind of retail establishments whatsoever," the judge said.

"The modern equivalent of the country store is the department store and its variations such as the 10 cent to a dollar store, not the railroad depot or the tavern."

Judge Oppenheimer said vending machine sales of aspirin or vitamins might be legal in pharmacies or stores of general merchants. But not those other places.

Youth, 14, Indicted In Teacher's Slaying

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., July 12 (AP)—Billy Ray Prevatte, 14, has been indicted on a charge of murder in the May 4 shooting of Frazer Cameron, a Maryland Park junior high school teacher.

The grand jury also returned true bills charging Prevatte wounded and intended to kill two other teachers, Francis D. Wagner and Robert Hicks.

The youth was returned to the county jail last week after a week at Spring Grove State Hospital, where he was pronounced sane and able to stand trial.

Investigators said Prevatte, armed with a .22 caliber rifle, conducted a hunt through the school for Principal John Hrezo, who had reprimanded him for truancy.

Board Urges State Employes Pay Hike

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—Many state employes whose job it is to study state salaries soon leave for other positions and a State official says they ought to have a pay raise.

Russell S. Davis, head of the State Employes Standard Salary Board, said increases for Department of Personnel employes are a must because of the "terrific turnover" among employes who make salary studies.

The board also suggested to Gov. McKeldin a salary range of $2,260 to $2,743 for eight social work trainees for the Department of Welfare.

The board recommended a salary reduction for the presently vacant post of chief accountant in the office of the comptroller of the Treasury. It would cut $400 to $500 to put it at $7,100-$8,520.

Woman On Trial In Mate's Death Was Hysterical

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP) — A medical officer testified today Mrs. Victoria A. Johnson sobbed hysterically of another woman while he was treating her shortly after her husband was killed.

The 35-year-old mother of three is on trial in U. S. District Court on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying of Lt. Eugene C. Johnson, Jr.

The 30-year-old housing and billeting officer at Edgewood Arsenal was shot to death as he sat in his car with his wife at the Army Chemical Center May 14.

Capt. David A. Lasley testified that while he was giving Mrs. Johnson sedatives she said, "Why, oh why, did that young lady have to fall in love with my husband?" The woman wasn't named.

William C. Gunther, a civilian employe at the center, testified he escorted the former North Fork, W. Va., woman to the base dispensary after the shooting. He said she had no coordination and was babbling.

Gunther quoted Mrs. Johnson that, "I loved him so—we all loved him, but he didn't love us any more. He said he would not take us to Italy. I loved him very much. I can't understand how he could do a thing like that to us. . .

"Oh, God, don't let him die. Let me die instead. Why can't I die right here."

Other witnesses testified earlier Mrs. Johnson became hysterical and walked around aimlessly after the shooting. They said she was sitting in the rear seat of the car and shot her husband five times in the head and back as he sat in the front.

The prosecution said the shooting took place after the former Princeton, W. Va., resident asked his wife for a divorce.

Appeals Court Upholds Convicted Slayer

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The Court of Appeals today declined to reconsider a previous ruling setting aside the first-degree murder conviction of shoeshine boy Clarence E. Watson Jr.

A three-judge panel of the court set aside Watson's conviction of the duckpin slaying of Miss Alyce O. Taggart in the former Scott's Hotel, 22nd and P Sts. NW, on July 5, 1953.

The court held an unreasonable length of time passed between the arrest of Watson and his arraignment before a committing magistrate.

Kidnap Probe Course

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP) — Because of the Peter Weinberger kidnaping, all of New York City's 2,500 detectives have been ordered to take a special course in kidnap investigation.

Contraption Only Resembled Bomb

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP) — A contraption that looked like a home-made bomb but wasn't was found on the porch of a home today and police later picked up two teen-agers for questioning.

Police expressed a belief the youths, 18 and 19, may have known either or both of the daughters of John H. Gilliece at whose home the device was found.

Gilliece is assistant-treasurer and comptroller of Johns Hopkins University.

Police removed the device to the lawn where they cut wires and tape holding it together. Then it was taken to the station house where an Army demolition expert confirmed it contained no explosives.

The contraption included an alarm clock, two flashlight batteries and three sticks of pipe wrapped in black tape.

House Upholds Air Force Plan

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The House refused today to upset an Air Force decision to locate its Research and Development Command headquarters at Andrews Field in nearby Maryland.

Opponents of the plan to move the headquarters from Baltimore to Andrews Field were seeking to have it shifted instead to Wright-Patterson Field near Dayton, Ohio.

Funds for the transfer to Andrews, estimated at six million dollars, were included in a supplemental appropriation bill now before the House.

Rep. Schenck (R-Ohio) offered an amendment to prohibit use of the money for that purpose but lost by a standing vote of 48-38.

Schenck told the House a board of Air Force officers had decided unanimously that Dayton was "the most efficient and best location" for the headquarters, now in rented quarters in Baltimore.

Rep. Mahon (D-Tex), chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee that drafted the pending bill, told the House the headquarters would serve all branches of the Air Force and could be located in one place as well as another.

Rep. Miller (R-Md) and Lankford (D-Md) opposed Schenck's amendment, saying Wright-Patterson Field already is crowded. They said the decision to build at Andrews Field was based on long studies and surveys.

Baltimore's City Officials Study Crime Curb Plan

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro said today he and Police Commissioner James Hepbron share "a determination to make Baltimore the best policed city in America."

The mayor's statement followed a conference with Hepbron about Baltimore's increasing crime and what must be done to stop it.

However, they put off any discussion of the mayor's proposal for an efficiency survey of the Police Department by an outside agency. The proposal, D'Alesandro said, will be taken up at another meeting next Tuesday after Hepbron has had an opportunity to talk with Gov. McKeldin.

Although he heads city police, the police commissioner is appointed by the governor. The city, however, must provide funds for operating and maintaining the police force.

D'Alesandro got unanimous approval of the City Board of Estimates yesterday for the study. He said the governor failed to cooperate with his request for additional beat patrolmen.

McKeldin, who had referred the request to Hepbron for study, said last night there is no need for an outsider to study the problem. He suggested the city plan to increase its foot patrolmen by 300 as proposed by Hepbron "and work from there."

Before going into the conference with D'Alesandro today, Hepbron said crime in Baltimore is not only increasing but is "spreading out" over a wider area.

India To Build Jets

NEW DELHI, July 12 (AP)—India plans to produce British-designed Folland Gnat jet fighters, with machinery and possibly British technicians brought from Britain.

Ship Arrivals At Port Of Baltimore Increase

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—The number of ships arriving at the Port of Baltimore during the first six months of 1956 showed a 14 percent increase over the same period of last year.

The number of ships moving into the harbor through June 30, totalled 2,883, compared with 2,532 last year. While no tonnage figures were available yet, they apparently enjoyed a similar increase.

During 1955, a new record of 5,369 arrivals in the port was set. The six-month figures would indicate the record is in jeopardy.

Traffic in the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal during the first half of '56 also showed an upswing. A total of 2,320 ships passed through the canal.

The year's record for the canal, also set last year, is 4,278.

Talbot County Reports Tenth Case Of Polio

EASTON, Md., July 12 (AP)—A 10th case of polio has been reported in Talbot County.

County Health Officer Louis S. Welty said a 13-year-old boy was stricken July 1. However, the illness was not diagnosed as polio until earlier this week.

The boy is Milton Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daffin Lane of near Easton. Dr. Welty called his case an isolated one.

The county's other nine cases were all girls or young women.

Aspirin, Vitamin Vending Machines Banned In State

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—A legal "thumbs-down' has been given a business firm's plan to sell aspirin and vitamins through vending machines in Maryland.

Judge Reuben Oppenheimer refused the request of National Enterprises, Inc., for an order restraining the State Board of Health and attorney general from interfering with plans to install the machines in such places as "taverns, bars, grocery stores, hotels and clubs."

The main point in the jurist's 13-page opinion dealt with the true meaning of a section of the Maryland Code. That particular section—258 of Article 43—says other laws governing pharmacies shall not interfere with "sale or display by general merchants" of patent medicines and commonly used household remedies.

Judge Oppenheimer said this section was passed in 1902 to allow the old fashion country store and its descendants to sell patent medicines and household remedies. He said the section must be strictly interpreted, not broadly as the vending machine firm wished.

". . . It was not the intent to permit the sales in any kind of retail establishments whatsoever," the judge said.

"The modern equivalent of the country store is the department store and its variations such as the 10 cent to a dollar store, not the railroad depot or the tavern."

Judge Oppenheimer said vending machine sales of aspirin or vitamins might be legal in pharmacies or stores of general merchants. But not those other places.

Youth, 14, Indicted In Teacher's Slaying

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., July 12 (AP)—Billy Ray Prevatte, 14, has been indicted on a charge of murder in the May 4 shooting of Frazer Cameron, a Maryland Park junior high school teacher.

The grand jury also returned true bills charging Prevatte wounded and intended to kill two other teachers, Francis D. Wagner and Robert Hicks.

The youth was returned to the county jail last week after a week at Spring Grove State Hospital, where he was pronounced sane and able to stand trial.

Investigators said Prevatte, armed with a .22 caliber rifle, conducted a hunt through the school for Principal John Hrezo, who had reprimanded him for truancy.

Board Urges State Employes Pay Hike

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—Many state employes whose job it is to study state salaries soon leave for other positions and a State official says they ought to have a pay raise.

Russell S. Davis, head of the State Employes Standard Salary Board, said increases for Department of Personnel employes are a must because of the "terrific turnover" among employes who make salary studies.

The board also suggested to Gov. McKeldin a salary range of $2,260 to $2,743 for eight social work trainees for the Department of Welfare.

The board recommended a salary reduction for the presently vacant post of chief accountant in the office of the comptroller of the Treasury. It would cut $400 to $500 to put it at $7,100-$8,520.

Woman On Trial In Mate's Death Was Hysterical

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP) — A medical officer testified today Mrs. Victoria A. Johnson sobbed hysterically of another woman while he was treating her shortly after her husband was killed.

The 35-year-old mother of three is on trial in U. S. District Court on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying of Lt. Eugene C. Johnson, Jr.

The 30-year-old housing and billeting officer at Edgewood Arsenal was shot to death as he sat in his car with his wife at the Army Chemical Center May 14.

Capt. David A. Lasley testified that while he was giving Mrs. Johnson sedatives she said, "Why, oh why, did that young lady have to fall in love with my husband?" The woman wasn't named.

William C. Gunther, a civilian employe at the center, testified he escorted the former North Fork, W. Va., woman to the base dispensary after the shooting. He said she had no coordination and was babbling.

Gunther quoted Mrs. Johnson that, "I loved him so—we all loved him, but he didn't love us any more. He said he would not take us to Italy. I loved him very much. I can't understand how he could do a thing like that to us. . .

"Oh, God, don't let him die. Let me die instead. Why can't I die right here."

Other witnesses testified earlier Mrs. Johnson became hysterical and walked around aimlessly after the shooting. They said she was sitting in the rear seat of the car and shot her husband five times in the head and back as he sat in the front.

The prosecution said the shooting took place after the former Princeton, W. Va., resident asked his wife for a divorce.

Appeals Court Upholds Convicted Slayer

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The Court of Appeals today declined to reconsider a previous ruling setting aside the first-degree murder conviction of shoeshine boy Clarence E. Watson Jr.

A three-judge panel of the court set aside Watson's conviction of the duckpin slaying of Miss Alyce O. Taggart in the former Scott's Hotel, 22nd and P Sts. NW, on July 5, 1953.

The court held an unreasonable length of time passed between the arrest of Watson and his arraignment before a committing magistrate.

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP) — Because of the Peter Weinberger kidnaping, all of New York City's 2,500 detectives have been ordered to take a special course in kidnap investigation.

Contraption Only Resembled Bomb

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP) — A contraption that looked like a home-made bomb but wasn't was found on the porch of a home today and police later picked up two teen-agers for questioning.

Police expressed a belief the youths, 18 and 19, may have known either or both of the daughters of John H. Gilliece at whose home the device was found.

Gilliece is assistant-treasurer and comptroller of Johns Hopkins University.

Police removed the device to the lawn where they cut wires and tape holding it together. Then it was taken to the station house where an Army demolition expert confirmed it contained no explosives.

The contraption included an alarm clock, two flashlight batteries and three sticks of pipe wrapped in black tape.

House Upholds Air Force Plan

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The House refused today to upset an Air Force decision to locate its Research and Development Command headquarters at Andrews Field in nearby Maryland.

Opponents of the plan to move the headquarters from Baltimore to Andrews Field were seeking to have it shifted instead to Wright-Patterson Field near Dayton, Ohio.

Funds for the transfer to Andrews, estimated at six million dollars, were included in a supplemental appropriation bill now before the House.

Rep. Schenck (R-Ohio) offered an amendment to prohibit use of the money for that purpose but lost by a standing vote of 48-38.

Schenck told the House a board of Air Force officers had decided unanimously that Dayton was "the most efficient and best location" for the headquarters, now in rented quarters in Baltimore.

Rep. Mahon (D-Tex), chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee that drafted the pending bill, told the House the headquarters would serve all branches of the Air Force and could be located in one place as well as another.

Rep. Miller (R-Md) and Lankford (D-Md) opposed Schenck's amendment, saying Wright-Patterson Field already is crowded. They said the decision to build at Andrews Field was based on long studies and surveys.

Baltimore's City Officials Study Crime Curb Plan

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro said today he and Police Commissioner James Hepbron share "a determination to make Baltimore the best policed city in America."

The mayor's statement followed a conference with Hepbron about Baltimore's increasing crime and what must be done to stop it.

However, they put off any discussion of the mayor's proposal for an efficiency survey of the Police Department by an outside agency. The proposal, D'Alesandro said, will be taken up at another meeting next Tuesday after Hepbron has had an opportunity to talk with Gov. McKeldin.

Although he heads city police, the police commissioner is appointed by the governor. The city, however, must provide funds for operating and maintaining the police force.

D'Alesandro got unanimous approval of the City Board of Estimates yesterday for the study. He said the governor failed to cooperate with his request for additional beat patrolmen.

McKeldin, who had referred the request to Hepbron for study, said last night there is no need for an outsider to study the problem. He suggested the city plan to increase its foot patrolmen by 300 as proposed by Hepbron "and work from there."

Before going into the conference with D'Alesandro today, Hepbron said crime in Baltimore is not only increasing but is "spreading out" over a wider area.

India To Build Jets

NEW DELHI, July 12 (AP)—India plans to produce British-designed Folland Gnat jet fighters, with machinery and possibly British technicians brought from Britain.

Ship Arrivals At Port Of Baltimore Increase

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—The number of ships arriving at the Port of Baltimore during the first six months of 1956 showed a 14 percent increase over the same period of last year.

The number of ships moving into the harbor through June 30, totalled 2,883, compared with 2,532 last year. While no tonnage figures were available yet, they apparently enjoyed a similar increase.

During 1955, a new record of 5,369 arrivals in the port was set. The six-month figures would indicate the record is in jeopardy.

Traffic in the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal during the first half of '56 also showed an upswing. A total of 2,320 ships passed through the canal.

The year's record for the canal, also set last year, is 4,278.

Talbot County Reports Tenth Case Of Polio

EASTON, Md., July 12 (AP)—A 10th case of polio has been reported in Talbot County.

County Health Officer Louis S. Welty said a 13-year-old boy was stricken July 1. However, the illness was not diagnosed as polio until earlier this week.

The boy is Milton Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daffin Lane of near Easton. Dr. Welty called his case an isolated one.

The county's other nine cases were all girls or young women.

U.S. Navy Expects To Launch Missiles With Nuclear Warheads In Few Years

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Navy says it will be only "a few years" before it will be firing ballistic missiles fitted with "high-yield nuclear warheads."

Progress in the field of naval missiles was disclosed by Adm. John E. Clark and Vice Adm. Thomas S. Combs in testimony given to a Senate Armed Services subcommitee and made public today in highly censored form.

The officers said the Navy has spent 10 years developing its missile arsenal and has achieved a "significant reduction in weight of high-yield nuclear warheads."

By "high-yield" they meant a big explosion from, comparatively a very small amount of fusional material. The term is generally applied to hydrogen bombs.

Clark, director of the Navy's guided missile program, testified the Navy's fleet ballistic missile, Jupiter, being developed jointly with the Army, will be in operation in a "few years"—long before the expected perfection of counter measures against the weapon which travels many times faster than sound.

Clark said "we will be reasonably sure of the form that the ballistic missile will take" within a year, and that the Navy is already studying the types of ships that can use it.

He said submarines are definitely under consideration, that large cruisers could be used and that a battleship may be the best type.

Much of Combs' testimony at the hearing last month was censored out of the published report for security reasons.

But he was permitted to say for the record that the Navy's new carrier - borne medium bomber, the A3D, has a speed of about 600 miles an hour and an operating ceiling of more than 30,000 feet.

Combs is deputy chief of naval operations for air.

Adm. Clark said that by 1961 the Navy will have 47 guided missile ships, enough to protect three carrier task groups.

He estimated the Navy will be "respectably missilized" in the next four or five years "both offensively and defensively."

The published testimony also disclosed new information about the Navy's SeaMaster jet-powered seaplane.

The second SeaMaster is now undergoing flight tests, the first having crashed in Chesapeake Bay last year.

Combs and Rear Adm. James S. Russell, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, said the SeaMaster can land and take off in waves up to six feet high, can refuel in the air or on the surface and carry a payload up to 300,000 pounds within a combat radius of well over 1,500 miles.

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Navy's SeaMaster the world's first multijet seaplane which crashed in Chesapeake Bay last year, broke up when the horizontal stabilizer went full up sending the huge plane into the start of an outside loop.

Rear Adm. James S. Russell, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics gave that lucid explanation in testimony before a Senate Armed Services Subcommittee made public today in highly censored form

After laborious recovery and examination of its parts, the experts announced two months ago that the crash of the eight million dollar plane was due to one of six causes.

Russell was more explicit. He cited just one major cause.

"Very briefly," he explained, "the horizontal tail, which is completely hydraulic-controlled, went full up, suddenly, and the airplane broke up by doing the beginning of an outside loop. . ."

One of the causes listed by the salvage experts was "elimination of hydraulic power from the stabilizer actuator."

Rubber Mice Do Trick

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP) — Pigeons around a downtown office building will have to find other air conditioning nests.

The birds discovered it was pleasant to nest around the window units in the Mills Building at Pennsylvania avenue and 17th street.

An office occupant objected and had rubber mice planted around the conditioners.

It worked.

Adlai And Harriman May Meet In Nevada

TONOPAH, Nev., July 12 (AP) — There's an "outside chance" Adlai Stevenson and Averell Harriman will come face to face in remote central Nevada next week during their tussle for Democratic presidential nominating votes.

State Democratic Chairman C. D. Baker of Las Vegas announced today that Stevenson, 1952 nominee, definitely will be on hand July 21 when the state's 28 delegates to the Democratic National Convention gather here for their only pre-Chicago meeting.

Supporters of the New York governor say they are trying to have him on hand, too, and have been informed that there's an "outside chance" he will make it.

Tonopah is 240 miles south of Reno and 207 miles north of Las Vegas, but it has an airport at which the candidates can land.

Nevada has 14 votes in the convention and at the last Associated Press count dark horse Stuart Symington, Missouri Democratic senator, had more support than either Stevenson or Harriman.

Case Of Balky Fire Captain Still Hanging

ANNAPOLIS, July 12 (AP) — The case of a fire captain who refused to put his truck in a welcome home parade for the Navy football team was returned yesterday to Anne Arundel County Circuit Court for further proceedings.

The Court of Appeals upheld a legal point against him but took dim view of the circumstances which started all the fuss.

It began when Capt. John W. Smith of West Annapolis Fire Company was called before City Council to explain why he wouldn't turn out his unit to welcome the Navy team home from its 1955 Sugar Bowl victory.

Smith refused to testify, and council charged him with a violating a city ordinance by such refusal. The ordinance provides for a fine of $1 to $10.

In Magistrate's Court, Smith pleaded innocent, asked a jury trial and then requested a preliminary hearing by the magistrate.

Magistrate Robert E. Dammeyer granted the hearing over objections of the state and then dismissed the warrant. The state's attorney appealed to Circuit Court, which ruled that Smith was not entitled to the hearing after requesting a jury trial. Circuit Court ordered the magistrate to send it records oft he case for trial and declared the hearing null and void.

It was from this order that Smith appealed to the state's highest court.

The Court of Appeals agreed with lower court that since Smith demanded a jury trial the case was removed from the magistrate's jurisdiction. It said he had rejected the alternative of being tried before the magistrate for a minor offense, with right to appeal to Circuit Court.

Circuit Court ordered the magistrate to send it records oft he case for trial and declared the hearing null and void.

It was from this order that Smith appealed to the state's highest court.

The Court of Appeals agreed with lower court that since Smith demanded a jury trial the case was removed from the magistrate's jurisdiction. It said he had rejected the alternative of being tried before the magistrate for a minor offense, with right to appeal to Circuit Court.

An estimated 1,200 attended the picnic at Cedar Grove Beach.

Six Liners With 6,000 Aboard Head For Europe

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—Six transatlantic liners steamed down the Hudson River today carrying more than 6,000 passengers to Europe.

Including four passenger ships which sailed yesterday with 4,038 travelers, the 10 ships gave the New York port one of its busiest 24 hours in its history.

The giant Queen Elizabeth led the parade followed by the Guilio Cesare, the Brittanic, the Flandre, the New York and the Ryndam.

Upturn In New Car Sales "Fizzles Out"

DETROIT, July 12 (AP) — Ward's automotive reports says in its current issue that the seasonal upturn in new car sales noted early in May has "fizzled out."

The selling rate for the entire month of June, it adds, "showed no deviation from monthly performances since February."

The statistical agency says, however, that inventory reduction continues. It comments:

"The lack of a general sales upturn does not detract from industry success in whittling its record new car inventory. An estimated 120,000 units were chopped off the stockpile in June, following a 60,000-unit cut during May, putting the figure at the 700,000 level."

Ward's figures that current new car stocks represent a 34 days' supply. It said this "may well fade to a 30 days' level by the end of this month." It added that "no easing in the brisk competition for new car sales is seen for July and August."

Grafton Man Installed

CLEVELAND, July 12 (AP) — The 80,000-member Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers yesterday installed 16 assistant grand chief engineers.

Christian Dior Fashions Feature 'Epee' Silhouette

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—Christian Dior, the fabulous Frenchman, concentrates interest from the bustline up in his New York fashion collection for fall. This, says Dior, is the year for the "epee" or fencing sword silhouette.

The ornate sword handle, in that case, represents above-the-belt drama in his new fashions, while the blade is the slender skirt. He goes in for huge lapels, elaborate collars, width at the shoulder line, scarfs, ties and capes to draw the eye upward, topping the whole thing off with stovepipe hats, high turbans or bulky berets.

Coats and suits in the new Dior line have none of that lightweight look evident in most other New York collections, but are definitely bulky, of heavy fabrics, frankly designed for cold-weather wear. Perhaps the recent frigid winter in Europe influenced the designer's choice of fabrics.

Fabrics are luxurious throughout the collection, with much emphasis on stiff, rustling silks for cocktail and evening wear, lavish use of embroidery, lace and jeweled trimmings.

Dior mannequins also assume a new stance this season, leaning forward into the wind, in a posture reminiscent of the Gibson Girl without bustle. They wear shoes with stiletto heels to end all stiletto heels—slender spikes no bigger than a good-size nail.

Tina Leser, entranced with the flamboyant fashions of the period of Henry VIII, introduces a sort of suspender-and-belt arrangement in various furs which she calls a "britina," teaming it with wool sheath dresses in brilliant holbein colors. She also shows Henry VIII pants in red velvet, an Ann Boleyn dress with John Frederics Wimple, and "surcoats," which are hipbone jackets made like cutaway coats.

Holding that play clothes should also be worn in the evening, the unabashed Tina shows a series of festive play clothes such as jeans in shocking pink satin and a cobbler's apron in electric blue satin, both lined in striped cotton, both stitched like the familiar denim originals.

Former Cresaptown Man Prevents Suicide Attempt

A young Washington minister who is a former resident of Cresaptown and a 1940 graduate of Allegany High School is credited with saving the life of a man Wednesday at great danger to his own.

Rev. Edward B. Lewis, 35, pastor of Union Methodist Church in Washington, was aroused from sleep early Wednesday by policemen who informed him a young ex-Air Force sergeant was threatening to leap from a tenth-floor window of a nearby building. The man, police informed Rev. Mr. Lewis, had asked to talk to a minister.

Arriving at the scene, Rev. Mr. Lewis found a man identified as Donald Seaman, 23, formerly of Benton Harbor, Mich., seated astride an open window.

For the next 30 minutes, the son of Mrs. Clara Lewis, Cresaptown, and the late Edward Lewis, read Scripture and pleaded with the young ex-airman to have faith in God. Seaman however would not permit either the minister or a fire department official to come within eight feet of the window.

Finally Rev. Mr. Lewis asked Seaman to take his hand and took a cautious step forward. The ex-airman refused and began to shift his body over the sill. With this, the clergyman lunged and caught hold of Seaman's leg.

Others were quick to help drag the wildly protesting young man back to safety and he was strapped to a stretcher and taken to District General Hospital for a 30-day observation.

Rev. Mr. Lewis, pastor of the Washington church for the past seven years, said he suffered skinned knees while battling to hold the young man from a leap to probable death and to keep from being pulled out the window.

His greatest decision, he explained, was whether to make the lunge since a miss would result in a ten-floor leap. "It was only with the help of God that I made the decision," Rev. Mr. Lewis said.

"It feels good to have helped save a life," he continued. "My only wish is that the experience will not have a harmful after-effect upon the boy and that he obtains peace of mind and soul."

Rev. Mr. Lewis said he hopes to counsel Seaman, with the approval of doctors, during his observation period at the hospital.

LaVale Firemen Convert Bakery Truck For Use

A third vehicle has been added to the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company, an equipment truck to haul firefighting gear.

It was remodeled and converted from a bakery truck by members of the fire company under the supervision of Fire Chief Bruce Long. The men worked in the engine room during the winter and spring.

This past year, the fire company constructed a two-story 30-foot by 40-foot addition to the big fire hall to make room for the vehicle.

The equipment truck, according to President Cromwell C. Zembower, will answer all calls and will eliminate the necessity of the volunteers going to the fire hall to pick up their gear.

LaVale is spread along the National Highway for about 4 miles and firemen living at one end of the suburb will not have to go out of their way to get their equipment.

The firemen installed facilities to carry coats, boots, helmets, gas masks, portable pump, portable light plant; back pack tanks, rakes, brooms, nozzles, adapters, liquid foam solution, and other small pieces of equipment.

The vehicle will carry stretchers and the truck will be converted to an ambulance in the case of extreme emergency.

The newly painted truck has been on display all this week during the annual festival of the fire company on the lot adjacent to the fire hall.

The company also has two pumpers equipped with high pressure nozzles and other latest equipment.

Association To Meet

The Police and Firemen's Welfare Association will meet July 16 at 8 p. m. in the Public Safety Building.

Council Urges Mandatory Auto Course

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mandatory driving education for high school students and licensing of private teaching schools were the latest proposals dwelt upon Wednesday by a Legislative Council committee looking over Maryland's automobile laws.

Del. Dilver (D-Balto 5th), chairman of the committee, expressed the opinion that high school instruction may be the best way to start cutting down highway fatalities.

Del. Driscoll (R-Allegany) noted that in 1954-55 only 7,000 of 25,000 eligible students in Maryland had received driver training. The courses are optional with the county boards of education.

Frank Small Jr., commissioner of motor vehicles, was in sympathy with the idea of putting some checks on the private instructors. "Any person with a license can teach driving," he noted.

The council committee is going over 29 proposed changes in motor vehicle laws.

Listed as three main items are renewal of driver licenses, periodic automobile inspection, and a mandatory chemical test for suspected drunken drivers.

Committee To Select Senate Hall Of Fame

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Senate today directed a special committee to name by next May 1 the five outstanding senators of the past whose portraits will hang in a Hall of Fame outside the Senate chamber.

The committee, headed by Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass), was set up last Aug. 2 with instructions to make the selections one at a time at two-year intervals. The group unanimously introduced a resolution asking for permission to make the five selections at once, by the deadline date the Senate fixed. The Senate today agreed to that.

Gas Turned On At New Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Plant Here

Natural gas for the glass making process and for heating officials was turned into the North Branch Plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company yesterday.

Representatives of the company, the Cumberland and Alleghen Gas Company and the City of Cumberland and the Chamber of Commerce were on hand for the "valve turning on" ceremony.

The plant has been using gas for about a week, according to company officials, in heating the base of the 300-foot stack at the melting tank building. This is keeping the furnace from getting an accumulation of moisture, they said.

The ceremony yesterday climaxed the construction of a $494,000, seven-mile-long pipe line that crosses two steep mountains and is laid across the Potomac River four times.

The difficult contract was let by the gas company to the Britten Engineering and Construction Company.

The 12-inch section from LaVale runs three miles to tie in with the Cumberland distribution system. The rest of the line is eight-inch.

Turning on the valve and marking the official start of fuel service Pittsburgh Plate was Robert M. Hainsfurther, plant manager, assisted by Mayor Roy W. Eves and Earl C. Robbins, Cumberland District manager for C&A.

Present were representatives of the City Council, the gas company and the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and Pittsburgh Plate.

The big furnace for the melting tank will be lit the week of July 23, Hainsfurther explained.

The first glass is expected to be processed by the end of August, Hainsfurther said, but this starting date depends on many elements.

The lehr building and the cooling section, through which the endless piece of glass must be rolled, have to be finished before glass can be made, he pointed out.

The first shipment of sand for making glass was delivered to the plant site this week and Hainsfurther said it will be unloaded into the storage silos when electric power is turned on.

The Potomac Edison and the Company are in the process of making arrangements for temporary power until the Pittsburgh Plate substation is completed.

The PE has completed two lines from the Swan Pond substation on the old Lamp farm in the Mexico Farms section and is in the process of running another line from the Ridgeley power station to the plant.

Damaged Freighter, Survivors Reach Port

HALIFAX, N.S., July 12 (AP)—The 7,500 - ton Italian freighter Dea Mazzella, carrying 33 survivors of the Panamanian cargo ship Estoril, limped into port here today with 20 feet of her bow pushed back like a landing barge.

The survivors of the Estoril — her full crew—were plucked from two lifeboats by the Mazzella after the ships collided in a fog 450 miles east of Boston early Wednesday.

LaVale Firemen Convert Bakery Truck For Use

A third vehicle has been added to the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company, an equipment truck to haul firefighting gear.

It was remodeled and converted from a bakery truck by members of the fire company under the supervision of Fire Chief Bruce Long. The men worked in the engine room during the winter and spring.

This past year, the fire company constructed a two-story 30-foot by 40-foot addition to the big fire hall to make room for the vehicle.

The equipment truck, according to President Cromwell C. Zembower, will answer all calls and will eliminate the necessity of the volunteers going to the fire hall to pick up their gear.

LaVale is spread along the National Highway for about 4 miles and firemen living at one end of the suburb will not have to go out of their way to get their equipment.

The firemen installed facilities to carry coats, boots, helmets, gas masks, portable pump, portable light plant; back pack tanks, rakes, brooms, nozzles, adapters, liquid foam solution, and other small pieces of equipment.

The vehicle will carry stretchers and the truck will be converted to an ambulance in the case of extreme emergency.

The newly painted truck has been on display all this week during the annual festival of the fire company on the lot adjacent to the fire hall.

The company also has two pumpers equipped with high pressure nozzles and other latest equipment.

Association To Meet

The Police and Firemen's Welfare Association will meet July 16 at 8 p. m. in the Public Safety Building.

Council Urges Mandatory Auto Course

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mandatory driving education for high school students and licensing of private teaching schools were the latest proposals dwelt upon Wednesday by a Legislative Council committee looking over Maryland's automobile laws.

Del. Dilver (D-Balto 5th), chairman of the committee, expressed the opinion that high school instruction may be the best way to start cutting down highway fatalities.

Del. Driscoll (R-Allegany) noted that in 1954-55 only 7,000 of 25,000 eligible students in Maryland had received driver training. The courses are optional with the county boards of education.

Frank Small Jr., commissioner of motor vehicles, was in sympathy with the idea of putting some checks on the private instructors. "Any person with a license can teach driving," he noted.

The council committee is going over 29 proposed changes in motor vehicle laws.

Listed as three main items are renewal of driver licenses, periodic automobile inspection, and a mandatory chemical test for suspected drunken drivers.

Committee To Select Senate Hall Of Fame

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Senate today directed a special committee to name by next May 1 the five outstanding senators of the past whose portraits will hang in a Hall of Fame outside the Senate chamber.

The committee, headed by Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass), was set up last Aug. 2 with instructions to make the selections one at a time at two-year intervals. The group unanimously introduced a resolution asking for permission to make the five selections at once, by the deadline date the Senate fixed. The Senate today agreed to that.

Gas Turned On At New Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Plant Here

Natural gas for the glass making process and for heating officials was turned into the North Branch Plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company yesterday.

Representatives of the company, the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company and the City of Cumberland and the Chamber of Commerce were on hand for the "valve turning on" ceremony.

The plant has been using gas for about a week, according to company officials, in heating the base of the 300-foot stack at the melting tank building. This is keeping the furnace from getting an accumulation of moisture, they said.

The ceremony yesterday climaxed the construction of a $494,000, seven-mile-long pipe line that crosses two steep mountains and is laid across the Potomac River four times.

The difficult contract was let by the gas company to the Britten Engineering and Construction Company.

The 12-inch section from LaVale runs three miles to tie in with the Cumberland distribution system. The rest of the line is eight-inch.

Turning on the valve and marking the official start of fuel service for Pittsburgh Plate was Robert M. Hainsfurther, plant manager, assisted by Mayor Roy W. Eves and Earl C. Robbins, Cumberland District manager for C&A.

Present were representatives of the City Council, the gas company and the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and Pittsburgh Plate.

The big furnace for the melting tank will be lit the week of July 23, Hainsfurther explained.

The first glass is expected to be processed by the end of August, Hainsfurther said, but this starting date depends on many elements.

The lehr building and the cooling section, through which the endless piece of glass must be rolled, have to be finished before glass can be made, he pointed out.

The first shipment of sand for making glass was delivered to the plant site this week and Hainsfurther said it will be unloaded into the storage silos when electric power is turned on.

The Potomac Edison and the Company are in the process of making arrangements for temporary power until the Pittsburgh Plate substation is completed.

The PE has completed two lines from the Swan Pond substation on the old Lamp farm in the Mexico Farms section and is in the process of running another line from the Ridgeley power station to the plant.

Damaged Freighter, Survivors Reach Port

HALIFAX, N.S., July 12 (AP)—The 7,500 - ton Italian freighter Dea Mazzella, carrying 33 survivors of the Panamanian cargo ship Estoril, limped into port here today with 20 feet of her bow pushed back like a landing barge.

The survivors of the Estoril — her full crew—were plucked from two lifeboats by the Mazzella after the ships collided in a fog 450 miles east of Boston early Wednesday.

Hancock Allotted Federal Aid

Hancock will be among the communities eligible for federal assistance as the result of the passage by Congress and signature by the President of federal water pollution control legislation.

In the past Hancock has been dumping its untreated sewage into the Potomac River.

Only recently, Hancock added a new section of the community to its sewerage system, increasing the amount of raw sewage it dumps into the river.

The federal grants to communities will be made available to pay part of the cost of constructing sewage treatment works, as provided in the bill's appropriations.

The fact that Washington, D. C., itself gets its water from the Potomac River, gave impetus to the legislation aimed at cleaning up the river of all forms of pollution.

It is understood that the State Department of Health may also require very shortly several other Washington county communities to build sewage treatment plants.

Paper Company, Union To Open Contract Talks

Contract discussions between the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and the United Paperworkers of America will begin July 31, the company announced yesterday.

The union is the bargaining agent for most of the hourly-paid employes of the company's mills at Luke, Covington, Va., and Williamsburg, Pa.

The contract discussions were suggested by the company late last month in Washington when the UPA presented wage demands to the firm under a reopening clause of the existing labor contract.

At that time, the company indicated it was willing to seek an agreement or renewal of the contract at an earlier date in order to make wage increases available to its employes sooner than the regular contract time.

Under the arrangement suggested by the company, the benefits obtained by a new contract would be effective immediately following ratification by the union locals.

Any new agreement would run for one or two years after the regular termination date of the present contract, which expires November 17, it was explained.

The union accepted the company's offer following membership meetings by the three plant locals this week.

County Business Conducted By Orr

County business is being conducted as usual although one commissioner is on vacation and another is ill, making only one available for conducting the office routine.

Despite the lack of a quorum, bills are being paid, the payrolls are approved and other papers signed.

They are taken to the home of the ill commissioner, C. N. Wilkinson, on DeHaven Road, by the county clerk, James Stevenson, and signed.

The papers are then signed at the Court House by Commissioner James Orr, who is "holding down the fort" while Commissioner Wilkinson is ill and Board President William H. Lemmert s on vacation.

Commissioner Lemmert is scheduled to return for the meeting of Tuesday, July 24. In the meantime, while Commissioner Wilkinson and Commissioner Lemmert are away, Commissioner Orr will be available during the regular meetings to confer with those having business before the board.

Six Liners With 6,000 Aboard Head For Europe

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—Six transatlantic liners steamed down the Hudson River today carrying more than 6,000 passengers to Europe.

Including four passenger ships which sailed yesterday with 4,038 travelers, the 10 ships gave the New York port one of its busiest 24 hours in its history.

The giant Queen Elizabeth led the parade followed by the Guilio Cesare, the Brittanic, the Flandre, the New York and the Ryndam.

Upturn In New Car Sales "Fizzles Out"

DETROIT, July 12 (AP) — Ward's automotive reports says in its current issue that the seasonal upturn in new car sales noted early in May has "fizzled out."

The selling rate for the entire month of June, it adds, "showed no deviation from monthly performances since February."

The statistical agency says, however, that inventory reduction continues. It comments:

"The lack of a general sales upturn does not detract from industry success in whittling its record new car inventory. An estimated 120,000 units were chopped off the stockpile in June, following a 60,000-unit cut during May, putting the figure at the 700,000 level."

Ward's figures that current new car stocks represent a 34 days' supply. It said this "may well fade to a 30 days' level by the end of this month." It added that "no easing in the brisk competition for new car sales is seen for July and August."

Grafton Man Installed

CLEVELAND, July 12 (AP) — The 80,000-member Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers yesterday installed 16 assistant grand chief engineers.

Associated Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—Christian Dior, the fabulous Frenchman, concentrates interest from the bustline up in his New York fashion collection for fall. This, says Dior, is the year for the "epee" or fencing sword silhouette.

The ornate sword handle, in that case, represents above-the-belt drama in his new fashions, while the blade is the slender skirt. He goes in for huge lapels, elaborate collars, width at the shoulder line, scarfs, ties and capes to draw the eye upward, topping the whole thing off with stovepipe hats, high turbans or bulky berets.

Coats and suits in the new Dior line have none of that lightweight look evident in most other New York collections, but are definitely bulky, of heavy fabrics, frankly designed for cold-weather wear. Perhaps the recent frigid winter in Europe influenced the designer's choice of fabrics.

Fabrics are luxurious throughout the collection, with much emphasis on stiff, rustling silks for cocktail and evening wear, lavish use of embroidery, lace and jeweled trimmings.

Dior mannequins also assume a new stance this season, leaning forward into the wind, in a posture reminiscent of the Gibson Girl without bustle. They wear shoes with stiletto heels to end all stiletto heels—slender spikes no bigger than a good-size nail.

Tina Leser, entranced with the flamboyant fashions of the period of Henry VIII, introduces a sort of suspender-and-belt arrangement in various furs which she calls a "britina," teaming it with wool sheath dresses in brilliant holbein colors. She also shows Henry VIII pants in red velvet, an Ann Boleyn dress with John Frederics Wimple, and "surcoats," which are hipbone jackets made like cutaway coats.

Holding that play clothes should also be worn in the evening, the unabashed Tina shows a series of festive play clothes such as jeans in shocking pink satin and a cobbler's apron in electric blue satin, both lined in striped cotton, both stitched like the familiar denim originals.

$8,215 Death Claim Bill Signed By Ike

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP) — President Eisenhower yesterday signed a bill for payment of $8,215 to Army Maj. Luther C. Cox, Ferndale, Md., in settlement claims arising out of the death of his wife, Helen Cox, Feb. 5, 1955.

She was killed near Saalfelden, Austria, when an Army ambulance struck a car in which she was riding.

'THE BRAIN' COMES TO TOYLAND

TOYLAND is invaded by the electronic age with "the brain," one of 600 toys at the 10th annual Toy Guidance exhibit in New York. The unusual child's plaything is maneuvered by a mystifying "Z-man" in a variety of pre-set patterns which include firing guided missiles. The youngster seems suitably impressed. (International)

witness to that long-ago scene, writing in his diary the next day, tells us: 'Pealing bells, roaring cannon and the huzzas of people made a mixed thunder of noise that was almost frightening.' Long carpets were spread to a waiting carriage, but George Washington preferred to go on foot to the residence that had been prepared for him at Cherry Street. As he walked, he bowed gracefully every few steps, doffing his hat to the ladies who waved and threw flowers in his path."

President Washington, who deplored political parties and won all 69 electoral votes cast in the first presidential election, would have scratched the powder out of his wig trying to figure out an article in the current issue of "sponsor," a TV and radio trade journal. It's a debate between two advertising men on TV's impact and responsibilities in an election year.

"In some ways the Republicans tried to sell their 1952 presidential candidate like a tube of toothpaste, and to all indications, they'll be using TV in a similar way to sell their 1956 candidate," claims Lloyd G. Whitebrook, of Kastor, Farrell, Chesley and Clifford Agency. Conscientious research revealed that Mr. Whitebrook is a registered Democrat.

Rosser Reeves, chairman of the board of Ted Bates Co., the man behind Ike's 1952 "spots" on TV, retorts with: "Politicians have been using (sloganeering) announcements for time immemorial. I defy anyone to tell me what else Roosevelt said when he said, 'I see one-third of the people ill-fed, ill-clothed and ill-housed.' or, 'I promise you again and again and again, your sons will not fight in foreign wars.' These are statements of belief, political philosophy or political intent. If anyone yells 'toothpaste' just because they're short, they're in essence pleading for redundancy."

Should be a warm summer and fall.

On The Line
by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, July 12 (INS)—There's a rash of new books emerging for election-year reading. Fascinating stuff, generally.

Cornell Prof. Clinton Rossiter's provocative study "The American Presidency" has just emerged in a 35 cent edition. It's packed with facts, fables and features on presidents past and incumbent, and the nature of their awe-inspiring job.

"Government is people and it is just as simple as that. Get good people and you have good government. That is what I have tried to do," said Dwight David Eisenhower. Harry S. Truman put it another way: "There are probably a million people in this country who could do the presidential job better than I, but I've got the job and I'm doing the very best I can."

"The American Presidency" contains a valuable appendix, every word of the Constitution which bears on the presidency, including such dusty provisions as "when the president of the United States is tried, the chief justice shall preside."

Former Newsman Lamont Buchanan has put together a lively, informative, picture-and-cartoon-folled big book for Dutton called "Ballot for Americans." The old cartoons are more wonderful than the modern day photography. So must have been the arrival for inaugural ceremonies of presidents of the past. George Washington's, for example:

"The trip (from Mt. Vernon) was a triumphal procession. Repeatedly the President-elect was forced to halt to acknowledge the greetings of his countrymen along the way. Reaching Elizabethtown Point, New Jersey, Washington was feted by a group of officials and then put aboard a splendid barge specially built for the occasio, manned by 13 pilots resplendent in white uniforms. Other decorated barges joined the fleet of vessels, and the whole colorful flotilla moved slowly up the Bay of New York, viewed by thousands from the shore.

"When Washington's barge finally landed at Murray's Wharf, a

Former Cresaptown Man Prevents Suicide Attempt

A young Washington minister who is a former resident of Cresaptown and a 1940 graduate of Allegany High School is credited with saving the life of a man Wednesday at great danger to his own.

Rev. Edward B. Lewis, 35, pastor of Union Methodist Church in Washington, was aroused from sleep early Wednesday by policemen who informed him a young ex-Air Force sergeant was threatening to leap from a tenth-floor window of a nearby building. The man, police informed Rev. Mr. Lewis, had asked to talk to a minister.

Arriving at the scene, Rev. Mr. Lewis found a man identified as Donald Seaman, 23, formerly of Benton Harbor, Mich., seated astride an open window.

For the next 30 minutes, the son of Mrs. Clara Lewis, Cresaptown, and the late Edward Lewis, read Scripture and pleaded with the young ex-airman to have faith in God. Seaman however would not permit either the minister or a fire department official to come within eight feet of the window.

Finally Rev. Mr. Lewis asked Seaman to take his hand and took a cautious step forward. The ex-airman refused and began to shift his body over the sill. With this, the clergyman lunged and caught hold of Seaman's leg.

Others were quick to help drag the wildly protesting young man back to safety and he was strapped to a stretcher and taken to District General Hospital for a 30-day observation.

Rev. Mr. Lewis, pastor of the Washington church for the past seven years, said he suffered skinned knees while battling to hold the young man from a leap to probable death and to keep from being pulled out the window.

His greatest decision, he explained, was whether to make the lunge since a miss would result in a ten-floor leap. "It was only with the help of God that I made the decision," Rev. Mr. Lewis said.

"It feels good to have helped save a life," he continued. "My only wish is that the experience will not have a harmful after-effect upon the boy and that he obtains peace of mind and soul."

Rev. Mr. Lewis said he hopes to counsel Seaman, with the approval of doctors, during his observation period at the hospital.

LaVale Firemen Convert Bakery Truck For Use

A third vehicle has been added to the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company, an equipment truck to haul firefighting gear.

It was remodeled and converted from a bakery truck by members of the fire company under the supervision of Fire Chief Bruce Long. The men worked in the engine room during the winter and spring.

This past year, the fire company constructed a two-story 30-foot by 40-foot addition to the big fire hall to make room for the vehicle.

The equipment truck, according to President Cromwell C. Zembower, will answer all calls and will eliminate the necessity of the volunteers going to the fire hall to pick up their gear.

LaVale is spread along the National Highway for about 4 miles and firemen living at one end of the suburb will not have to go out of their way to get their equipment.

The firemen installed facilities to carry coats, boots, helmets, gas masks, portable pump, portable light plant; back pack tanks, rakes, brooms, nozzles, adapters, liquid foam solution, and other small pieces of equipment.

The vehicle will carry stretchers and the truck will be converted to an ambulance in the case of extreme emergency.

The newly painted truck has been on display all this week during the annual festival of the fire company on the lot adjacent to the fire hall.

The company also has two pumpers equipped with high pressure nozzles and other latest equipment.

Association To Meet

The Police and Firemen's Welfare Association will meet July 16 at 8 p. m. in the Public Safety Building.

Council Urges Mandatory Auto Course

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mandatory driving education for high school students and licensing of private teaching schools were the latest proposals dwelt upon Wednesday by a Legislative Council committee looking over Maryland's automobile laws.

Del. Dilver (D-Balto 5th), chairman of the committee, expressed the opinion that high school instruction may be the best way to start cutting down highway fatalities.

Del. Driscoll (R-Allegany) noted that in 1954-55 only 7,000 of 25,000 eligible students in Maryland had received driver training. The courses are optional with the county boards of education.

Frank Small Jr., commissioner of motor vehicles, was in sympathy with the idea of putting some checks on the private instructors. "Any person with a license can teach driving," he noted.

The council committee is going over 29 proposed changes in motor vehicle laws.

Listed as three main items are renewal of driver licenses, periodic automobile inspection, and a mandatory chemical test for suspected drunken drivers.

Committee To Select Senate Hall Of Fame

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Senate today directed a special committee to name by next May 1 the five outstanding senators of the past whose portraits will hang in a Hall of Fame outside the Senate chamber.

The committee, headed by Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass), was set up last Aug. 2 with instructions to make the selections one at a time at two-year intervals. The group unanimously introduced a resolution asking for permission to make the five selections at once, by the deadline date the Senate fixed. The Senate today agreed to that.

Gas Turned On At New Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Plant Here

Natural gas for the glass making process and for heating officials was turned into the North Branch Plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company yesterday.

Representatives of the company, the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company and the City of Cumberland and the Chamber of Commerce were on hand for the "valve turning on" ceremony.

The plant has been using gas for about a week, according to company officials, in heating the base of the 300-foot stack at the melting tank building. This is keeping the furnace from getting an accumulation of moisture, they said.

The ceremony yesterday climaxed the construction of a $494,000, seven-mile-long pipe line that crosses two steep mountains and is laid across the Potomac River four times.

The difficult contract was let by the gas company to the Britten Engineering and Construction Company.

The 12-inch section from LaVale runs three miles to tie in with the Cumberland distribution system. The rest of the line is eight-inch.

Turning on the valve and marking the official start of fuel service Pittsburgh Plate was Robert M. Hainsfurther, plant manager, assisted by Mayor Roy W. Eves and Earl C. Robbins, Cumberland District manager for C&A.

Present were representatives of the City Council, the gas company and the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and Pittsburgh Plate.

The big furnace for the melting tank will be lit the week of July 23, Hainsfurther explained.

The first glass is expected to be processed by the end of August, Hainsfurther said, but this starting date depends on many elements.

The lehr building and the cooling section, through which the endless piece of glass must be rolled, have to be finished before glass can be made, he pointed out.

The first shipment of sand for making glass was delivered to the plant site this week and Hainsfurther said it will be unloaded into the storage silos when electric power is turned on.

The Potomac Edison and the Company are in the process of making arrangements for temporary power until the Pittsburgh Plate substation is completed.

The PE has completed two lines from the Swan Pond substation on the old Lamp farm in the Mexico Farms section and is in the process of running another line from the Ridgeley power station to the plant.

Damaged Freighter, Survivors Reach Port

HALIFAX, N.S., July 12 (AP)—The 7,500 - ton Italian freighter Dea Mazzella, carrying 33 survivors of the Panamanian cargo ship Estoril, limped into port here today with 20 feet of her bow pushed back like a landing barge.

The survivors of the Estoril — her full crew—were plucked from two lifeboats by the Mazzella after the ships collided in a fog 450 miles east of Boston early Wednesday.

Westernport Church Asks Help From City

Baptists Erecting New Building

WESTERNPORT — A delegation from Christ Memorial Baptist Church conferred with the Mayor and Council Wednesday night about a new church the congregation is building on Roosevelt Street in Highland Park Addition.

The delegation told the Council that the Potomac Edison Company has agreed to put up two light poles at the site if the city would place a light on the second pole. The request was referred to Commissioner Ray L. Wilt.

The church officials also asked that a curb line be established at the site, and that arrangements be made for water and sewerage.

Members of the Council agreed to run a temporary water line to the building during construction, and a request for permanent assistance was referred to Commissioner Alvin Pence. The curb request was referred to Commissioner Maurice Brundige.

The delegation included Alonzo Riggleman, chairman of the deacons; Rev. Hugh M. Maynard, pastor; William R. Riley, Alfred Harris and William Bosley.

The deed for a 30-foot right of way donated to the town by the Maybury-Poland Realty Company, was accepted after being approved by Horace P. Whitworth, town attorney.

Council ordered that one of the rooms of the Maryland Bureau of Mines in the second floor of the city building be remodeled to be used for a rest room, and that the two office rooms and stairway be repainted.

Payment of $2,970 was ordered paid to Liller Brothers Asphalt Company of Cumberland, for the hard-surfacing Central Avenue, Quality and Miller Street.

Funds Approved For Bridge Over Potomac

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The House passed by voice vote and sent to the Senate today a bill appropriating $1,555,539,305 for miscellaneous federal activities. Most of it is for military construction.

There was little controversy over the $1,447,450,000 for Army, Navy and Air Force construction in the United States and abroad. The main fight was over $14,325,000 to build a bridge between Virginia and Maryland near Washington.

Rep. Gross (R-Iowa) failed in his efforts to eliminate funds for the new bridge, to be known as the Woodrow Wilson Memorial Bridge, across the Potomac River. Gross claimed the federal government should not pay for an interstate span which "has nothing but an indirect approach to relieving congestion in the District of Columbia." His move to eliminate the money failed by a roll call vote of 369-24.

The bill's total was $332,690,000 more than President Eisenhower had requested, but the increase was offset by cancellation of previously appropriated funds in excess of 365 million dollars.

Included in the total was $44,920,000 for construction of a new State Department building here and 49 million dollars to build a new home for the Central Intelligence Agency.

"Mile Of Dollar Bills" Will Aid Grantsville Church

GRANTSVILLE — While Friday the thirteenth is presumably a superstitious day for many people, for the Men's Brotherhood of Grantsville Methodist Church it will mean the culmination of a drive to secure a "Mile of Dollar Bills."

A ceremony to mark the rolling out of the bills will take place today at 10 a. m. (DST) and continue until dark.

The campaign was launched several months ago to secure funds for the improvement program at the church. A basement has been constructed and a new heating plant was installed. These added facilities will permit a better all around church program, including an accelerated program for the youth of the community.

Gienger Suggest Ways To Reduce Farm Accidents

COLLEGE PARK — "Common sense can prevent many haying accidents," says Guy W. Gienger, University of Maryland extension agricultural engineer. "Operation of power machinery requires know-how and good judgment," he states.

With present widespread use of balers and field choppers, safe practices are a must. Available nationwide statistics, according to the National Safety Council, indicate that the harvest of hay claims more lives than the harvest of any other crop. Balers, field choppers, and moving machines are frequently involved.

For safer haying, Gienger offers the following suggestions:

1. Shut off the power before cleaning, oiling or adjusting any power driven machine.
2. Keep the power take-off and all other safety shields in place. They were put there to protect you.
3. Do not permit unnecessary passengers on loaded hay wagons. Falls from wagons, mows, silos, and stacks are far too frequent.
4. Handle tractors with care—particularly on public roads and in raking and mowing operations.
5. Packing ensilage in trench silos with tractors has proved highly hazardous. Operators should be well qualified and aware of the dangers.
6. Pitchforks must always be handled with caution. Hay safely. Don't contribute to the accident toll this year.

Turkey Egg Research Conducted

Study Under Way At Beltsville

COLLEGE PARK — Means of improving the fertility and hatchability of turkey eggs are a subject of research at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Beltsville, research center. Low fertility and hatchability of turkey eggs has long been a problem of the turkey industry, reports Dr. C. S. Shaffner, head of the University of Maryland poultry department.

At the start of the breeding season, breeders often use artificial light to lengthen the days and thus stimulate mating and egg production. But too much light causes early molt—a condition that in male birds is accompanied by reduced ability to fertilize eggs.

Hatchability of the eggs, on the other hand, depends upon good physical condition, good breeding, and adequate feeding of the turkey hens.

Work at Beltsville has shown that embryonic cell growth can develop in unfertilized turkey eggs as a result of parthenogenesis. (The few poults developed parthenogenetically rarely if ever survive and develop into adult birds. Almost all die before hatching, though of two such birds hatched recently at Beltsville one was kept alive for 18 days and the other for 22 days.)

Turkey eggs are usually purchased by hatcherymen on the basis of fertility as determined by candling the eggs under incubation. The Beltsville research has shown how parthenogenetic eggs may be mistaken for truly fertile eggs that can develop normal poults. Further study may indicate that a system enabling hatcherymen to purchase turkey eggs on the basis of hatchability should be worked out.

The USDA research now being carried out will also give greater knowledge of the frequency of parthenogenesis in mated flocks at various seasons. It will show, too, how fertility and hatchability in general is related to season.

River Group Proposes New Agreement

WESTERNPORT—At a meeting of the Mayor and Council Wednesday, William Walsh of the Upper Potomac River Commission proposed an agreement whereby the commission would pay the operating cost of Westernport's chlorination plant in the vicinity of Savage River Dam.

Persons having use of the water would be employes of the Savage River Dam, residents of Savage River Valley and Bloomington, and employes at the wood yard of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

The agreement also provides that Westernport will not move the chlorinator from its present location and that the commission make all normal repairs. However, the town would provide chlorine and gas for use in the chlorinator at all times, and spare parts. The commission would not operate the water system.

The agreement would be for one year, to be renewed annually. Either party could discontinue it after a notice of 30 days following expiration of the agreement period.

After the reading of the agreement by George P. DeWitt, town clerk, it was ordered tabled until after a meeting with the officials of the Bloomington Water Company.

Officials of the water company have been invited to meet with the Mayor and Council next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. to discuss the situation.

After the town's filtration plant is completed, Westernport will not need the chlorination plant for consumers of water in the local area.

St. George's Parish Stages Annual Picnic

MT. SAVAGE—St. George's parish held their annual picnic on Sunday at Constitution Park. The congregation was transported in the church bus and cars and upon arrival at Grove No. 1 a service was conducted by Wilson G. Sweene, superintendent of the Church School.

After lunch contests were held and a prize was awarded to the family of Harry Long for having the largest representation present. Everyone enjoyed a mid-afternoon swim and supper was served. Mrs. Carl Neder, secretary of the Church School, was in charge of games and contests and Harry T. Rice was the bus driver. A total of 105 persons attended the affair.

The scientific California prognosticator also predicts we'll some day be carrying around watch-pocket television sets. What's so good there? — we'll need a magnifying glass to learn if we're watching a prize fight or a battle between two ants.

Hancock Allotted Federal Aid

Hancock will be among the communities eligible for federal assistance as the result of the passage by Congress and signature by the President of federal water pollution control legislation.

In the past Hancock has been dumping its untreated sewage into the Potomac River.

Only recently, Hancock added a new section of the community to its sewerage system, increasing the amount of raw sewage it dumps into the river.

The federal grants to communities will be made available to pay part of the cost of constructing sewage treatment works, as provided in the bill's appropriations.

The fact that Washington, D. C., itself gets its water from the Potomac River, gave impetus to the legislation aimed at cleaning up the river of all forms of pollution.

It is understood that the State Department of Health may also require very shortly several other Washington county communities to build sewage treatment plants.

Paper Company, Union To Open Contract Talks

Contract discussions between the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and the United Paperworkers of America will begin July 31, the company announced yesterday.

The union is the bargaining agent for most of the hourly-paid employes of the company's mills at Luke, Covington, Va., and Williamsburg, Pa.

The contract discussions were suggested by the company late last month in Washington when the UPA presented wage demands to the firm under a reopening clause of the existing labor contract.

At that time, the company indicated it was willing to seek an agreement or renewal of the contract at an earlier date in order to make wage increases available to its employes sooner than the regular contract time.

Under the arrangement suggested by the company, the benefits obtained by a new contract would be effective immediately following ratification by the union locals.

Any new agreement would run for one or two years after the regular termination date of the present contract, which expires November 17, it was explained.

The union accepted the company's offer following membership meetings by the three plant locals this week.

County Business Conducted By Orr

County business is being conducted as usual although one commissioner is on vacation and another is ill, making only one available for conducting the office routine.

Despite the lack of a quorum, bills are being paid, the payrolls are approved and other papers signed.

They are taken to the home of the ill commissioner, C. N. Wilkinson, on DeHaven Road, by the county clerk, James Stevenson, and signed.

The papers are then signed at the Court House by Commissioner James Orr, who is "holding down the fort" while Commissioner Wilkinson is ill and Board President William H. Lemmert s on vacation.

Commissioner Lemmert is scheduled to return for the meeting of Tuesday, July 24. In the meantime, while Commissioner Wilkinson and Commissioner Lemmert are away, Commissioner Orr will be available during the regular meetings to confer with those having business before the board.

Storage Tank Painting Will Begin Today

Dennison Company Will Perform Work

WESTERNPORT—The Dennison Paint Company will begin painting the 590,000-gallon storage tank, inside and out, today.

The tank on Philos Avenue has now been tested for leaks and it was found to be satisfactory. After it has been repainted, the tank will be tested again for leaks. If none are found it will be accepted by the town. The tank is guaranteed for one year.

The other 34,000-gallon tank located on Chestnut Street, about 75 feet higher than the filtration plant now being built, has been tested and found to be satisfactory. It also will be repainted by the same company, sub-contractors from the George Construction Company. This tank will be filled with filtered water to be used for cleaning filters in the filtration plant.

Mayor Okey E. Michael stated at a meeting of the council Wednesday evening that the George Construction Company suggested that a different type of brick would make a better looking job on the town building. The mayor suggested that the commissioners make an inspection of other buildings being erected before making a final decision.

Harry M. Richards, inspector of the filtration plant project, said the contractor is about ready to pour the concrete for walls, settling basin and filter walls at the north end of the building.

Lee Haines of the Glace and Glace, consulting engineers of Harrisburg, Pa., presented vouchers for the George Construction Company for $7,600, which also includes some electric work at the filtration plant during June. Authorization of the payment of the bills was made by the Mayor and Commissioners.

Haines recommended that the stand-by storage tank on Philos Avenue be sterilized.

'THE BRAIN' COMES TO TOYLAND

TOYLAND is invaded by the electronic age with "the brain," one of 600 toys at the 10th annual Toy Guidance exhibit in New York. The unusual child's plaything is maneuvered by a mystifying "Z-man" in a variety of pre-set patterns which include firing guided missiles. The youngster seems suitably impressed. (International)

witness to that long-ago scene, writing in his diary the next day, tells us: 'Pealing bells, roaring cannon and the huzzas of people made a mixed thunder of noise that was almost frightening.' Long carpets were spread to a waiting carriage, but George Washington preferred to go on foot to the residence that had been prepared for him at Cherry Street. As he walked, he bowed gracefully every few steps, doffing his hat to the ladies who waved and threw flowers in his path."

President Washington, who deplored political parties and won all 69 electoral votes cast in the first presidential election, would have scratched the powder out of his wig trying to figure out an article in the current issue of "sponsor," a TV and radio trade journal. It's a debate between two advertising men on TV's impact and responsibilities in an election year.

"In some ways the Republicans tried to sell their 1952 presidential candidate like a tube of toothpaste, and to all indications, they'll be using TV in a similar way to sell their 1956 candidate," claims Lloyd G. Whitebrook, of Kastor, Farrell, Chesley and Clifford Agency. Conscientious research revealed that Mr. Whitebrook is a registered Democrat.

Rosser Reeves, chairman of the board of Ted Bates Co., the man behind Ike's 1952 "spots" on TV, retorts with: "Politicians have been using (sloganeering) announcements for time immemorial. I defy anyone to tell me what else Roosevelt said when he said, 'I see one-third of the people ill-fed, ill-clothed and ill-housed.' or, 'I promise you again and again and again, your sons will not fight in foreign wars.' These are statements of belief, political philosophy or political intent. If anyone yells 'toothpaste' just because they're short, they're in essence pleading for redundancy."

Should be a warm summer and fall.

On The Line
by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, July 12 (INS)—There's a rash of new books emerging for election-year reading. Fascinating stuff, generally.

Cornell Prof. Clinton Rossiter's provocative study "The American Presidency" has just emerged in a 35 cent edition. It's packed with facts, fables and features on presidents past and incumbent, and the nature of their awe-inspiring job.

"Government is people and it is just as simple as that. Get good people and you have good government. That is what I have tried to do," said Dwight David Eisenhower. Harry S. Truman put it another way: "There are probably a million people in this country who could do the presidential job better than I, but I've got the job and I'm doing the very best I can."

"The American Presidency" contains a valuable appendix, every word of the Constitution which bears on the presidency, including such dusty provisions as "when the president of the United States is tried, the chief justice shall preside."

Former Newsman Lamont Buchanan has put together a lively, informative, picture-and-cartoon-folled big book for Dutton called "Ballot for Americans." The old cartoons are more wonderful than the modern day photography. So must have been the arrival for inaugural ceremonies of presidents of the past. George Washington's, for example:

"The trip (from Mt. Vernon) was a triumphal procession. Repeatedly the President-elect was forced to halt to acknowledge the greetings of his countrymen along the way. Reaching Elizabethtown Point, New Jersey, Washington was feted by a group of officials and then put aboard a splendid barge specially built for the occasio, manned by 13 pilots resplendent in white uniforms. Other decorated barges joined the fleet of vessels, and the whole colorful flotilla moved slowly up the Bay of New York, viewed by thousands from the shore.

"When Washington's barge finally landed at Murray's Wharf, a

City Coin Club Plans Election

The Coin Club, sponsored by the City Recreation Department, has a busy agenda when it meets on Wednesday, July 18, at 7:30 p.m.

Daniel J. Flynn, president, announced yesterday that matters of importance coming before the meeting will be an election of a board of directors, a vote for or against incorporating the club, and also the naming of the organization.

A highlight of the meeting will be an auction of coins, and all members are requested to bring any odd coins which they may wish to auction.

A membership drive is now under way, and any person, whether adult or child, who is interested in the collection of coins, is invited to join the club and attend the July 18 meeting.

At present the club has some 35 registered members who meet monthly.

'Missing' Gas

Lauderbaugh replied indignantly that the estimate had "nothing to do with it." He said at the time of purchase the company was willing to pay 5.3 million for the property and "I still feel it's a good buy."

Lauderbaugh explained the estimates amount to only the best guess on the amount of gas under the ground. He said the area had proved to be of faulty formation, being completely devoid of gas in one portion and inundated with water in others.

While the overall increase under the company's proposed rates would be 11 per cent, Edward McLean, chief PSC auditor, pointed out that it would be 25 per cent to the average consumer. The largest household user would pay only 1 per cent more.

Not Enough For Service

The company defended this by saying the smallest user has not been charged enough to pay even the cost of the service, not counting the gas used.

At the end of the hearing, the company proposed a compromise in the rate which it proposed originally.

It wants to charge anyone using less than 200 cubic feet a month $1.75. The cost now is $1.50 for the first 1,000 and 83 cents for the next 1,000.

The company would charge 85 cents for 1,800 feet after 200.

The changes were questioned and the company then proposed $1.75 for the first 1,000 and 85 per 1,000 for the next 299,000.

They said they were not compromising on their request that the rates bring in $147,000 more a year.

The impact of their new compromise rate schedule would shift the burden to those home owners using gas for heating from those using it only for cooking and heating water.

Keegan Thanks Donors Of Old Radio Sets

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan yesterday voiced a "thank you" to the residents of Cumberland and surrounding area who gave discarded radios in a recent campaign conducted here.

Keegan said he appreciates receiving the radios and added that they will give hours of pleasure to afflicted children for whom the radios were sought.

Some 50 or more radios, large and small, were received in the campaign, Keegan added. Many radio parts were also received. Repairs were made to the sets as they were put in tip-top working order for the benefit of the children.

FCC Ups C&P Depreciation In 3 States

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Communications Commission today ordered upward revision of some of the depreciation rates of four Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone companies to reflect prospective early replacement of existing equipment with electronic switching systems.

The order covers C&P's Washington, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia divisions.

The adjustments, retroactive to Jan. 1, 1956, will result in a net increase of $1,089,000 in annual depreciation expense.

At the same time, the Commission also authorized two C&P telephone companies to acquire two independent exchanges in Virginia and West Virginia.

The Virginia division was authorized to buy the Twin-County Telephone Co. exchange in Henrico and Charles City counties, Va. for $125,000.

The West Virginia division of C&P was authorized to buy the inland Telephone and Telegraph Co. exchange at Middlebourne, W. Va., for $27,000.

Judges were Charlotte Murphy, Roy Miller and Earl Clark.

Miss Reynolds also announced the winners of the "On Wheels" parade which was held at the playlot yesterday.

George McCoy won the prize for the most original; prettiest, Pat Ritter; funniest, Gene Combs; smallest, Mike Ritter, and Bonnie Parks had the largest.

Judges for this contest were Jim Davis, Linda Miller and Ray Welsh.

ESB Decision Is Appealed

The United Insurance Company yesterday filed an appeal in Allegany County Circuit Court from a June 29 decision of the Maryland Employment Security Board.

The appeal, filed by Attorney William A. Gunter, disclosed that the ESB ruled that Frank P. Kelly, the claimant, was in covered employment from the week ending July 12, 1954, to the date of his separation from employment and requiring the employer, the United Insurance Company, to pay contributions on his aggregate earnings during that period.

Uncontradicted evidence shows that services performed by Kelly as an insurance agent or insurance solicitor were remunerated solely by way of commissions within the meaning of the Maryland Unemployment Insurance Law, according to Gunter.

Steel Workers Get Married During Strike

One explanation for the heavy marriage license business being conducted at the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, is that many steel workers from the Pittsburgh area are coming here to get married while the strike is in progress.

"I don't want to miss any time from work once the strike is settled," said one of the marriage-minded steel workers.

At least 11 of the approximately 120 men who have obtained marriage licenses here so far in July have listed their occupation as steel worker or mill worker.

Westernport Church Asks Help From City

Baptists Erecting New Building

WESTERNPORT — A delegation from Christ Memorial Baptist Church conferred with the Mayor and Council Wednesday night about a new church the congregation is building on Roosevelt Street in Highland Park Addition.

The delegation told the Council that the Potomac Edison Company has agreed to put up two light poles at the site if the city would place a light on the second pole. The request was referred to Commissioner Ray L. Wilt.

The church officials also asked that a curb line be established at the site, and that arrangements be made for water and sewerage.

Members of the Council agreed to run a temporary water line to the building during construction, and a request for permanent assistance was referred to Commissioner Alvin Pence. The curb request was referred to Commissioner Maurice Brundige.

The delegation included Alonzo Riggleman, chairman of the deacons; Rev. Hugh M. Maynard, pastor; William R. Riley, Alfred Harris and William Bosley.

The deed for a 30-foot right of way donated to the town by the Maybury-Poland Realty Company, was accepted after being approved by Horace P. Whitworth, town attorney.

Council ordered that one of the rooms of the Maryland Bureau of Mines in the second floor of the city building be remodeled to be used for a rest room, and that the two office rooms and stairway be repainted.

Payment of $2,970 was ordered paid to Liller Brothers Asphalt Company of Cumberland, for the hard-surfacing Central Avenue, Quality and Miller Street.

Funds Approved For Bridge Over Potomac

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The House passed by voice vote and sent to the Senate today a bill appropriating $1,555,539,305 for miscellaneous federal activities. Most of it is for military construction.

There was little controversy over the $1,447,450,000 for Army, Navy and Air Force construction in the United States and abroad. The main fight was over $14,325,000 to build a bridge between Virginia and Maryland near Washington.

Rep. Gross (R-Iowa) failed in his efforts to eliminate funds for the new bridge, to be known as the Woodrow Wilson Memorial Bridge, across the Potomac River. Gross claimed the federal government should not pay for an interstate span which "has nothing but an indirect approach to relieving congestion in the District of Columbia." His move to eliminate the money failed by a roll call vote of 369-24.

The bill's total was $332,690,000 more than President Eisenhower had requested, but the increase was offset by cancellation of previously appropriated funds in excess of 365 million dollars.

Included in the total was $44,920,000 for construction of a new State Department building here and 49 million dollars to build a new home for the Central Intelligence Agency.

"Mile Of Dollar Bills" Will Aid Grantsville Church

GRANTSVILLE — While Friday the thirteenth is presumably a superstitious day for many people, for the Men's Brotherhood of Grantsville Methodist Church it will mean the culmination of a drive to secure a "Mile of Dollar Bills."

A ceremony to mark the rolling out of the bills will take place today at 10 a. m. (DST) and continue until dark.

The campaign was launched several months ago to secure funds for the improvement program at the church. A basement has been constructed and a new heating plant was installed. These added facilities will permit a better all around church program, including an accelerated program for the youth of the community.

W. Va. Fire School Set For July 23

MORGANTOWN — Ben E. Harris of the University of Alabama will be the first speaker when West Virginia University opens its 26th annual West Virginia State Fire School on July 23.

Harris is one of a number of outstanding fire protection authorities listed as participants in the five-day program by R. E. Hanna Jr., superintendent of industrial extension at the university and director of the fire school.

Also included on the speaking program are A.L.P. Schmeichel of Charleston, chief engineer of the West Virginia Inspection Bureau; Harry H. Wolff of Chicago, field officer of the fire prevention department, Western Actuarial Bureau; Arthur P. Dunlap of South Charleston, representing the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corporation; and Warren Y. Kimball of Boston, manager of the fire services department, National Fire Association.

Participating in other program features will be the following:

Panel discussion of rural fire protection — L. E. Shingledecker of Columbus, Ohio, supervisor of fire safety for the Nationwide Insurance Company; Charles R. Scott, also of Columbus, Ohio State fire marshal, and E. Wade Thomas of Ravenswood, supervisor of the plant protection department, Kaiser Aluminum Corporation.

Symposium on the fireman's role in arson detection — C. A. Raper of Charleston, West Virginia State fire marshal; Richard C. Steinmetz of Chicago, chief special agent of the Mutual Investigation Bureau; Walter J. LaRue of Dover, Delaware State fire marshal; Robert W. Knight of Harrisburg, Pa., special agent for the National Board of Fire Underwriters, and C. R. Cobb of Charleston, arson investigator with the office of the State Fire Marshal.

Sponsoring the fire school are the University School of Mines, the State Fire Marshal and the West Virginia Inspection Bureau.

Gienger Suggest Ways To Reduce Farm Accidents

COLLEGE PARK — "Common sense can prevent many haying accidents," says Guy W. Gienger, University of Maryland extension agricultural engineer. "Operation of power machinery requires know-how and good judgment," he states.

With present widespread use of balers and field choppers, safe practices are a must. Available nationwide statistics, according to the National Safety Council, indicate that the harvest of hay claims more lives than the harvest of any other crop. Balers, field choppers, and moving machines are frequently involved.

For safer haying, Gienger offers the following suggestions:

1. Shut off the power before cleaning, oiling or adjusting any power driven machine.

2. Keep the power take-off and all other safety shields in place. They were put there to protect you.

3. Do not permit unnecessary passengers on loaded hay wagons. Falls from wagons, mows, silos, and stacks are far too frequent.

4. Handle tractors with care—particularly on public roads and in raking and mowing operations.

5. Packing ensilage in trench silos with tractors has proved highly hazardous. Operators should be well qualified and aware of the dangers.

6. Pitchforks must always be handled with caution. Hay safely. Don't contribute to the accident toll this year.

Turkey Egg Research Conducted

Study Under Way At Beltsville

COLLEGE PARK — Means of improving the fertility and hatchability of turkey eggs are a subject of research at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Beltsville, research center. Low fertility and hatchability of turkey eggs has long been a problem of the turkey industry, reports Dr. C. S. Shaffner, head of the University of Maryland poultry department.

At the start of the breeding season, breeders often use artificial light to lengthen the days and thus stimulate mating and egg production. But too much light causes early molt—a condition that in male birds is accompanied by reduced ability to fertilize eggs.

Hatchability of the eggs, on the other hand, depends upon good physical condition, good breeding, and adequate feeding of the turkey hens.

Work at Beltsville has shown that embryonic cell growth can develop in unfertilized turkey eggs as a result of parthenogenesis. (The few poults developed parthenogenetically rarely if ever survive and develop into adult birds. Almost all die before hatching, though of two such birds hatched recently at Beltsville one was kept alive for 18 days and the other for 22 days.)

Turkey eggs are usually purchased by hatcherymen on the basis of fertility as determined by candling the eggs under incubation. The Beltsville research has shown how parthenogenetic eggs may be mistaken for truly fertile eggs that can develop normal poults. Further study may indicate that a system enabling hatcherymen to purchase turkey eggs on the basis of hatchability should be worked out.

The USDA research now being carried out will also give greater knowledge of the frequency of parthenogenesis in mated flocks at various seasons. It will show, too, how fertility and hatchability in general is related to season.

River Group Proposes New Agreement

WESTERNPORT—At a meeting of the Mayor and Council Wednesday, William Walsh of the Upper Potomac River Commission proposed an agreement whereby the commission would pay the operating cost of Westernport's chlorination plant in the vicinity of Savage River Dam.

Persons having use of the water would be employes of the Savage River Dam, residents of Savage River Valley and Bloomington, and employes at the wood yard of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

The agreement also provides that Westernport will not move the chlorinator from its present location and that the commission make all normal repairs. However, the town would provide chlorine and gas for use in the chlorinator at all times, and spare parts. The commission would not operate the water system.

The agreement would be for one year, to be renewed annually. Either party could discontinue it after a notice of 30 days following expiration of the agreement period.

After the reading of the agreement by George P. DeWitt, town clerk, it was ordered tabled until after a meeting with the officials of the Bloomington Water Company.

Officials of the water company have been invited to meet with the Mayor and Council next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. to discuss the situation.

After the town's filtration plant is completed, Westernport will not need the chlorination plant for consumers of water in the local area.

St. George's Parish Stages Annual Picnic

MT. SAVAGE—St. George's parish held their annual picnic on Sunday at Constitution Park. The congregation was transported in the church bus and cars and upon arrival at Grove No. 1 a service was conducted by Wilson G. Sweene, superintendent of the Church School.

After lunch contests were held and a prize was awarded to the family of Harry Long for having the largest representation present. Everyone enjoyed a mid-afternoon swim and supper was served. Mrs. Carl Neder, secretary of the Church School, was in charge of games and contests and Harry T. Rice was the bus driver. A total of 105 persons attended the affair.

The scientific California prognosticator also predicts we'll some day be carrying around watch-pocket television sets. What's so good there? — we'll need a magnifying glass to learn if we're watching a prize fight or a battle between two ants.

Polish Rebellion Exposes Tyranny

What happened at Poznan, Poland, has exposed —for all the world to see—how intolerable conditions are in that unhappy nation under red rule.

Thousands of unarmed individuals do not expose themselves to tanks and machine guns in an utterly hopeless gesture of rebellion unless the oppression they live under is so bad that death is no longer to be feared.

This Polish riot for more bread and for better living conditions has put the Kremlin's new policy of leniency to a severe test. It has proved again what the Russians should have learned from their own bloody history, that tyrants cannot relax like other men.

Tyranny breeds hatred and loathing so deep and fierce that it will seek an outlet the moment the iron grip is eased.

Whatever happens now, the scores of men and women who were slaughtered by Red troops did not sacrifice their lives in vain. Their revolt was staged, no doubt intentionally, in full view of many visitors from the West who were in Poznan for the annual industrial fair.

These visitors saw with their own eyes that the spirit of liberty still burns bright in Poland despite every effort of the Red tyrants to crush it under heel. And they know that millions are still starving under the facade of Red industrial progress and scores are being shot and hundreds jailed for any show of independence behind the mask of benevolent Red smiles.

All that has changed is that hope is now rising both in Poland and the free world that the new tyrants, the heirs of Stalin, are uncertain of their power and that rebellion may expose their weakness.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The New Word Is Moderate

It used to be that when men were uncertain as to where they wanted to go, they said that they walked in the middle-of-the-road. As they did not define the width of the road, it was impossible by logic, calculus or logarithms to determine where the precise middle was. Prior to this fanciful term there was one that described the left-of-center or right-of-center. But as the center was doubtful, it was altogether impossible to know precisely what was meant.

Assumedly, if a person said that he was left-of-center, he meant that his leanings were toward Karl Marx in some matters, particularly the economic. But in religion, he might be a Calvinist or a High Church Episcopalian, and in manners he might be a follower of Lord Chesterfield.

Now we have a new term which takes on several forms: Moderate, Moderation, Moderate Conservative. The term has little meaning because a moderate conservative is a person who is a conservative but prefers to be regarded as not altogether one. It would seem that those who so describe themselves are dodging the old label, Republican, from which they cannot quite free themselves because it is on the ballot. They do not care to call themselves Democrats, because that would involve them in circumstances that might result in defeat. So they have adopted the term, moderate conservative, and go in for wishful thinking that no one would take the trouble to inquire into what their moderation amounts to.

A conservative is one who believes that the trials and errors of civilization, the risks and gains in history have produced a body of experience from which it is unwise to depart rapidly. He therefore conserves the best product of human experience, not expecting that the world can be changed in a life-time. He is not a preserver of ancient forms but a conservator of that which has worked out to be beneficial. Generally he accepts certain absolutes: in religion, for instance, God; in biology, that man is a created being; in philosophy, he accepts free will; in economics, capitalism; in politics, he believes in the right of a people to choose their own government but he does not believe that government is all-wise, all-competent or should be all-powerful.

Now what does a moderate conservative believe to be true? I do not know. I do not know how to distinguish a moderate conservative from any other kind of conservative. Both President Eisenhower and Candidate Stevenson have hooked on to this term; therefore we are likely to hear much about moderates and moderation during the next few months, but it is too much to anticipate that anyone will bother to provide an analyzable definition. Politicians are not supposed to be definers and do not hire speechwriters with such qualifications.

Another term often used to des... ervative is defeatist. If, for instance, one is sh... that so competent and knowledgeable a person as General Nathan Twining should say that Soviet Russia, which manufactured no military airplanes of international recognition in 1938, has, by 1956, done as well as or better than the United States which in 1938 was the principal manufacturer of this commodity, he is likely to be called a defeatist. What is desired these days is that one should smile broadly like a movie actor posing for a still picture no matter what horrible error of judgment or action he encounters.

Actually the defeatist, if one can define such a term, is the person who takes what comes. The American who lets out a rip-roaring howl whenever he encounters official incompetence is not a defeatist but an incorrigible optimist who still believes in the power of the people and that they will right all wrongs if only they possess the facts.

There are still such incorrigible optimists in the United States who are not influenced by Karl Marx or John Maynard Keynes and who still believe that simple arithmetic proves a few facts of living and that if a nation spends its wealth profligately, it is bound to go broke, but that in a representative republic all wrongs can be righted by the will and choice of the people.

Curiously such people do not lose hope, not even when they view the prospects of the 1956 election.

The Mugwump—With His Mug On Their Side

'Liberals' Try To Fix Blame For Foreign Aid Cut

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—The so-called "liberals" are having no difficulty nowadays fixing the blame for the refusal of Congress to continue its "giveaways" to foreign countries in as large a quantity as before. They are saying that President Eisenhower is culpable. The line taken is that somehow the President did not browbeat Congress, that he did not exercise leadership, or that he was sick or indifferent or something.

But the truth is the sponsors of bigger programs of foreign aid are themselves largely responsible for the failure of Congress to appropriate as much or even more money than the President requested.

For the palpable propaganda to get Congress to spend more money abroad was started a few months ago by the so-called "liberals" and was carried on vigorously by their auxiliaries here and abroad, particularly by certain sections of the press and even by many members of the New York City clique who have access to the President. They overplayed their hand. Members of Congress became suspicious and resentful.

The argument was widely made that America was too much concerned with "military alliances," that this was a time to "win men's minds," that what was needed was something "imaginative" in the way of foreign policy, that the United States must not insist on extending aid to foreign countries "with strings attached," and that the Russians were being successful in their policies of "competitive coexistence." Also a lot of dispatches were coincidentally sent from abroad designed to prove that America was "losing prestige."

The Congress, however, didn't fall for any of this, though there were a few speeches planted here in Congress by the so-called "liberals" to emphasize their arguments. Such speeches were difficult for some of the Democrats to make because their own brethren simultaneously were engaged in cutting down the President's program in an effort to put him on the spot.

As a matter of fact, if political theory were realistically applied, the finger of criticism would be pointed today not at President Eisenhower but at the Democratic Party which controls both Houses of Congress. The Democratic leaders told the nation in the 1954 campaign that they would cooperate with the Republican President. The rank and file of the Democrats, however, have not followed their own leadership.

So today the song is different. Now it's the President who is said to be at fault "for not leading vigorously enough," and it's the Republicans in his own party who are being held responsible by these critics. Indeed, the President is being openly urged to split with his own party, to call his own leaders names, to "purge" them.

All this overlooks the plain fact that for nearly twenty years now no party in Congress has been sure of a majority on important issues and no President has been able to "lead" his party in that sense. The reason is that there are four major blocs in Congress. Both parties are divided.

Mr. Eisenhower's "leadership," for example, isn't a bit more effective than was Mr. Truman's or Mr. Roosevelt's on legislative issues. Thus, Mr. Truman faced continuously a split Democratic party on civil rights and on labor legislation. The Taft-Hartley Act was passed over his veto by a coalition of Democrats and Republicans. Mr. Roosevelt again and again had the same experience with such a coalition. It beat his Supreme Court bill. He tried the "purge" system — butting into party primaries—and lost in almost every instance. Yet Mr. Eisenhower is being urged today to intervene in the Wisconsin Republican primary and thus assure victory for a Democratic nominee.

As leadership goes, Mr. Eisenhower is doing about as well as can be expected in dealing with a Southern Democratic bloc that is against federal aid for education, a Northern Democratic bloc that wants it, a Republican bloc of independents who vote against "giveaways" of all kinds and a Republican bloc of Administration stalwarts who go along with him on almost everything.

The internationally-minded spenders ought, however, to be happy with the results. They should consider themselves lucky to get $4,000,000,000 out of Congress. The other $900,000,000 which has been cut out of the program will go for armament. The Air Force enthusiasts will see to that, and, incidentally, isn't it a Democratic Senator who is leading the fight for more and more money for air power and an unbalanced budget? One wonders how a Republican President can exercise "leadership" over Democrats in Congress who are aspirants for the Presidency.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Remember 1932-1952 when the Democrats were indoors so long they scrapped the Weather Bureau?

That twenty-year spree in subsidized cubicles sprains the two-party system on which equal representation is gingerly balanced.

The Democrats took it in their stride like it was a mat marked welcome, stranger. Along about 1940 they edited the floor motto to just welcome.

Now the Republicans indicate a friendly sharpened yen to run some buttons on the administrative abacus. If they can yodel from the desk tops they don't worry about the echoes in the valley.

The Democrats are resisting that partisan impulse, tooth, nail and microphone. They claim another term for the GOP will honeycomb the beehive from which all emoluments buzz.

The Republicans insist what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. Also for the ducks, the drakes and all the other birds.

Ike's Brother-In-Law Is Doing Well In Legitimate 'Influence' Business

By Drew Pearson

(Ed. Note—The brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Go Round, today goes to President Eisenhower's brother-in-law, a quiet but potent personage in the capital).

WASHINGTON—The least publicized relative of President Eisenhower, his brother-in-law, Col. Gordon Moore, is a soft-spoken, mild-mannered, retired Army officer who sits in a well-appointed but not overly ornate office in Washington's Walker Building.

All around him on the walls are mute reminders of his relationship to the first family—an oil painting of Ike as a five-star general, photos of Ike and Mamie, pictorial highlights of the President's career.

Colonel Moore is not a man you would pick out in a crowd. He is gray-haired, well-groomed, self-effacing—almost the typical retired Army officer transplanted to civilian boredom. He has none of the vivaciousness of his sister-in-law, Mamie, or his wife, Mike, who is Mamie's sister.

Officially Colonel Moore is an expediter of airline business and a lender of money to nonsked airlines. In the days when the stanchly Republican New York Herald Tribune was launching its campaign against Harry Truman and the five-percenters, he would have been branded as such. But one doesn't use that term with Republican expediters of business any more.

You can't help liking the Colonel when you sit down to talk with him.

"I'm just an old soldier trying to make a living," he explains self-deprecatingly.

When you examine his business and compare it with his precarious pecuniary status shortly before his brother-in-law entered the White House, however, the conclusion is inescapable that he has done well. Like some of the lawyers and lobbyists who hung Truman's autographer picture on the wall and later got investigated by the Senate, Colonel Moore has prospered. He has not, however, been investigated.

Streetcar Sale

Colonel Moore's name was potently passed around Washington financial circles last week as a result of the biggest transportation deal in D. C. history—the $13,540,000 sale of the Capital Transit Company which supplies the streetcars and buses for the capital's ambulatory population.

For months, various groups had made offers to buy Washington's bus and streetcar system. Then suddenly, at a surprise midnight meeting, an offer was accepted from O. Roy Chalk, millionaire owner of Trans-Caribbean Airways. Similar or better offers were rejected.

In putting across his sudden deal to run the transit system, Chalk had the assistance of both Colonel Moore and his attorney, Edward F. Colladay, close to the Republican National Committee.

Chalk, however, went out of his way to conceal Moore's connection.

For two weeks he ducked inquiries from this column. He even instructed the Willard Hotel to deny he was registered there, though staying in room 601. His business partner, Morris Fox, blandly denied that Ike's brother-in-law had anything to do with the deal.

It has now been definitely established, however, that Colonel Moore introduced Chalk to Robert C. Baker, executive director of the American Security and Trust and a Capital transit director that he telephoned Harry McDonald, a rival bidder, and urged him to get together with Chalk, not compete with him; and Colonel Moore franker than his associates, acknowledged to this column that he had helped put the deal across "in a small way."

Fortune's Rise In 1952

The careers of Roy Chalk and the President's brother-in-law have been inextricably intertwined ever since the spring of 1952 when Chalk took a long-shot gamble that General Eisenhower would be the next President of the USA. At that time Colonel Moore's economic fortunes were at a low ebb, so low that he and his wife had offered to sell their house.

At this point Chalk hired Moore for $6,500 to handle public relations for the independent Military Air Transport Association.

Moore was hired three times and fired twice before the Republican Convention in 1952. He was fired and rehired as Ike's fortunes ebbed and flowed. The last time he was fired by the Military Transport Association Chalk stepped in and hired him directly for Trans-Caribbean. They went to the GOP Convention together, and a week after Ike was nominated, Colonel Moore was promoted to vice president of Trans-Caribbean.

Business Booms

Almost overnight, Moore blossomed out with his own business. He lent money, as a broker, to small airlines and trucking companies.

What he does is borrow money from American Security and Trust, then turn around and lend the money to the small companies as an advance on payments they have coming from the government. As his commission, he takes out 1.5 per cent.

Two airlines executives told this column they could get the same service for half Moore's commission, but they pay Moore extra for his political influence. Moore also arranges direct loans for small airlines through American Security and Trust, charging a middleman's profit.

How a man of Moore's 1952 income of $6,500 could suddenly start doing a million-dollar business with American Security and Trust is a mystery. The bank's president, Daniel W. Bell, former Under-secretary of the Treasury, told this column he could not discuss a client's business.

Colonel Moore's home on Klingle Street is no longer up for sale. He and his wife are frequent visitors at the White House. He sat with Mamie and Mrs. Moore just behind Ike as his brother-in-law gave his historic televised statement to the nation that he would run again. Colonel Moore was on view before millions of people—including his airline and trucking clients.

There's nothing wrong with the business Colonel Moore conducts. He merely benefits from having friends in high places. And fortunately the New York Herald Tribune, which crusaded against these things in Truman's day, is handed the minutes of Eisenhower Cabinet meetings today. It isn't likely to do much crusading any more.

Inside Washington

By Central Press

WASHINGTON — Top experts on conditions behind the Iron Curtain believe that the riots in Poland may be followed by similar incidents in other nations under the heel of the Russian Bear.

A leading authority on Poland itself made this comment: "The riots quite probably may be followed by other acts of patriotic violence against Communist despotism, not only in Poland but in other captive nations as well."

The State department feels that the Polish uprising is more evidence that Russia is losing its grip over control of its satellites, particularly in Eastern Europe.

Shortly before the outbreak, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles issued a special statement in which he declared that the Kremlin's control of Communist movements in foreign countries has been greatly impaired.

Veep Candidate — the hottest behind-the-scenes battle at the Democratic national convention this may involve the selection of a vice presidential candidate.

Many Democratic politicians are now convinced that Adlai Stevenson has the inside track to the Number One spot on the ticket and they are eagerly pushing their choice for his running mate.

At the present time, the best bets for the No. 2 place appear to be Senator John B. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Tennessee's Gov. Frank Clement, Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, and New York City's Mayor Robert Wagner.

Of course, all of these are Stevenson supporters and should the ex-Illinois governor fail to win the presidential nomination, their chances would go out the window.

Kennedy picked up strong backing at the recent governors' conference in Atlantic City and is the top contender. Humphrey, however, is being pushed by midwest Democrats and Clement could get the nod if Stevenson feels he should solidify his southern support. Wagner is a darkhorse, whose selection might depend on a deadlock.

Nixon's foes—Republican leaders are worried over the persistent campaign being pressed "underground" in an attempt to prevent Vice President Richard M. Nixon's renomination. Nixon's foes were able to keep his name off the petition, unanimously signed by Republican governors, urging President Eisenhower to run again.

In another direction, some Republicans declined to rally to Nixon's defense when Democrats sought to link him to the activities of his former campaign manager, Los Angeles lawyer Murray Chotiner, the recent target of a Senate investigation.

The anti-Nixon group is motivated by a theory that because he has aroused such enmity among Democrats, the vice president should be dropped from the ticket in favor of a less aggressive politician.

Seasoned observers, however, expect Nixon to survive the latest "dump Dick" drive. They reason that both President Eisenhower and GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall are so firmly pro-Nixon that efforts to oust him are doomed to failure.

Complications for keynoter—Gov. Arthur Langlie of Washington state, who has been picked to deliver the keynote address at the Republican convention in San Francisco, is in the middle of a difficult situation at home.

Langlie is seeking the seat now held by Senator Warren Magnuson (D), Washington, and, being the Republican candidate, would be expected to get strong support from the business groups of his state.

However, powerful businessmen are behind a drive to put the "right-to-work" issue on Washington state ballots this November. They want a law banning labor-management contracts which bar Langlie is opposed to this. He, therefore, faces an uphill battle in his race for the Senate.

Anemia Treatment Depends On Cause Of Condition

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

It took 25 years to sell the American public on the idea that fever is not a disease. An equal length of time was required to convince the layman that high blood pressure has many origins and in this respect, is a manifestation of several conditions. Currently we are trying to do the same with anemia.

The woman who tells her bridge club friends she is anemic is telling only half the story. Her physician also is negligent when he makes no attempt to find the origin of the blood condition, as the cause is the secret to treatment. It is surprising how quickly anemia is eliminated when the responsibile factors are corrected.

An iron deficiency anemia is best treated with iron. All the folic acid, liver, and vitamin B12 in the drug store are of no value. Furthermore, to take an all-purpose hematinic containing all the "blood building ingredients known to man" is a waste of money. In addition, many of these shotgun remedies are useless because they contain homeopathic amounts.

Inadequate treatment of this type of anemia has many disadvantages. First and foremost, the individual does not get well. If he has ordinary anemia he spends months or years feeling under par, tired, and crabby.

Anemia may represent more than an iron deficiency. It is associated with a variety of conditions such as liver and kidney disease, tuberculosis, rheumatoid arthritis, and cancer.

It is a catastropne, for example, to take vitamins, liver, or iron to correct anemia only to discover months later that cancer of the stomach or intestine is responsible. Valuable time has been lost and the chances for recovery are reduced.

Anemia is defined as a reduction in the number of red blood cells or the amount of hemoglobin (coloring matter) in the blood. Iron is the main ingredient of hemoglobin. The body contains three to four grams of iron of which half is in the blood; the remainder is stored in various tissues. Anemia does not develop until the iron in these depots is exhausted.

The body conserves its supply of this mineral and loss occurs only through bleeding as in accidents, menstruation, and in pregnancy. More is needed during growth. The best way to obtain it is in food. In the nonbleeding adult it takes three to six years to become anemic on a diet completely devoid of iron.

TOMORROW: Corn and X-rays produce gas.

LIVER AND ANEMIA

M. W. writes: A person is taking liver extract in liquid and pill form for anemia. Do you know why his red blood count does not go up with this medicine?

REPLY

This is an old story to most physicians because the term, anemia, covers a multitude of sins. What type of anemia does he have? What is the cause? If it is due to shortage of iron, all the liver in the world will not help. If pernicious anemia is present, liver is of value but best results are obtained when it is injected rather than taken by mouth. Anemia from blood loss is difficult to correct unless bleeding is controlled.

HEART DISEASES

Mrs. L. writes: How many different kinds of heart disease are there?

REPLY

Twelve or more main types but the most common are those due to arteriosclerosis, high blood pressure, rheumatic fever, and congenital defects.

WHOOPING COUGH

S. C. writes: My children were exposed to whooping cough two weeks ago. They never have had the disease but received the injctions. Are they safe?

REPLY

Yes, because cough usually appears within two weeks if the exposed child has been infected. The vaccine may not offer complete protection but there's no need for concern. Should whooping cough develop after the protective shots, it usually is mild and recovery is the rule.

LAZY LIMBS

S. L. writes: Why is it that when I wake up my arms and legs stay asleep?

REPLY

The sensation of numbness and tingling stegs from lying on a nerve. Several moments may pass after easing pressure before the feeling disappears. Shake the extremities vigorously and they will wake up.

NERVOUS DISORDER

M. S. writes: What could you tell me about Guillain-Barre syndrome?

REPLY

In this disease, progressive paralysis starts in the lower extremities and moves upward. Recovery usually can be expected, particularly in children. The condition is easily confused with polio.

NOT SELF-SUFFICIENT

C. T. writes: Is there something wrong with the mind of a person who can't be alone? She has to have someone around all the time to talk to and if no one is in the house she spends hours on the phone.

REPLY

This woman needs the expert care of a psychiatrist. She may be depressed or plagued with hallucinations. She is afraid she might harm herself or that someone is plotting to kill her.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A famous movie star who was being analyzed (of course) told her doctor that one recurring dream was really giving her the heebie-jeebies. "I keep dreaming that I'm walking down Hollywood Boulevard without a stitch of clothing on my back," she confessed. "What does that mean, Doctor?"

"It all depends on how you react to the dream," said her analyst. "Are you embarrassed?"

"Definitely," the star declared. "I'm always wearing last year's hat!"

You're Telling Me!

Prehistoric bones recently found in Italy may cause the man-descended-from-apes theory to be discarded, declare paleontologists. Say—who's been trying to make monkeys of who?

The way those Cincinnati Red Legs are clouting that baseball, opines Zadok Dumkopf, one would think they are mad at it.

Meanwhile, Betcha Dollar Dennis moans that the horse race tips he's been getting lately have been so hot they've burned a hole in his pocket.

A cigaret-smoking college student and a tobacco-abstaining medico will stage a climbing race up Pike's Peak in August. We're willing to wager they'll both be puffing at the finish.

It's 14,110 feet up to the top of Pike's Peak. That's a mighty long drag — even for non-smokers.

A deck of playing cards can be arranged in 80 duodecillion (that's eight plus 40 zeros) different combinations. We'll accept that — who can prove it's wrong?

Storage Tank Painting Will Begin Today

Dennison Company Will Perform Work

WESTERNPORT—The Dennison Paint Company will begin painting the 590,000-gallon storage tank, inside and out, today.

The tank on Philos Avenue has now been tested for leaks and it was found to be satisfactory. After it has been repainted, the tank will be tested again for leaks. If none are found it will be accepted by the town. The tank is guaranteed for one year.

The other 34,000-gallon tank located on Chestnut Street, about 75 feet higher than the filtration plant now being built, has been tested and found to be satisfactory. It also will be repainted by the same company, sub-contractors from the George Construction Company. This tank will be filled with filtered water to be used for cleaning filters in the filtration plant.

Mayor Okey E. Michael stated at a meeting of the council Wednesday evening that the George Construction Company suggested that a different type of brick would make a better looking job on the town building. The mayor suggested that the commissioners make an inspection of other buildings being erected before making a final decision.

Harry M. Richards, inspector of the filtration plant project, said the contractor is about ready to pour the concrete for walls, settling basin and filter walls at the north end of the building.

Lee Haines of the Glace and Glace, consulting engineers of Harrisburg, Pa., presented vouchers for the George Construction Company for $7,600, which also includes some electric work at the filtration plant during June. Authorization of the payment of the bills was made by the Mayor and Commissioners.

Haines recommended that the stand-by storage tank on Philos Avenue be sterilized.

Large Crowd Sees Moorefield Event

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Woody Edmundson, regarded as one of the best stunt pilots in America, participated in the Fourth Of July Air Show sponsored by the Civil Air Patrol at the local municipal airport.

A resident of Lynchburg, Va., Edmundson flew to the port in his new Bonanza from Washington, D. C., and brought along Ray Coffman, who thrilled the crowd with his parachute jump.

Fog and low hanging clouds prevented the arrival of many private planes although 17 planes managed to get here.

First Lt. William C. Goetz, officer in charge of the Moorefield Civil Air Patrol Squadron, reports that the show was a success and expresses his thanks to the various organizations and individuals who assisted in making the show a success.

Miss Carol Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Harper Jr., was named "Miss Civil Air Patrol" and crowned queen at the beauty contest.

T. C. Keiter was awarded a television set presented at the show while Mary F. Whitemont, Keyser, was awarded a shot gun. J. W. Custer, Blaine, H. Vernon Custer, Washington, and Mrs. W. L. Hyssong were awarded airplane rides.

Keep Meats Stored In Refrigerator

Almost all fresh, cured, and cooked meats must be kept under refrigeration if you wish to enjoy the original fine flavor of the meat.

Fresh meat should be kept loosely covered in the coldest part of the refrigerator. The inner wrapping paper used by the meat dealer makes an excellent covering. Rewrapping the meat loosely allows a circulation of air around the meat which lengthens its keeping quality. Do not wash the meat. Bone dust if present can be lightly scraped from the surface.

Cooked meat should always be closely wrapped or covered tightly when refrigerated. Use a tightly covered container or wrap in foil to preserve the flavor of cooked meat.

Modern type cured and smoked meats should be stored under refrigeration because their keeping quality resembles more nearly that of fresh meat. Canned hams, except those weighing 3 pounds or less, must be kept in the refrigerator according to the directions on each can. Other canned meats, when the label does not specify refrigeration, may be kept on the pantry shelf.

Frozen meat must be kept at 0° F. or lower. It is not wise to refreeze meat which has been frozen and thawed. Meat loses some of its natural juices when it is thawed and then refrozen. This, of course, will make the cooked product less juicy, too.

Itinerant coconut pickers in Johore, Malaya, use monkeys to help them harvest the fruit. Controlled by leashes, the pickers' pets clamber up tall palms and twist off the coconuts.

The African elephant grows to a height of 11 feet and attains a weight of as much as six tons.

COLD CUTS SMORGASBORD—A cold cuts platter, offering salami, liver sausage, luncheon loaf, spiced ham, and deviled eggs, is the basis of this smorgasbord for four. Add a basket of assorted breads, a relish tray, cup cakes for dessert, and iced coffee or tea and the menu is complete. Shown are only a few of the more than 100 ready-to-eat meats now available to make summer meal preparation easy.

Easy Summer Cooking: Cold Cuts Smorgasbord

There's no trouble at all in preparing a cold cuts smorgasbord for four! Simply stop at the market and order a selection of ready-to-eat meats. Combine a variety of the meats with a few deviled eggs, add some relishes, breads, beverages and a quick dessert, and you've a menu that's sure to make the mountinng temperature a forgettable event.

The nutrition-packed meal may be as varied as the cook chooses, though a generous supply of the cold cuts will not only add interest to the meat platter but supply essential protein, too. Keep cold cuts tightly wrapped in your refrigerator and use within a week. Here's a menu suggestion:

Cold Cuts Smorgasbord

Cold Cuts Platter
(Salami, Liver Sausage, Luncheon Meat, Ham Sausage, Deviled Eggs)
Basket of Assorted Breads
Relish Tray: Carrot Sticks, Green Onions
Dill Pickles, Radish Roses, Ray Cauliflowerets
Spiced Cup Cakes
Iced Tea or Coffee

Some of the most popular of the more than 100 varieties of cold cuts available include these:

Salami—Highly seasoned, air-dried sausage, containing just the right amount of garlic. Wonderful sliced for cold meat platters and sandwiches, or slivered for use in salads and soups.

Bologna—Big brother to the frankfurter. Available as ring bologna or large bologna, this mild and pleasing combination of ground beef and pork is one of the most popular cold cuts. Use it on meat platters in sandwiches, or pan-fry thin slices until edges curl and use for individual servings of vegetables.

Liver Sausage—There's plenty of variety in this favorite—all the way from soft, light-pink Braunschweiger to the darker and firmer types. Delicately spiced and seasoned, and sometimes smoked, liver sausage contains many of the important nutritional values of liver. Besides using it on cold meat platters, in spreads for appetizers, heat slices of liver sausage in barbecue sauce and serve on cooked rice for a delicious supper.

Thuringer Summer Sausage — Mild spiced and semi-dried, this relatively soft sausage usually is finely chopped and contains a good percentage of pork for extra juiciness. It's similar to summer sausage and salami except that it contains no garlic. In addition to serving on the cold meat platter, use thin slices of thuringer summer sausage to top casseroled vegetables or macaroni and cheese and broil until browned.

Luncheon Loaf—Includes a variety of products—some square, some round—that have the ham-like flavor of good, cured pork. A number of varieties have the meat in larger cubes, rather than chopped or ground. Serve on cold meat platters or fashion a summer salad from thin slices of it by rolling the slices around bananas and garnishing with sour cream-mayonnaise.

Almond-Bacon Cheese Sandwich Filling

Soften cream cheese and blend with milk. Add bacon, almonds, green onion and Worcestershire sauce.

Yield: ½ cup, or filling for 3 sandwiches.

Before Or After

Roasts may be salted before or after cooking since salt penetrates less than one-half inch.

Beef-Mushroom Sandwich

This sandwich idea, ideal for summer, is sure to please. Mix 1 pound ground beef, 1 tablespoon grated onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper and 1 3-ounce can button mushrooms. Toast 4 slices of bread on one side, then butter the untoasted side. Spread beef-mushroom mixture over untoasted side of bread slice, dot with butter. Place under broiler until browned to taste. Yield is sufficient for family of 4 persons.

A herd of American wapiti, 16,000 to 20,000 strong, ranges the National Elk Refuge at Jackson Hole, Wyo., says the National Geographic Society. Early colonists named the big deer after European elk. Licensed hunting keeps the herd from outgrowing the food supply.

City Coin Club Plans Election

The Coin Club, sponsored by the City Recreation Department, has a busy agenda when it meets on Wednesday, July 18, at 7:30 p.m.

Daniel J. Flynn, president, announced yesterday that matters of importance coming before the meeting will be an election of a board of directors, a vote for or against incorporating the club, and also the naming of the organization.

A highlight of the meeting will be an auction of coins, and all members are requested to bring any odd coins which they may wish to auction.

A membership drive is now under way, and any person, whether adult or child, who is interested in the collection of coins, is invited to join the club and attend the July 18 meeting.

At present the club has some 35 registered members who meet monthly.

'Missing' Gas

Lauderbaugh replied indignantly that the estimate had "nothing to do with it." He said at the time of purchase the company was willing to pay 5.3 million for the property and "I still feel it's a good buy."

Lauderbaugh explained the estimates amount to only the best guess on the amount of gas under the ground. He said the area had proved to be of faulty formation, being completely devoid of gas in one portion and inundated with water in others.

While the overall increase under the company's proposed rates would be 11 per cent, Edward McLean, chief PSC auditor, pointed out that it would be 25 per cent to the average consumer. The largest household user would pay only 1 per cent more.

Not Enough For Service

The company defended this by saying the smallest user has not been charged enough to pay even the cost of the service, not counting the gas used.

At the end of the hearing, the company proposed a compromise in the rate which it proposed originally.

It wants to charge anyone using less than 200 cubic feet a month $1.75. The cost now is $1.50 for the first 1,000 and 83 cents for the next 1,000.

The company would charge 85 cents for 1,800 feet after 200.

The changes were questioned and the company then proposed $1.75 for the first 1,000 and 85 per 1,000 for the next 299,000.

They said they were not compromising on their request that the rates bring in $147,000 more a year.

The impact of their new compromise rate schedule would shift the burden to those home owners using gas for heating from those using it only for cooking and heating water.

WILL SPEAK HERE — Rev. Alfredo Del Rosso, superintendent of missionary work for the Church of the Nazarene in Italy, will speak at two local churches of the Nazarene Sunday. He will be at First Church, Oldtown Road, at the 10:45 a. m. service with Rev. H. E. Heckert, pastor, and at Bethel Church, Bowman's Addition, at 7:30 p. m. with Rev. Joseph L. Hoopengardner, pastor.

Keegan Thanks Donors Of Old Radio Sets

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan yesterday voiced a "thank you" to the residents of Cumberland and surrounding area who gave discarded radios in a recent campaign conducted here.

Keegan said he appreciates receiving the radios and added that they will give hours of pleasure to afflicted children for whom the radios were sought.

Some 50 or more radios, large and small, were received in the campaign, Keegan added. Many radio parts were also received. Repairs were made to the sets as they were put in tip-top working order for the benefit of the children.

FCC Ups C&P Depreciation In 3 States

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The Communications Commission today ordered upward revision of some of the depreciation rates of four Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone companies to reflect prospective early replacement of existing equipment with electronic switching systems.

The order covers C&P's Washington, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia divisions.

The adjustments, retroactive to Jan. 1, 1956, will result in a net increase of $1,089,000 in annual depreciation expense.

At the same time, the Commission also authorized two C&P telephone companies to acquire two independent exchanges in Virginia and West Virginia.

The Virginia division was authorized to buy the Twin-County Telephone Co. exchange in Henrico and Charles City counties, Va. for $125,000.

Playlot Contest Winners Announced

Winners in the button show held Tuesday at Thomas S. Post Playground were announced yesterday by Beverly Reynolds, director.

Judges were Charlotte Murphy, Roy Miller and Earl Clark.

Miss Reynolds also announced the winners of the "On Wheels" parade which was held at the playlot yesterday.

George McCoy won the prize for the most original; prettiest, Pat Ritter; funniest, Gene Combs; smallest, Mike Ritter, and Bonnie Parks had the largest.

Judges for this contest were Jim Davis, Linda Miller and Ray Welsh.

ESB Decision Is Appealed

The United Insurance Company yesterday filed an appeal in Allegany County Circuit Court from a June 29 decision of the Maryland Employment Security Board.

The appeal, filed by Attorney William A. Gunter, disclosed that the ESB ruled that Frank P. Kelly, the claimant, was in covered employment from the week ending July 12, 1954, to the date of his separation from employment and requiring the employer, the United Insurance Company, to pay contributions on his aggregate earnings during that period.

Uncontradicted evidence shows that services performed by Kelly as an insurance agent or insurance solicitor were remunerated solely by way of commissions within the meaning of the Maryland Unemployment Insurance Law, according to Gunter.

Steel Workers Get Married During Strike

One explanation for the heavy marriage license business being conducted at the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, is that many steel workers from the Pittsburgh area are coming here to get married while the strike is in progress.

"I don't want to miss any time from work once the strike is settled," said one of the marriage-minded steel workers.

At least 11 of the approximately 120 men who have obtained marriage licenses here so far in July have listed their occupation as steel worker or mill worker.

"WORRY, WORRY, THAT IS THE EVIL OF LIFE"

*(Author's name below)

One foolish way to worry is to think you have some sickness, and then to do nothing about it. Some people are afraid to go to a physician because they are afraid he might tell them they have the trouble they are worrying about. Relieve your mind quickly. Visit your physician immediately if you think something is wrong. Don't try to treat yourself. Get his expert advice, and the odds are that not only are your worries unnecessary, but under his skilled treatment you will get better quickly if you really have something wrong with you.

Resourceful Cooks Use Bread As A Raw Material

With good motoring weather comes the unexpected guest, but the housewife who knows how to use bread as a raw material can meet any mealtime contingency. In fact, she can afford to go motoring herself, even with a serious hole in the supper menu—as long as she has a loaf of bread in the house.

For some tried-and-true recipes that a loaf of bread makes possible, suggestions include a wonderful cheese pie. Or if a housewife hasn't stocked a good sharp cheese, she can take a can of tuna off the shelf for creamed tuna on bread patties. Or, simpler still, especially for lunch, French toast, called French, although the Romans ate it 2,000 years ago.

For a wonderful last-minute dessert, pile slices of French toast one on the other until you have cake the right size then serve it warm with a delicate ginger or orange syrup.

If you don't have candied ginger or orange on hand to make a syrup, you can put jelly or marmalade between the slices and top off with powdered sugar.

Here are some how-to-do-it tips:

Cheese Pie

Butter a 9-inch pie pan. Line the pan with 6 slices of buttered bread using half slices around the dge. Cover with ½ pound of sharp cheese, sliced. Combine and pour over the cheese 2 slightly beaten eggs, 1 cup of milk, and ½ teaspoon of salt. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes until browned. Serve hot or cold with a green salad.

Bread Patties

Use four slices of bread for each patty; remove crusts. With biscuit cutter cut out centers of three slices. After buttering each slice, place the three slices without centers on the fourth slice to make patty. Now brush patty inside and out with melted butter. Place on a baking sheet in a moderate oven (350 F.). Bake until patties are brown and crisp, turning frequently.

Use for creamed tuna or chicken.

French Toast

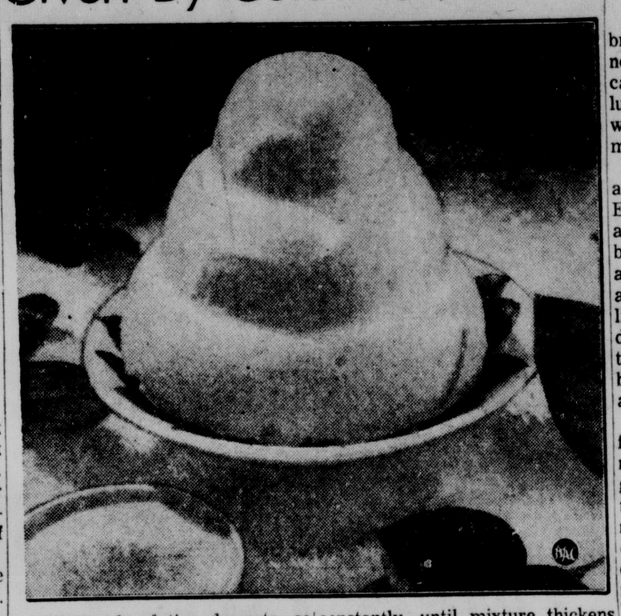
Use two eggs and ¾ cup of milk for six slices of bread. Add milk and salt to slightly beaten eggs. Use 1 to 2 tablespoons of butter in frying pan—enough to cover bottom when melted. Dip slices of bread into milk mixture and cook in the hot butter until brown on one side; turn and brown on the other. Serve with jam, or maple syrup.

Kidney Bean-Frank Sandwich Filling

½ cup drained, chopped, cooked kidney beans; ½ cup chopped frankfurters; 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion; 2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish; 1 tablespoon prepared mustard; 1 tablespoon mayonnaise or salad dressing.

Combine beans, frankfurters, onion, pickle relish, mustard and mayonnaise. Yield: 1⅛ cups, or filling for 6 sandwiches.

Snow Dessert's Airiness Given By Gelatine



Unflavored gelatine desserts, so right at any time of the year, are particularly tuned to hot weather. The lime or lemon snow is easily prepared in the top of the double boiler; then goes into the refrigerator to come chilled and molded in design at mealtime. If chilled in serving dishes, there is no need to unmold.

Gelatine snows are airy and melting to the tip of the tongue. The gelatine has served to capture the very air beaten into the egg whites, and it permits the fresh fruit flavor of the dessert to be appreciated.

Lime Or Lemon Snow

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1¼ cups cold water
¾ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lime or lemon rind
1¼ cup lime or lemon juice
2 unbeaten egg whites

Sprinkle gelatine on ½ cup of the cold water in top of double boiler to soften. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Remove from heat. Add sugar, salt, lime or lemon rind, lime or lemon juice and remaining ¾ cup cold water; stir until sugar is dissolved. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. (To chill quickly, half fill lower part of double boiler with ice cubes and water; sprinkle with 2 tablespoons salt. Set upper part of double boiler with gelatine mixture over ice water; chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white, stirring frequently.) Add egg whites; beat with electric or rotary beater until mixture begins to hold its shape. Turn into a 6-cup mold or individual molds, or spoon into dessert dishes; chill until firm. Serve with *Custard Sauce which utilizes remaining two egg yolks.

YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

Custard Sauce

1½ cups milk
1 whole egg
2 egg yolks
3 tablespoons sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Put milk, whole egg, egg yolks, sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Beat with rotary beater until blended. Place over hot, not boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly and coats the spoon. Remove from heat; add vanilla. Cool.

Use Lard For Tender Biscuits

Lard is the perfect shortening to use for tender, fluffy golden brown baking powder biscuits. The amount of lard determines the richness of the biscuits. Biscuits are xcellent for meat pie toppings, hot meat canapes or as a base for creamed meat dishes.

Breakfast? Everyone!

Nothing can substitute for a good breakfast. The best balanced dinner in the world isn't enough to carry you through till the following lunch time. Even a hearty lunch won't compensate for a missed morning meal.

But you don't like breakfast? It's a matter of habit, say the experts. Eating patterns can be changed, and if they're changed from no breakfast, to some breakfast, they are changed for the better. Try it and see. It takes a little doing, a little self discipline but it can be done. Scientific tests have proved that if you eat breakfast you will be a happier, more efficient, pleasanter person because of it.

Breakfast should provide one-fourth to one-third of the day's food needs, even for dieters. Weight is guided by daily caloric intake rather than by the meal that was not there. Fruit or fruit juice, an egg, at least every other day, cereal, bread, butter or margarine, milk, coffee or tea are considered basic breakfast foods, and within this list there is enough variety to give you a different breakfast every day.

If you switch from the usual to griddle cakes and syrup, or to coffee cake, cut down on the amount of food you eat at lunch and dinner. Variety of menu keeps life interesting and appetites healthy.

A recipe that will tempt the most sluggish appetite and that assures the complete digestibility expected for a wholesome diet is this one. It's for a coffee cake filled with luscious apricots. Ice it while it's hot, if you like, with a simple recipe made of confectioner's sugar, milk and vanilla. Or eat it plain. It's one you'll repeat.

Apricot-Crumb Coffeecake

2 cups sifted enriched flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup shortning
½ cup sugar
1 egg
⅔ cup milk

Sift flour, baking powder, and salt. Blend shortning, sugar and egg until fluffy. Stir in milk alternately with flour mixture; beat until smooth.

Apricot Crumb Filling

1 No. 2 can apricots-drained
½ cup brown sugar, packed
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons melted shortning

Drain apricots well. Mix brown sugar, cinnamon, flour and melted shortning until crumbly. Spread half of batter in greased 1½" deep 9" layer pan. Top with half of apricots, then half of brown sugar mixture. Repeat. Bake in 400°F. oven 30 minutes or until cake tests done. Serve warm or cold with coffee.

Polish Rebellion Exposes Tyranny

What happened at Poznan, Poland, has exposed —for all the world to see—how intolerable conditions are in that unhappy nation under red rule.

Thousands of unarmed individuals do not expose themselves to tanks and machine guns in an utterly hopeless gesture of rebellion unless the oppression they live under is so bad that death is no longer to be feared.

This Polish riot for more bread and for better living conditions has put the Kremlin's new policy of leniency to a severe test. It has proved again what the Russians should have learned from their own bloody history, that tyrants cannot relax like other men.

Tyranny breeds hatred and loathing so deep and fierce that it will seek an outlet the moment the iron grip is eased.

Whatever happens now, the scores of men and women who were slaughtered by Red troops did not sacrifice their lives in vain. Their revolt was staged, no doubt intentionally, in full view of many visitors from the West who were in Poznan for the annual industrial fair.

These visitors saw with their own eyes that the spirit of liberty still burns bright in Poland despite every effort of the Red tyrants to crush it under heel. And they know that millions are still starving under the facade of Red industrial progress and scores are being shot and hundreds jailed for any show of independence behind the mask of benevolent Red smiles.

All that has changed is that hope is now rising both in Poland and the free world that the new tyrants, the heirs of Stalin, are uncertain of their power and that rebellion may expose their weakness.

These Days

The New Word Is Moderate

It used to be that when men were uncertain as to where they wanted to go, they said that they walked in the middle-of-the-road. As they did not define the width of the road, it was impossible by logic, calculus or logarithms to determine where the precise middle was. Prior to this fanciful term there was one that described the left-of-center or right-of-center. But as the center was doubtful, it was altogether impossible to know precisely what was meant.

Assumedly, if a person said that he was left-of-center, he meant that his leanings were toward Karl Marx in some matters, particularly the economic. But in religion, he might be a Calvinist or a High Church Episcopalian, and in manners he might be a follower of Lord Chesterfield.

Now we have a new term which takes on several forms: Moderate, Moderation, Moderate Conservative. The term has little meaning because a moderate conservative is a person who is a conservative but prefers to be regarded as not altogether one. It would seem that those who so describe themselves are dodging the old label, Republican, from which they cannot quite free themselves because it is on the ballot. They do not care to call themselves Democrats, because that would involve them in circumstances that might result in defeat. So they have adopted the term, moderate conservative, and go in for wishful thinking that no one would take the trouble to inquire into what their moderation amounts to.

A conservative is one who believes that the trials and errors of civilization, the risks and gains in history have produced a body of experience from which it is unwise to depart rapidly. He therefore conserves the best product of human experience, not expecting that the world can be changed in a life-time. He is not a preserver of ancient forms but a conservator of that which has worked out to be beneficial. Generally he accepts certain absolutes: in religion, for instance, God; in biology, that man is a created being; in philosophy, he accepts free will; in economics, capitalism; in politics, he believes in the right of a people to choose their own government but he does not believe that government is all-wise, all-competent or should be all-powerful.

Now what does a moderate conservative believe to be true? I do not know. I do not know how to distinguish a moderate conservative from any other kind of conservative. Both President Eisenhower and Candidate Stevenson have hooked on to this term; therefore we are likely to hear much about moderates and moderation during the next few months, but it is too much to anticipate that anyone will bother to provide an analyzable definition. Politicians are not supposed to be definers and do not hire speech-writers with such qualifications.

Another term often used to des... ...ervative is defeatist. If, for instance, one is sh... ...that so competent and knowledgeable a person as General Nathan Twining should say that Soviet Russia, which manufactured no military airplanes of international recognition in 1938, has, by 1956, done as well as or better than the United States which in 1938 was the principal manufacturer of this commodity, he is likely to be called a defeatist. What is desired these days is that one should smile broadly like a movie actor posing for a still picture no matter what horrible error of judgment or action he encounters.

Actually the defeatist, if one can define such a term, is the person who takes what comes. The American who lets out a rip-roaring howl whenever he encounters official incompetence is not a defeatist but an incorrigible optimist who still believes in the power of the people and that they will right all wrongs if only they possess the facts.

There are still such incorrigible optimists in the United States who are not influenced by Karl Marx or John Maynard Keynes and who still believe that simple arithmetic proves a few facts of living and that if a nation spends its wealth profligately, it is bound to go broke, but that in a representative republic all wrongs can be righted by the will and choice of the people.

Curiously such people do not lose hope, not even when they view the prospects of the 1956 election.

'Liberals' Try To Fix Blame For Foreign Aid Cut

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The so-called "liberals" are having no difficulty nowadays fixing the blame for the refusal of Congress to continue its "giveaways" to foreign countries in as large a quantity as before. They are saying that President Eisenhower is culpable. The line taken is that somehow the President did not browbeat Congress, that he did not exercise leadership, or that he was sick or indifferent or something.

But the truth is the sponsors of bigger programs of foreign aid are themselves largely responsible for the failure of Congress to appropriate as much or even more money than the President requested.

For the palpable propaganda to get Congress to spend more money abroad was started a few months ago by the so-called "liberals" and was carried on vigorously by their auxiliaries here and abroad, particularly by certain sections of the press and even by many members of the New York City clique who have access to the President. They overplayed their hand. Members of Congress became suspicious and resentful.

The argument was widely made that America was too much concerned with "military alliances," that this was a time to "win men's minds," that what was needed was something "imaginative" in the way of foreign policy, that the United States must not insist on extending aid to foreign countries "with strings attached," and that the Russians were being successful in their policies of "competitive coexistence." Also a lot of dispatches were coincidentally sent from abroad designed to prove that America was "losing prestige."

The Congress, however, didn't fall for any of this, though there were a few speeches planted here in Congress by the so-called "liberals" to emphasize their arguments. Such speeches were difficult for some of the Democrats to make because their own brethren simultaneously were engaged in cutting down the President's program in an effort to put him on the spot.

As a matter of fact, if political theory were realistically applied, the finger of criticism would be pointed today not at President Eisenhower but at the Democratic Party which controls both Houses of Congress. The Democratic leaders told the nation in the 1954 campaign that they would cooperate with the Republican President. The rank and file of the Democrats, however, have not followed their own leadership.

So today the song is different. Now it's the President who is said to be at fault "for not leading vigorously enough," and it's the Republicans in his own party who are being held responsible by these critics. Indeed, the President is being openly urged to split with his own party, to call his own leaders names, to "purge" them.

All this overlooks the plain fact that for nearly twenty years now no party in Congress has been sure of a majority on important issues and no President has been able to "lead" his party in that sense. The reason is that there are four major blocs in Congress. Both parties are divided.

Mr. Eisenhower's "leadership," for example, isn't a bit more effective than was Mr. Truman's or Mr. Roosevelt's on legislative issues. Thus, Mr. Truman faced continuously a split Democratic party on civil rights and on labor legislation. The Taft-Hartley Act was passed over his veto by a coalition of Democrats and Republicans. Mr. Roosevelt again and again had the same experience with such a coalition. It beat his Supreme Court bill. He tried the "purge" system — butting into party primaries—and lost in almost every instance. Yet Mr. Eisenhower is being urged today to intervene in the Wisconsin Republican primary and thus assure victory for a Democratic nominee.

As leadership goes, Mr. Eisenhower is doing about as well as can be expected in dealing with a Southern Democratic bloc that is against federal aid for education, a Northern Democratic bloc that wants it, a Republican bloc of independents who vote against "giveaways" of all kinds and a Republican bloc of Administration stalwarts who go along with him on almost everything.

The internationally - minded spenders ought, however, to be happy with the results. They should consider themselves lucky to get $4,000,000,000 out of Congress. The other $900,000,000 which has been cut out of the program will go for armament. The Air Force enthusiasts will see to that, and, incidentally, isn't it a Democratic Senator who is leading the fight for more and more money for air power and an unbalanced budget? One wonders how a Republican President can exercise "leadership" over Democrats in Congress who are aspirants for the Presidency.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Remember 1932-1952 when the Democrats were indoors so long they scrapped the Weather Bureau?

That twenty-year spree in subsidized cubicles sprains the two-party system on which equal representation is gingerly balanced.

The Democrats took it in their stride like it was a mat marked welcome, stranger. Along about 1940 they edited the floor motto to just welcome.

Now the Republicans indicate a friendly sharpened yen to run some buttons on the administrative abacus. If they can yodel from the desk tops they don't worry about the echoes in the valley.

The Democrats are resisting that partisan impulse, tooth, nail and microphone. They claim another term for the GOP will honeycomb the beehive from which all emoluments buzz.

The Republicans insist what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. Also for the ducks, the drakes and all the other birds.

Ike's Brother-In-Law Is Doing Well In Legitimate 'Influence' Business

By Drew Pearson

(Ed. Note—The brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Go Round, today goes to President Eisenhower's brother-in-law, a quiet but potent personage in the capital).

WASHINGTON—The least publicized relative of President Eisenhower, his brother-in-law, Col. Gordon Moore, is a soft-spoken, mild-mannered, retired Army officer who sits in a well-appointed but not overly ornate office in Washington's Walker Building.

All around him on the walls are mute reminders of his relationship to the first family—an oil painting of Ike as a five-star general, photos of Ike and Mamie, pictorial highlights of the President's career.

Colonel Moore is not a man you would pick out in a crowd. He is gray-haired, well-groomed, self- effacing—almost the typical retired Army officer transplanted to civilian boredom. He has none of the vivaciousness of his sister-in-law, Mamie, or his wife, Mike, who is Mamie's sister.

Officially Colonel Moore is an expediter of airline business and a lender of money to nonsked airlines. In the days when the stanchly Republican New York Herald Tribune was launching its campaign against Harry Truman and the five-percenters, he would have been branded as such. But one doesn't use that term with Republican expediters of business any more.

You can't help liking the Colonel when you sit down to talk with him.

"I'm just an old soldier trying to make a living," he explains self-deprecatingly.

When you examine his business and compare it with his precarious pecuniary status shortly before his brother-in-law entered the White House, however, the conclusion is inescapable that he has done well. Like some of the lawyers and lobbyists who hung Truman's autographer picture on the wall and later got investigated by the Senate, Colonel Moore has prospered. He has not, however, been investigated.

Streetcar Sale

Colonel Moore's name was potently passed around Washington financial circles last week as a result of the biggest transportation deal in D. C. history—the $13,540,000 sale of the Capital Transit Company which supplies the streetcars and buses for the capital's ambulatory population.

For months, various groups had made offers to buy Washington's bus and streetcar system. Then suddenly, at a surprise midnight meeting, an offer was accepted from O. Roy Chalk, millionaire owner of Trans-Caribbean Airways. Similar or better offers were rejected.

In putting across his sudden deal to run the transit system, Chalk had the assistance of both Colonel Moore and his attorney, Edward F. Colladay, close to the Republican National Committee.

Chalk, however, went out of his way to conceal Moore's connection.

For two weeks he ducked inquiries from this column. He even instructed the Willard Hotel to deny he was registered there, though staying in room 601. His business partner, Morris Fox, blandly denied that Ike's brother-in-law had anything to do with the deal.

It has now been definitely established, however, that Colonel Moore introduced Chalk to Robert C. Baker, executive director of the American Security and Trust and a Capital transit director that he telephoned Harry McDonald, a rival bidder, and urged him to get together with Chalk, not compete with him; and Colonel Moore franker than his associates, acknowledged to this column that he had helped put the deal across "in a small way."

Fortune's Rise In 1952

The careers of Roy Chalk and the President's brother-in-law have been inextricably intertwined ever since the spring of 1952 when Chalk took a long-shot gamble that General Eisenhower would be the next President of the USA. At that time Colonel Moore's economic fortunes were at a low ebb, so low that he and his wife had offered to sell their house.

At this point Chalk hired Moore for $6,500 to handle public relations for the independent Military Air Transport Association.

Moore was hired three times and fired twice before the Republican Convention in 1952. He was fired and rehired as Ike's fortunes ebbed and flowed. The last time he was fired by the Military Transport Association Chalk stepped in and hired him directly for Trans-Caribbean. They went to the GOP Convention together, and a week after Ike was nominated, Colonel Moore was promoted to vice president of Trans-Caribbean.

Business Booms

Almost overnight, Moore blossomed out with his own business. He lent money, as a broker, to small airlines and trucking companies.

What he does is borrow money from American Security and Trust, then turn around and lend the money to the small companies as an advance on payments they have coming from the government. As his commission, he takes out 1.5 per cent.

Two airlines executives told this column they could get the same service for half Moore's commission, but they pay Moore extra for his political influence. Moore also arranges direct loans for small airlines through American Security and Trust, charging a middleman's profit.

How a man of Moore's 1952 income of $6,500 could suddenly start doing a million-dollar business with American Security and Trust is a mystery. The bank's president, Daniel W. Bell, former Under-secretary of the Treasury, told this column he could not discuss a client's business.

Colonel Moore's home on Klingle Street is no longer up for sale. He and his wife are frequent visitors at the White House. He sat with Mamie and Mrs. Moore just behind Ike as his brother-in-law gave his historic televised statement to the nation that he would run again. Colonel Moore was on view before millions of people—including his airline and trucking clients.

There's nothing wrong with the business Colonel Moore conducts. He merely benefits from having friends in high places. And fortunately the New York Herald Tribune, which crusaded against these things in Truman's day, is handed the minutes of Eisenhower Cabinet meetings today. It isn't likely to do much crusading any more.

Inside Washington

By Central Press

WASHINGTON — Top experts on conditions behind the Iron Curtain believe that the riots in Poland may be followed by similar incidents in other nations under the heel of the Russian Bear.

A leading authority on Poland itself made this comment: "The riots quite probably may be followed by other acts of patriotic violence against Communist despotism, not only in Poland but in other captive nations as well."

The State department feels that the Polish uprising is more evidence that Russia is losing its grip over control of its satellites, particularly in Eastern Europe.

Shortly before the outbreak, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles issued a special statement in which he declared that the Kremlin's control of Communist movements in foreign countries has been greatly impaired.

Veep Candidate — the hottest behind-the-scenes battle at the Democratic national convention this may involve the selection of a vice presidential candidate.

Many Democratic politicians are now convinced that Adlai Stevenson has the inside track to the Number One spot on the ticket and they are eagerly pushing their choice for his running mate.

At the present time, the best bets for the No. 2 place appear to be Senator John B. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Tennessee's Gov. Frank Clement, Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, and New York City's Mayor Robert Wagner.

Of course, all of these are Stevenson supporters and should the ex-Illinois governor fail to win the presidential nomination, their chances would go out the window.

Kennedy picked up strong backing at the recent governors' conference in Atlantic City and is the top contender. Humphrey, however, is being pushed by midwest Democrats and Clement could get the nod if Stevenson feels he should solidify his southern support. Wagner is a darkhorse, whose selection might depend on a deadlock.

Nixon's foes—Republican leaders are worried over the persistent campaign being pressed "underground" in an attempt to prevent Vice President Richard M. Nixon's renomination. Nixon's foes were able to keep his name off the petition, unanimously signed by Republican governors, urging President Eisenhower to run again.

In another direction, some Republicans declined to rally to Nixon's defense when Democrats sought to link him to the activities of his former campaign manager, Los Angeles lawyer Murray Chotiner, the recent target of a Senate investigation.

The anti-Nixon group is motivated by a theory that because he has aroused such enmity among Democrats, the vice president should be dropped from the ticket in favor of a less aggressive politician.

Seasoned observers, however, expect Nixon to survive the latest "dump Dick" drive. They reason that both President Eisenhower and GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall are so firmly pro-Nixon that efforts to oust him are doomed to failure.

Complications for keynoter—Gov. Arthur Langlie of Washington state, who has been picked to deliver the keynote address at the Republican convention in San Francisco, is in the middle of a difficult situation at home.

Langlie is seeking the seat now held by Senator Warren Magnuson (D), Washington, and, being the Republican candidate, would be expected to get strong support from the business groups of his state.

However, powerful businessmen are behind a drive to put the "right-to-work" issue on Washington state ballots this November. They want a law banning labor-management contracts which bar Langlie is opposed to this. He, therefore, faces an uphill battle in his race for the Senate.

Anemia Treatment Depends On Cause Of Condition

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

It took 25 years to sell the American public on the idea that fever is not a disease. An equal length of time was required to convince the layman that high blood pressure has many origins and in this respect, is a manifestation of several conditions. Currently we are trying to do the same with anemia.

The woman who tells her bridge club friends she is anemic is telling only half the story. Her physician also is negligent when he makes no attempt to find the origin of the blood condition, as the cause is the secret to treatment. It is surprising how quickly anemia is eliminated when the responsible factors are corrected.

An iron deficiency anemia is best treated with iron. All the folic acid, liver, and vitamin B12 in the drug store are of no value. Furthermore, to take an all-purpose hematinic containing all the "blood building ingredients known to man" is a waste of money. In addition, many of these shotgun remedies are useless because they contain homeopathic amounts.

Inadequate treatment of this type of anemia has many disadvantages. First and foremost, the individual does not get well. If he has ordinary anemia he spends months or years feeling under par, tired, and crabby.

Anemia may represent more than an iron deficiency. It is associated with a variety of conditions such as liver and kidney disease, tuberculosis, rheumatoid arthritis, and cancer.

It is a catastropne, for example, to take vitamins, liver, or iron to correct anemia only to discover months later that cancer of the stomach or intestine is responsible. Valuable time has been lost and the chances for recovery are reduced.

Anemia is defined as a reduction in the number of red blood cells or the amount of hemoglobin (coloring matter) in the blood. Iron is the main ingredient of hemoglobin. The body contains three to four grams of iron of which half is in the blood; the remainder is stored in various tissues. Anemia does not develop until the iron in these depots is exhausted.

The body conserves its supply of this mineral and loss occurs only through bleeding as in accidents, menstruation, and in pregnancy. More is needed during growth. The best way to obtain it is in food. In the nonbleeding adult it takes three to six years to become anemic on a diet completely devoid of iron.

TOMORROW: Corn and X-rays produce gas.

LIVER AND ANEMIA

M. W. writes: A person is taking liver extract in liquid and pill form for anemia. Do you know why his red blood count does not go up with this medicine?

REPLY

This is an old story to most physicians because the term, anemia, covers a multitude of sins. What type of anemia does he have? What is the cause? If it is due to shortage of iron, all the liver in the world will not help. If pernicious anemia is present, liver is of value but best results are obtained when it is injected rather than taken by mouth. Anemia from blood loss is difficult to correct unless bleeding is controlled.

HEART DISEASES

Mrs. L. writes: How many different kinds of heart disease are there?

REPLY

Twelve or more main types but the most common are those due to arteriosclerosis, high blood pressure, rheumatic fever, and congenital defects.

WHOOPING COUGH

S. C. writes: My children were exposed to whooping cough two weeks ago. They never have had the disease but received the injctions. Are they safe?

REPLY

Yes, because cough usually appears within two weeks if the exposed child has been infected. The vaccine may not offer complete protection but there's no need for concern. Should whooping cough develop after the protective shots, it usually is mild and recovery is the rule.

LAZY LIMBS

S. L. writes: Why is it that when I wake up my arms and legs stay asleep?

REPLY

The sensation of numbness and tingling stegs from lying on a nerve. Several moments may pass after easing pressure before the feeling disappears. Shake the extremities vigorously and they will wake up.

NERVOUS DISORDER

M. S. writes: What could you tell me about Guillain-Barre syndrome?

REPLY

In this disease, progressive paralysis starts in the lower extremities and moves upward. Recovery usually can be expected, particularly in children. The condition is easily confused with polio.

NOT SELF-SUFFICIENT

C. T. writes: Is there something wrong with the mind of a person who can't be alone? She has to have someone around all the time to talk to and if no one is in the house she spends hours on the phone.

REPLY

This woman needs the expert care of a psychiatrist. She may be depressed or plagued with hallucinations. She is afraid she might harm herself or that someone is plotting to kill her.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A famous movie star who was being analyzed (of course) told her doctor that one recurring dream was really giving her the heebie-jeebies. "I keep dreaming that I'm walking down Hollywood Boulevard without a stitch of clothing on my back," she confessed. "What does that mean, Doctor?"

"It all depends on how you react to the dream," said her analyst. "Are you embarrassed?"

"Definitely," the star declared. "I'm always wearing last year's hat!"

Keep Meats Stored In Refrigerator

Almost all fresh, cured, and cooked meats must be kept under refrigeration if you wish to enjoy the original fine flavor of the meat.

Fresh meat should be kept loosely covered in the coldest part of the refrigerator. The inner wrapping paper used by the meat dealer makes an excellent covering. Rewrapping the meat loosely allows a circulation of air around the meat which lengthens its keeping quality. Do not wash the meat. Bone dust if present can be lightly scraped from the surface.

Cooked meat should always be closely wrapped or covered tightly when refrigerated. Use a tightly covered container or wrap in foil to preserve the flavor of cooked meat.

Modern type cured and smoked meats should be stored under refrigeration because their keeping quality resembles more nearly that of fresh meat. Canned hams, except those weighing 3 pounds or less, must be kept in the refrigerator according to the directions on each can. Other canned meats, when the label does not specify refrigeration, may be kept on the pantry shelf.

Frozen meat must be kept at 0° F. or lower. It is not wise to refreeze meat which has been frozen and thawed. Meat loses some of its natural juices when it is thawed and then refrozen. This, of course, will make the cooked product less juicy, too.

Itinerant coconut pickers in Johore, Malaya, use monkeys to help them harvest the fruit. Controlled by leashes, the pickers' pets clamber up tall palms and twist off the coconuts.

The African elephant grows to a height of 11 feet and attains a weight of as much as six tons.

COLD CUTS SMORGASBORD—A cold cuts platter, offering salami, liver sausage, luncheon loaf, spiced ham, and deviled eggs, is the basis of this smorgasbord for four. Add a basket of assorted breads, a relish tray, cup cakes for dessert, and iced coffee or tea and the menu is complete. Shown are only a few of the more than 100 ready-to-eat meats now available to make summer meal preparation easy.

Easy Summer Cooking: Cold Cuts Smorgasbord

There's no trouble at all in preparing a cold cuts smorgasbord for four! Simply stop at the market and order a selection of ready-to-eat meats. Combine a variety of the meats with a few deviled eggs, add some relishes, breads, beverages and a quick dessert, and you've a menu that's sure to make the mountinng temperature a forgettable event.

The nutrition-packed meal may be as varied as the cook chooses, though a generous supply of the cold cuts will not only add interest to the meat platter but supply essential protein, too. Keep cold cuts tightly wrapped in your refrigerator and use within a week. Here's a menu suggestion:

Cold Cuts Smorgasbord

Cold Cuts Platter
(Salami, Liver Sausage, Luncheon Meat, Ham Sausage, Deviled Eggs)
Basket of Assorted Breads
Relish Tray: Carrot Sticks, Green Onions
Dill Pickles, Radish Roses, Ray Cauliflowerets
Spiced Cup Cakes
Iced Tea or Coffee

Some of the most popular of the more than 100 varieties of cold cuts available include these:

Salami—Highly seasoned, air-dried sausage, containing just the right amount of garlic. Wonderful sliced for cold meat platters and sandwiches, or slivered for use in salads and soups.

Bologna—Big brother to the frankfurter. Available as ring bologna or large bologna, this mild and pleasing combination of ground beef and pork is one of the most popular cold cuts. Use it on meat platters in sandwiches, or pan-fry thin slices until edges curl and use for individual servings of vegetables.

Liver Sausage—There's plenty of variety in this favorite—all the way from soft, light-pink Braunschweiger to the darker and firmer types. Delicately spiced and seasoned, and sometimes smoked, liver sausage contains many of the important nutritional values of liver. Besides using it on cold meat platters, in spreads for appetizers, heat slices of liver sausage in barbecue sauce and serve on cooked rice for a delicious supper.

Thuringer Summer Sausage — Mild spiced and semi-dried, this relatively soft sausage usually is finely chopped and contains a good percentage of pork for extra juiciness. It's similar to summer sausage and salami except that it contains no garlic. In addition to serving on the cold meat platter, use thin slices of thuringer summer sausage to top casseroled vegetables or macaroni and cheese and broil until browned.

Luncheon Loaf—Includes a variety of products—some square, some round—that have the ham-like flavor of good, cured pork. A number of varieties have the meat in larger cubes, rather than chopped or ground. Serve on cold meat platters or fashion a summer salad from thin slices of it by rolling the slices around bananas and garnishing with sour cream-mayonnaise.

Almond-Bacon Cheese Sandwich Filling

Soften cream cheese and blend with milk. Add bacon, almonds, green onion and Worcestershire sauce.

Yield: ½ cup, or filling for 3 sandwiches.

Before Or After

Roasts may be salted before or after cooking since salt penetrates less than one-half inch.

Beef-Mushroom Sandwich

This sandwich idea, ideal for summer, is sure to please. Mix 1 pound ground beef, 1 tablespoon grated onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper and 1 3-ounce can button mushrooms. Toast 4 slices of bread on one side, then butter the untoasted side. Spread beef-mushroom mixture over untoasted side of bread slice, dot with butter. Place under broiler until browned to taste. Yield is sufficient for family of 4 persons.

A herd of American wapiti, 16,000 to 20,000 strong, ranges the National Elk Refuge at Jackson Hole, Wyo., says the National Geographic Society. Early colonists named the big deer after European elk. Licensed hunting keeps the herd from outgrowing the food supply.

Mrs. Filbert always said:

only the pick of the fresh-egg crop— and extra eggs! Real lemon juice! My own pet secret spices! That's the only way to make honest-to-goodness old-time mayonnaise!

Mrs. M. V. Filbert

Mrs. Filbert's touch is the flavor touch!

Tastes fresh—flavored right! Creamier, fresher flavor—so good it tastes homemade! Mrs. Filbert's Mayonnaise is her own "cookbook" recipe, and you'll say it's flavored just right! Real lemon juice and her own secret spices make it so much more delicious than the too-bland kinds!

Firm and full-bodied — it's genuine mayonnaise—made with whole eggs and extra egg yolks. It's made with the pick of the fresh-egg crop! Yet it spoons light because it's whipped until there's no hint of oil—just a rich smoothness. It never separates on salads.

Tonight, enjoy this creamier, fresher mayonnaise on your salad . . . find out for yourself—Mrs. Filbert's touch is the flavor touch! Be sure you get Mrs. Filbert's genuine Mayonnaise every time. (Coupons good for premiums on the jar, too.)

Resourceful Cooks Use Bread As A Raw Material

With good motoring weather comes the unexpected guest, but the housewife who knows how to use bread as a raw material can meet any mealtime contingency. In fact, she can afford to go motoring herself, even with a serious hole in the supper menu—as long as she has a loaf of bread in the house.

For some tried-and-true recipes that a loaf of bread makes possible, suggestions include a wonderful cheese pie. Or if a housewife hasn't stocked a good sharp cheese, she can take a can of tuna off the shelf for creamed tuna on bread patties. Or, simpler still, especially for lunch, French toast, called French, although the Romans ate it 2,000 years ago.

For a wonderful last-minute dessert, pile slices of French toast one on the other until you have cake the right size then serve it warm with a delicate ginger or orange syrup.

If you don't have candied ginger or orange on hand to make a syrup, you can put jelly or marmalade between the slices and top off with powdered sugar.

Here are some how-to-do-it tips:

Cheese Pie

Butter a 9-inch pie pan. Line the pan with 6 slices of buttered bread using half slices around the dge. Cover with ½ pound of sharp cheese, sliced. Combine and pour over the cheese 2 slightly beaten eggs, 1 cup of milk, and ½ teaspoon of salt. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes until browned. Serve hot or cold with a green salad.

Bread Patties

Use four slices of bread for each patty; remove crusts. With biscuit cutter cut out centers of three slices. After buttering each slice, place the three slices without centers on the fourth slice to make patty. Now brush patty inside and out with melted butter. Place on a baking sheet in a moderate oven (350 F.). Bake until patties are brown and crisp, turning frequently.

Use for creamed tuna or chicken.

French Toast

Use two eggs and ¾ cup of milk for six slices of bread. Add milk and salt to slightly beaten eggs. Use 1 to 2 tablespoons of butter in frying pan—enough to cover bottom when melted. Dip slices of bread into milk mixture and cook in the hot butter until brown on one side; turn and brown on the other. Serve with jam, or maple syrup.

Kidney Bean-Frank Sandwich Filling

½ cup drained, chopped, cooked kidney beans; ½ cup chopped frankfurters; 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion; 2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish; 1 tablespoon prepared mustard; 1 tablespoon mayonnaise or salad dressing.

Combine beans, frankfurters, onion, pickle relish, mustard and mayonnaise. Yield: 1⅛ cups, or filling for 6 sandwiches.

Snow Dessert's Airiness Given By Gelatine

Unflavored gelatine desserts, so right at any time of the year, are particularly tuned to hot weather. The lime or lemon snow is easily prepared in the top of the double boiler; then goes into the refrigerator to come chilled and molded in design at mealtime. If chilled in serving dishes, there is no need to unmold.

Gelatine snows are airy and melting to the tip of the tongue. The gelatine has served to capture the very air beaten into the egg whites, and it permits the fresh fruit flavor of the dessert to be appreciated.

Lime Or Lemon Snow

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1¼ cups cold water
¾ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lime or lemon rind
1¼ cup lime or lemon juice
2 unbeaten egg whites

Sprinkle gelatine on ½ cup of the cold water in top of double boiler to soften. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Remove from heat. Add sugar, salt, lime or lemon rind, lime or lemon juice and remaining ¾ cup cold water; stir until sugar is dissolved. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. (To chill quickly, half fill lower part of double boiler with ice cubes and water; sprinkle with 2 tablespoons salt. Set upper part of double boiler with gelatine mixture over ice water; chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white, stirring frequently.) Add egg whites; beat with electric or rotary beater until mixture begins to hold its shape. Turn into a 6-cup mold or individual molds, or spoon into dessert dishes; chill until firm. Serve with *Custard Sauce which utilizes remaining two egg yolks.

YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

Custard Sauce

1½ cups milk
1 whole egg
2 egg yolks
3 tablespoons sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Put milk, whole egg, egg yolks, sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Beat with rotary beater until blended. Place over hot, not boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly and coats the spoon. Remove from heat; add vanilla. Cool.

Use Lard For Tender Biscuits

Lard is the perfect shortening to use for tender, fluffy golden brown baking powder biscuits. The amount of lard determines the richness of the biscuits. Biscuits are xcellent for meat pie toppings, hot meat canapes or as a base for creamed meat dishes.

Breakfast? Everyone!

Nothing can substitute for a good breakfast. The best balanced dinner in the world isn't enough to carry you through till the following lunch time. Even a hearty lunch won't compensate for a missed morning meal.

But you don't like breakfast? It's a matter of habit, say the experts. Eating patterns can be changed, and if they're changed from no breakfast, to some breakfast, they are changed for the better. Try it and see. It takes a little doing, a little self discipline but it can be done. Scientific tests have proved that if you eat breakfast you will be a happier, more efficient, pleasanter person because of it.

Breakfast should provide one-fourth to one-third of the day's food needs, even for dieters. Weight is guided by daily caloric intake rather than by the meal that was not there. Fruit or fruit juice, an egg, at least every other day, cereal, bread, butter or margarine, milk, coffee or tea are considered basic breakfast foods, and within this list there is enough variety to give you a different breakfast every day.

If you switch from the usual to griddle cakes and syrup, or to coffee cake, cut down on the amount of food you eat at lunch and dinner. Variety of menu keeps life interesting and appetites healthy.

A recipe that will tempt the most sluggish appetite and that assures the complete digestibility expected for a wholesome diet is this one. It's for a coffee cake filled with luscious apricots. Ice it while it's hot, if you like, with a simple recipe made of confectioner's sugar, milk and vanilla. Or eat it plain. It's one you'll repeat.

Apricot-Crumb Coffeecake

2 cups sifted enriched flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup shortning
½ cup sugar
1 egg
⅔ cup milk

Sift flour, baking powder, and salt. Blend shortning, sugar and egg until fluffy. Stir in milk alternately with flour mixture; beat until smooth.

Apricot Crumb Filling

1 No. 2 can apricots-drained
½ cup brown sugar, packed
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons melted shortning

Drain apricots well. Mix brown sugar, cinnamon, flour and melted shortning until crumbly. Spread half of batter in greased 1½" deep 9" layer pan. Top with half of apricots, then half of brown sugar mixture. Repeat. Bake in 400°F. oven 30 minutes or until cake tests done. Serve warm or cold with coffee.

Liquid Miracle! No washday powder ever made can give you the concentrated washing power of new blue instant liquid Wisk

You will pour Wisk into your washer. It will get your family wash so clean and white that you will never use a powder detergent again!

LIQUID MIRACLE! Wisk washes clothes whiter than any powder ever made!

LIQUID MIRACLE! Wisk removes more stains than any powder ever made!

LIQUID MIRACLE! Wisk is safer, much safer, than any powder ever made!

New, blue WISK is completely different from anything you ever tried. In the first place, it is a liquid you pour into your washing machine. It goes to work instantly. No waiting for powders to dissolve.

But, more important, new WISK is concentrated. It does three times as much wash as the same amount of powder. And does it better, too. For it gives you a concentrated washing power unequaled by any powder. Besides, new WISK is safe for hands, safe for fabrics—safe as only a liquid can be.

MAKES ANY WASHER TURN OUT A CLEANER AND A WHITER FAMILY WASH

Never again need you find a gravy spot left in a just-washed napkin, or a lipstick stain in a hand towel, or a grease spot in a suit of coveralls: For concentrated liquid WISK penetrates deep down into cloth fibers in a way no powder can. Safely, but thoroughly, it pulls out stubborn stains, removes hidden dirt, gets everything clean.

And wait till you see what WISK does for shirt collars and cuffs! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the first wash. In fact, WISK gets all your family wash so clean it even smells clean.

FIRST REALLY ALL-PURPOSE DETERGENT!

You will use WISK for just about every cleaning job in your home! It makes quick work of dishes: Soaks them clean. Concentrated WISK wipes grease off a stove or kitchen wall. It makes old, discolored linoleum look new. It gets yellowed kitchen cabinets white and shiny again.

WISK does the toughest jobs quicker, easier, more safely than products designed for these tasks. Now you can throw away those harsh and dangerous chemicals!

NO MORE MESSY, SNEEZY POWDERS!

And what a blessing WISK is. It does away with "washday hay fever"... with clumsy, soggy boxes... with messy powders that spill. And because WISK does so many jobs so well, you don't have to clutter your shelves with a box for this, a bottle for that, and all those packages a woman used to need.

WISK IS UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED!

We've promised a good deal for WISK and we mean it. In fact, we guarantee it! If you don't agree WISK is the best detergent you ever used—not just as good, but BEST!—Lever Brothers will return the purchase price to you . . . plus postage!

Beans Plus -- Yummy Outdoor Food

Dig these crazy Mixed Up Chili Beans! Don't think outdoor characters won't! They're an easy-to-fix mixture of canned pork and beans, ground beef ketchup and condiments. Wonderful with cabbage and carrot salad. Mocha cake and coffee and the picnic's real gone.

Come rain, come sun—you won't have a single worry with this menu. The main dish — Mixed Up Chili Beans — is designed for outdoor cookery, but is just as easily prepared in the kitchen.

Indoors or out, you're off to a running start because the principle ingredient is already — tasty cans of pork and beans in tomato sauce.

To go with the glamourized beans, serve a salad of raw shredded carrots plus green and red cabbage. It's scrumptous with sour cream dressing. Pickles or olives round out the main course. To complete a very satisfying meal — spice cake with mocha frosting and coffee.

Mixed Up Chili Beans

½ pound ground beef
1 large onion, thinly sliced
2 cans (1-pound size each) pork and beans in tomato sauce
¼ cup ketchup
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon chili powder
Dash black pepper
Split toasted buns

Brown beef and onion; stir frequently to separate meat particles. Add remaining ingredients; heat. Serve on buns; garnish with a few onion rings .Makes about 8-10 sandwiches.

A good "cook-indoors, eat-outdoors" dish that travels well is . . .

Beans And Kabobs

2 cans (1-pound size each) pork and beans in tomato sauce
16 pineapple chunks
8 cubes (1-inch) cooked ham

Pour beans into a shallow baking dish. Make kabobs by arranging two chunks of pineapple and one cube of ham on toothpicks; place on top of beans. Bake in a hot oven (400°F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Peanut Cheese Crunch Sandwich Filling

½ cup pimiento cheese spread; ⅓ cup chopped peanuts; ¼ cup sweet pickle relish; 1 tablespoon minced onion; ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Combine cheese spread, peanuts, pickle relish, onion and Worcestershire sauce. Yield: 1 cup, or filling for 5 sandwiches.

Hot chicken rolls au gratin can be made by slicing off the top of finger rolls, then scooping out the center and filling the pocket of the roll with creamed chicken and celery. Sprinkle grated cheese over the filled rolls, and put them — and their tops — on a cookie sheet. Brown in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 15 minutes. Replace roll tops and serve.

Tribesmen of New Guinea value the flesh of the python as food and the snake's skin as material for drumheads.

Meat Has Lead Role In Diet

It's wise to plan meals around meat to insure high quality protein for good nutrition. Meat has many other important reasons too for being a necessary food on any menu.

Meat has appetite appeal — The aroma and appearance of well-cooked, attractively served meat dishes stimulate the appetite and make meals more enjoyable.

Meat is satisfying—Meat gives a feeling of satisfaction for a long period of time. It has that "stick-to-the-ribs" quality.

Meat permits wide selection — Meat because of the many kinds and cuts available can readily provide a wide variety of cuts for every meal any time.

Lean meat permits balanced reducing diet — Meat because of its protein builds resistance and will protect your from infection. Meat's adequate supply of protein will also eliminate the danger of a too rapid weight loss.

Cool Variations On Iced Coffee Theme

Iced coffee, as you see, has many flavorful friends. Fine additions to summertime coffee are—reading from left to right—ice cream, lemon peel, whipped cream or chocolate syrup. Above: superfine sugar, stick cinnamon, regular cream, simple sugar syrup, bitters and freshly ground nutmeg. In the tall glasses: lots of ice and lots of robust coffee.

Iced coffee is a superbly refres ng drink all by its tall, dark ar handsome self. At the same time here are more interesting an delicious ways to vary iced coffe than any other beverage you ca think of. The happy fact is tha coffee blends well with any num ber of other fine flavors.

Let's take spices, for example Stick cinnamon makes a fine stir rer for a glass of frosty coffee, imparting a touch of its own fragrance and flavor. Bitters are a tantalizing blend of many spices—add a drop or two to your iced coffee and see how truly good it is. And then, of course, there is the special summer cooler called Spicy Iced Coffee. Here's the easy recipe:

Spicy Iced Coffee

3 cups hot, double-strength coffee; 2 cinnamon sticks; 4 cloves; 4 allspice berries.

Pour coffee over spices. Let stand one hour. Strain and pour over ice in four tall glasses. Serve with cream and sugar.

Cream in virtually all its forms is a good friend to iced coffee. Plain cream in the pitcher is widely used and it looks mighty pretty swirling down among the ice cubes. Whipped cream makes a luscious topping for coffee, hot or cold, and it takes on extra appeal with a dash of nutmeg sprinkled over it. Finally, ice cream and cold coffee is a delicious combination; best leave out the ice cubes here, though — the ice cream will do the cooling as it mixes with the coffee.

For those who like their coffee sweetened, simple sugar syrup is the ideal sweetener. It goes into complete solution with the cold coffee at a touch and actually seems to improve the taste of the drink. Another sweet addition to iced coffee is chocolate syrup. A tablespoonful or two will make a fine Mocha Cooler.

Continentals never drink cream in their coffee, but they often add a twist of fresh lemon peel for flavor. Try it in iced coffee without cream — it is a lovely, refreshing touch!

Here are several excellent ways to make delicious iced coffee:

Iced Coffee With Coffee Cubes

Brew extra breakfast coffee and cool. Freeze into coffee ice cubes, turning temperature control to coldest point for rapid freezing. Then make iced coffee anytime by pouring regular strength hot coffee over the cubes.

Quick Double Strength Iced Coffee

Make coffee double strength by using half the amount of water to the usual amount of coffee. Pour hot over ice cubes in tall glasses. The extra strong coffee allows for dilution caused by the ice.

Pre-Cooled Iced Coffee

Make regular strength coffee and cool in non-metallic container in refrigerator, not more than three hours. Pour over ice in tall glasses. Serve immediately.

Instant Iced Coffee

Mix twice the usual amount of instant coffee with a little water (hot or cold according to brand) in each glass. Add ice cubes, cold water and stir thoroughly.

Brides, Serve Him Right!

Here's a tip for new brides. Cater to your husband's whims about food...and oh how he'll brag and boast about the "girl that he married"!

Even if you've never boiled a potato, you can start right out preparing the kind of meals he really likes. First rule: Avoid menus that are difficult. Take advantage of them any pre-cooked foods that only require heating. You'll discover that even old-timers in the kitchen enjoy their convenience.

For example, serve a turkey dinner complete with all the trimmings....the frozen kind. These complete dinners come from your grocer's freezer, cooked to perfection...ready to heat and serve. You'll find one kind of pot roast and vegetables — fine with fried chicken.

Good and easy dinners, such as this, give you a chance to experiment with one new recipe at a time. Chances are you'll want to choose a dessert that looks pretty and romantic—and tastes heavenly. Strawberry Chiffon Pie wins on all counts. Thanks to pastry mixes, you'll have no trouble making a tender crust. Top the glorious strawberry filling with whipped cream and coconut. Finally imbed halved strawberries in the cream. They'll look like little hearts! And capture his heart!

Strawberry Chiffon Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatine; ¼ cup cold water; 4 eggs, separated; ¾ cup sugar; 1 tablespoon lemon juice; ½ teaspoon salt; 1 cup crushed strawberries; Baked 9-inch pie shell; whipped cream; coconut; sliced strawberries.

Soften gelatine in cold water. Beat egg yolks and combine with ½ cup sugar, lemon juice, and salt in top of double boiler; cook over boiling water until thick, stirring constantly. Add gelatine; stir until dissolved; remove from heat. Add strawberries; beat one minute. Chill until slightly thickened. Beat egg whites until frothy; add ¼ cup sugar gradually, beating until stiff. Fold in strawberry mixture. Pour into pie shell; chill until set. Just before serving, top with whipped cream, coconut, and sliced strawberries. 6 to 8 servings.

A small mollusk known as the teredo or shipworm causes millions of dollars of marine damage each year. It mines through wooden piles and ship timbers with the rasplike surface of its shells.

Sparkling Cherry Drinks For Summer Coolers

In the summer when fresh fruits are in abundance it is well to use them in every way possible. Cherries, for instance, so good in cobblers, pies and just eating in the hand, can be used in delicious tall coolers.

A fine drink can be made by beating together ⅛ cup chopped cherries and ⅓ cup vanilla ice cream until soft. Pour into a glass and fill the glass with cold sparkling water or pale dry ginger ale.

Then there's a delicious cherry ice cream soda that you can whip up quickly, and a delicious drink, perfect for a warm afternoon.

Cherry Ice Cream Soda

¼ cup chopped sweetened cherries
¼ cup light cream
1 scoop cherry or vanilla ice cream
Sparkling water

Combine cherries and light cream in tall glass. Add ice cream. Fill glass with sparkling water. Stir gently. Serves 1.

Cherry Glow

1 cup chopped, ripe cherries
¾ cup water
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
¾ cup orange juice
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Pale dry ginger ale

Combine cherries, water, grated lemon and orange rind. Simmer until cherries are soft. Chill. Divide among 4 tall glasses; add orange and lemon juice. Fill glasses with ice cold pale dry ginger ale. Serves 4.

Lamb Chops—New Orleans

To serve your family a luscious lamb chop dinner, try this unusual combination. Brown 5 lamb shoulder chops cut 1 inch thick in 1 tablespoon melted lard or drippings. Season with 1 teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Now add 1½ cups tomato juice, ¼ cup chopped green pepper and 2 small onions, chopped. Cover and simmer for 45 minutes or until tender.

Although nuts of the buckeye — Ohio's State tree — contain poisonous toxics, Indians learned to make them edible by repeated boiling.

Solid South Front Sought By Demos

ATLANTA, July 12 (AP) — The solidarity session of Southern Democratic state chairmen Friday and Saturday apparently will have seven states represented and the best wishes of at least one other.

Chairman Neville Bennett of South Carolina invited party chiefs of 11 Dixie states to confer here on plans for presenting a solid Southern front at the Democratic National Convention.

Alabama and North Carolina today joined the five states which previously had indicated they would be represented.

Mississippi Chairman Thomas J. Tubb said he could not attend because of prior commitments and has been unable to find a representative who could be present.

But he expressed hope the sessions will produce cooperation "among the Southern states to fight within the framework of the Democratic party for the position of the South. We want to win some respect; we've been kicked around some you know."

Representatives from South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Virginia and Tennessee previously had announced they would be present.

Union Group Charges Steel Industry Lockout

DENVER, July 12 (AP)—A union group accused the steel industry today of a virtual lockout of 650,000 steel workers "in order to increase its already exorbitant drain on the pocketbook of every American."

The statement followed a closed-door meeting of the 85-member Executive Board of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Dept.

The department, which claims to represent seven million U.S. and Canadian union members of the recently merged AFL and CIO, expressed "full solidarity" with striking United Steelworkers of America.

Miss Cather Is Married

KEYSER—Mrs. John Purdy, Church Street, announces the marriage of her daughter, Claire P. Cather, to Arthur E. Shafer, Cumberland. The wedding took place Sunday, June 17, at 3 p. m. in the Sentre Street Methodist Church parsonage, Cumberland, with the Rev. Howard M. Amoss, pastor, officiating. Attendants were Mrs. Ernest Umstot, Keyser, sister of the bride; and Kenneth Shafer, Cumberland, cousin of the groom.

The bride wore a street-length dress of blue lace with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Umstot wore a pink lace dress with white accessories and a lavender orchid.

A reception was held following the wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shafer, 507 Conrad Avenue, uncle and aunt of the groom. Mrs. Russell Shafer served the cake and Mrs. Kenneth Shafer presided at the punch bowl.

For their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Shafer went to Niagara Falls, New England, and Canada. They are now residing at 602 South Main Street, Keyser.

Mr. Shafer is employed as a salesman for his uncle and also has his own orchestra. Mrs. Shafer is employed as a junior supervisor with the Keyser office of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shafer, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Shafer and Deanna Shafer, Hagerstown; Mr. and Mrs. John Purdy, McCoole; Ernest Umstot, and Scott Cather, Keyser.

Beans Plus -- Yummy Outdoor Food

Dig these crazy Mixed Up Chili Beans! Don't think outdoor characters won't! They're an easy-to-fix mixture of canned pork and beans, ground beef ketchup and condiments. Wonderful with cabbage and carrot salad. Mocha cake and coffee and the picnic's real gone.

Come rain, come sun—you won't have a single worry with this menu. The main dish — Mixed Up Chili Beans — is designed for outdoor cookery, but is just as easily prepared in the kitchen.

Indoors or out, you're off to a running start because the principle ingredient is already — tasty cans of pork and beans in tomato sauce.

To go with the glamourized beans, serve a salad of raw shredded carrots plus green and red cabbage. It's scrumptous with sour cream dressing. Pickles or olives round out the main course. To complete a very satisfying meal — spice cake with mocha frosting and coffee.

Mixed Up Chili Beans

½ pound ground beef
1 large onion, thinly sliced
2 cans (1-pound size each) pork and beans in tomato sauce
¼ cup ketchup
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon chili powder
Dash black pepper
Split toasted buns

Brown beef and onion; stir frequently to separate meat particles. Add remaining ingredients; heat. Serve on buns; garnish with a few onion rings .Makes about 8-10 sandwiches.

A good "cook-indoors, eat-outdoors" dish that travels well is . . .

Beans And Kabobs

2 cans (1-pound size each) pork and beans in tomato sauce
16 pineapple chunks
8 cubes (1-inch) cooked ham

Pour beans into a shallow baking dish. Make kabobs by arranging two chunks of pineapple and one cube of ham on toothpicks; place on top of beans. Bake in a hot oven (400°F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Peanut Cheese Crunch Sandwich Filling

½ cup pimiento cheese spread; ⅓ cup chopped peanuts; ¼ cup sweet pickle relish; 1 tablespoon minced onion; ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Combine cheese spread, peanuts, pickle relish, onion and Worcestershire sauce. Yield: 1 cup, or filling for 5 sandwiches.

Hot chicken rolls au gratin can be made by slicing off the top of finger rolls, then scooping out the center and filling the pocket of the roll with creamed chicken and celery. Sprinkle grated cheese over the filled rolls, and put them — and their tops — on a cookie sheet. Brown in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 15 minutes. Replace roll tops and serve.

Meat Has Lead Role In Diet

It's wise to plan meals around meat to insure high quality protein for good nutrition. Meat has many other important reasons too for being a necessary food on any menu.

Meat has appetite appeal — The aroma and appearance of well-cooked, attractively served meat dishes stimulate the appetite and make meals more enjoyable.

Meat is satisfying—Meat gives a feeling of satisfaction for a long period of time. It has that "stick-to-the-ribs" quality.

Meat permits wide selection — Meat because of the many kinds and cuts available can readily provide a wide variety of cuts for every meal any time.

Lean meat permits balanced reducing diet — Meat because of its protein builds resistance and will protect your from infection. Meat's adequate supply of protein will also eliminate the danger of a too rapid weight loss.

Cool Variations On Iced Coffee Theme

Iced coffee is a superbly refres ng drink all by its tall, dark ar handsome self. At the same tim here are more interesting an delicious ways to vary iced coffe than any other beverage you ca think of. The happy fact is tha coffee blends well with any num ber of other fine flavors.

Let's take spices, for example Stick cinnamon makes a fine stir rer for a glass of frosty coffee, imparting a touch of its own fragrance and flavor. Bitters are a tantalizing blend of many spices—add a drop or two to your iced coffee and see how truly good it is. And then, of course, there is the special summer cooler called Spicy Iced Coffee. Here's the easy recipe:

Spicy Iced Coffee

3 cups hot, double-strength coffee; 2 cinnamon sticks; 4 cloves; 4 allspice berries.

Pour coffee over spices. Let stand one hour. Strain and pour over ice in four tall glasses. Serve with cream and sugar.

Cream in virtually all its forms is a good friend to iced coffee. Plain cream in the pitcher is widely used and it looks mighty pretty swirling down among the ice cubes. Whipped cream makes a luscious topping for coffee, hot or cold, and it takes on extra appeal with a dash of nutmeg sprinkled over it. Finally, ice cream and cold coffee is a delicious combination; best leave out the ice cubes here, though — the ice cream will do the cooling as it mixes with the coffee.

For those who like their coffee sweetened, simple sugar syrup is the ideal sweetener. It goes into complete solution with the cold coffee at a touch and actually seems to improve the taste of the drink. Another sweet addition to iced coffee is chocolate syrup. A tablespoonful or two will make a fine Mocha Cooler.

Continentals never drink cream in their coffee, but they often add a twist of fresh lemon peel for flavor. Try it in iced coffee without cream — it is a lovely, refreshing touch!

Here are several excellent ways to make delicious iced coffee:

Iced Coffee With Coffee Cubes

Brew extra breakfast coffee and cool. Freeze into coffee ice cubes, turning temperature control to coldest point for rapid freezing. Then make iced coffee anytime by pouring regular strength hot coffee over the cubes.

Quick Double Strength Iced Coffee

Make coffee double strength by using half the amount of water to the usual amount of coffee. Pour hot over ice cubes in tall glasses. The extra strong coffee allows for dilution caused by the ice.

Pre-Cooled Iced Coffee

Make regular strength coffee and cool in non-metallic container in refrigerator, not more than three hours. Pour over ice in tall glasses. Serve immediately.

Instant Iced Coffee

Mix twice the usual amount of instant coffee with a little water (hot or cold according to brand) in each glass. Add ice cubes, cold water and stir thoroughly.

Pirates Beat Cubs, 5-4 and 2-1, Return To Fourth Place

Long Clouts Homer No. 18 In Nightcap

Dale Also Wallops Bases Full Triple; Kline, Face Score

CHICAGO, July 12 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates returned to fourth place in the National League today, sweeping a double-header, 5-4 and 2-1, from the Chicago Cubs before a crowd of 19,077.

Dale Long delivered a bases full triple and his 18th homer in the second game and batted in four runs. Elroy Face chalked up his seventh victory and snapped a personal four-game losing skein against the Cubs.

It was the first home run since June 9 for Long, who late in May set a major league record by hitting homers in eight consecutive games.

Face Rescues Rookie

Face came aboard in the third to rescue first time starter Gonzalo Naranjo.

Sam Jones, given a 4-0 lead in the first two innings, was tagged with his eighth loss. The Cubs held an 9-7 hitting edge.

Eddie Winceniak and Gene Baker drew first inning walks before Moose Moryn's 10th homer reached the right field seats for Chicago's 3-0 lead. It became 4-0 when catcher Harry Chiti clouted his fourth homer over the left field screen to open the second.

In the first game, catcher Jack Shepard doubled to score Long, who also had doubled, with what proved the winning run off bonus pitcher Don Kaiser in the fourth.

Kline Wins Eighth

The game's other two runs were both homers. Bill Virdon got his fifth to open the third. Chicago shortstop Ernie Banks blasted his 22nd with one out in the sixth.

Ron Kline gained his eighth win against nine losses by checking the Cubs on 6 hits.

Manager "Whip" Kreitzburg's Indians found their tomahawks yesterday and went on to scalp the Braves, handing the latter their first defeat of the season in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan League at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 6-5.

The Braves had won six in a row before being derailed yesterday. The victory gave the Tribe a 3-3 record and moved them into third place tie with the Athletics.

Pitcher Jim Stratton, who yielded only three hits and struck out 15 batsmen, won his own game in the top of the fifth inning with a tie-breaking single. Pope had walked, stole second, advanced to third on a passed ball and came home with the winning tally on Stratton's bingle.

A five-run rally by the Injuns in the fourth, was highlighted by John Balch's homer with two mates aboard, his second hit of the game. Williams hit a three-run homer for the Braves in the fourth stanza. Score:

Stranahan Has Record 67 In Canadian Open

Ohioan Leads Field At End First Round

BOISCHATEL, Quebec, July 12 (AP)—Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, who won the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship over Royal Quebec's layout nine years ago, broke the course record today with a 67 and led the field in the first round of the $26,800 Open.

Stranahan, playing as a professional for the last two years, shot a five-under-par round that stood up all day against the high-class field.

Stan Leonard of Lachute, Que., was the last player with a hope of over-taking the Toledo muscle man, but fell short by one stroke and joined the record-equalling 68 brigade along with Bill Casper of San Diego, Calif., and Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Stranahan's record 67 beat by one stroke the mark made three years ago by Henry Martell of Edmonton.

Two strokes behind Stranahan at 69 were Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex.; Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Bud Holscher of Apple Valley, Calif., winner of the $26,800 Open in 1954.

Stranahan shot nines of 33-34 against Royal Quebec's 35-37 par and attributed the great round to his putting.

Russia Is Admitted To Tennis Federation

COPENHAGEN, July 12 (AP) — Russia took the first step today toward entering the Davis Cup tennis competition.

Russia has been building up its tennis resources for years, with the announced intention of entering the Davis Cup competition as soon as its athletes were deemed ready.

Piersall Hero, Bosox Win, 3-1

BOSTON, July 12 (AP)—Fiery Jimmy Piersall crashed a mighty two-run homer with one out in the ninth inning after twice making run-stealing catches afield tonight to propel Boston to a 3-1 victory over Chicago.

Piersall whacked loser Jack Harshman's 2-0 delivery for a drive high into the left field screen scoring behind Dick Gernert who had singled.

The blow resolved a 1-1 tie established in the previous inning and topped Jim's big night.

Piersall, with two out and a runner on first, turned in a masterful piece of running thievery on Sherm Lollar's deep poke in the fourth inning.

Playing in straightaway center, Piersall sprinted at an angle to cross behind Ted Williams and grab the ball in front of the scoreboard in left. It had appeared a sure double.

Harshman, who had homered in his own cause for the first run of the game in the eighth, flied to deep right center in the ninth with the bases full and two out but Piersall hauled it in to save disaster.

Trio $100,000 Races Carded For Saturday

Nashua And Swaps Will Go Postward

[By The Associated Press]

One of the thoroughbred racing's greatest bonanzas will come on Saturday when three races of $100,000-added value send a shower of greenbacks over Monmouth, Arlington and Washington parks.

On the afternoon's program will be the Monmouth Handicap at Oceanport, N. J., the Arlington Classic at Chicago and the Hollywood Golf Cup at Inglewood, Calif.—marking the first time three races of one hundred grand or more value have been held on the same day.

Many of America's great name stars will be in action in the three races, which will have a gross value of more than $400,000 if the fields line up as now indicated.

Millionaire Nashua will try to fatten the syndicate pocketbook in the Monmouth Handicap, first $100,000-added race for that seaside course.

Triple world record holder Swaps is a standout in the 17th running of the Hollywood Golf Cup, which has guaranteed the winner $100,000 net for the last seven years. The Gold Cup and Monmouth 'Cap, both for older horses, are over the mile and one quarter route.

At Chicago, Preakness winner Fabius hooks up with Swoon's Son, the speedy Midwest colt who is undefeated in four races this year. The Classic, won last year by Nashua, is a mile gallop for 3-year-olds.

Of the big name horses at the present time, only Kentucky Derby winner Needles will be idle. Needles is at Monmouth, but wants no part of Nashua now and will await the $100,000 American Derby at Washington Park, Aug. 18 where he'll meet other 3-year-olds.

Oddly enough, racing secretaries at the three tracks expect about eight horses in each of the golden gallops.

BISMARK, N. D. (AP) — North Dakota has established antelope in a sixth new area. Forty-nine antelope were trapped in the southwestern corner of the state and moved into the northest corner. Buhl Blanks Dodgers, 2-0

Adcock Hits Homer As Braves Triumph

MILWAUKEE, July 12 (AP)—Bob Buhl shutout the Brooklyn Dodgers on six hits and Joe Adcock belted a home run as the Milwaukee Braves took a 2-0 victory in the first game of a twi-night doubleheader tonight.

The decision was Buhl's fifth without a defeat over the defending champions this year. Buhl encountered his biggest trouble in the ninth ninning when the Dodgers loaded the bases on two singles and a walk after two were out, but failed to score.

The shutout was the eighth of the year for the Milwaukee pitching staff and the first of the season for Buhl who is now 10-5.

Adcock's homer, in the fourth, was his 13th this year and the 100th of his career.

Milwaukee scored its second run in the fifth on singles by Danny O'Connell and Eddie Mathews.

The second game was postponed on account of rain and will be played in a doubleheader Friday.

Probe Scholarships

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — The Montana Board of Education has ordered an investigation into athletic scholarships in the six schools of the University of Montana.

A board member, A. B. Guthrie Jr., Pulitzer prize-winning novelist, said, "By paying students to play football or other sports, we are are admitting the student is already corrupted."

Two of the schools compete in nationally recognized conferences. Montana State University at Missoula competes in the Skyline Conference while Montana State College at Bozeman is a member of the Rocky Mountain Conference.

Brides, Serve Him Right!

Here's a tip for new brides. Cater to your husband's whims about food...and oh how he'll brag and boast about the "girl that he married"!

Even if you've never boiled a potato, you can start right out preparing the kind of meals he really likes. First rule: Avoid menus that are difficult. Take advantage of them any pre-cooked foods that only require heating. You'll discover that even old-timers in the kitchen enjoy their convenience.

For example, serve a turkey dinner complete with all the trimmings....the frozen kind. These complete dinners come from your grocer's freezer, cooked to perfection...ready to heat and serve. You'll find one kind of pot roast and vegetables — fine with fried chicken.

Good and easy dinners, such as this, give you a chance to experiment with one new recipe at a time. Chances are you'll want to choose a dessert that looks pretty and romantic—and tastes heavenly. Strawberry Chiffon Pie wins on all counts. Thanks to pastry mixes, you'll have no trouble making a tender crust. Top the glorious strawberry filling with whipped cream and coconut. Finally imbed halved strawberries in the cream. They'll look like little hearts! And capture his heart!

Strawberry Chiffon Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatine; ¼ cup cold water; 4 eggs, separated; ¾ cup sugar; 1 tablespoon lemon juice; ½ teaspoon salt; 1 cup crushed strawberries; Baked 9-inch pie shell; whipped cream; coconut; sliced strawberries.

Soften gelatine in cold water. Beat egg yolks and combine with ½ cup sugar, lemon juice, and salt in top of double boiler; cook over boiling water until thick, stirring constantly. Add gelatine; stir until dissolved; remove from heat. Add strawberries; beat one minute. Chill until slightly thickened. Beat egg whites until frothy; add ¼ cup sugar gradually, beating until stiff. Fold in strawberry mixture. Pour into pie shell; chill until set. Just before serving, top with whipped cream, coconut, and sliced strawberries. 6 to 8 servings.

A small mollusk known as the teredo or shipworm causes millions of dollars of marine damage each year. It mines through wooden piles and ship timbers with the rasplike surface of its shells.

Sparkling Cherry Drinks For Summer Coolers

In the summer when fresh fruits are in abundance it is well to use them in every way possible. Cherries, for instance, so good in cobblers, pies and just eating in the hand, can be used in delicious tall coolers.

A fine drink can be made by beating together ⅛ cup chopped cherries and ½ cup vanilla ice cream until soft. Pour into a glass and fill the glass with cold sparkling water or pale dry ginger ale.

Then there's a delicious cherry ice cream soda that you can whip up quickly, and a delicious drink, perfect for a warm afternoon.

Cherry Ice Cream Soda

¼ cup chopped sweetened cherries
¼ cup light cream
1 scoop cherry or vanilla ice cream
Sparkling water

Combine cherries and light cream in tall glass. Add ice cream. Fill glass with sparkling water. Stir gently. Serves 1.

Cherry Glow

1 cup chopped, ripe cherries
¾ cup water
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
¾ cup orange juice
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Pale dry ginger ale

Lamb Chops—New Orleans

To serve your family a luscious lamb chop dinner, try this unusual combination. Brown 5 lamb shoulder chops cut 1 inch thick in 1 tablespoon melted lard or drippings. Season with 1 teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Now add 1½ cups tomato juice, ¼ cup chopped green pepper and 2 small onions, chopped. Cover and simmer for 45 minutes or until tender.

Lane Likes Bucs' Chances

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Frank Lane, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, thinks the Pittsburgh Pirates have a good chance to finish in the first division.

As for Pirate Manager Bobby Bragan, who is constantly shuffling his lineup, Lane declares.

"They can say what they want to about Bragan—he's all baseball. He doesn't play the game by the book. He plays the best way he thinks will win games.

Coach Knows Work

WALTON, W. Va. (AP) — Lester Steele Jr. decided that coaching football, basketball and baseball without an assistant was just too much for one man. So he resigned all three jobs at Walton High School.

"Coaching three sports is a tremendous burden," he says. "I feel that it isn't fair to anyone concerned—especially the boys."

The board of education is thinking of hiring two men to replace him.

Chairman Neville Bennett of South Carolina invited party chiefs of 11 Dixie states to confer here on plans for presenting a solid Southern front at the Democratic National Convention.

Alabama and North Carolina today joined the five states which previously had indicated they would be represented.

Mississippi Chairman Thomas J. Tubb said he could not attend because of prior commitments and has been unable to find a representative who could be present.

But he expressed hope the sessions will produce cooperation "among the Southern states to fight within the framework of the Democratic party for the position of the South. We want to win some respect; we've been kicked around some you know."

Representatives from South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Virginia and Tennessee previously had announced they would be present.

Yankees Trim Indians, 9-5, On Bauer's Grand Slam Belt

Delivers In Pinch, Vic Wertz Injured, Kucks Notches 12th

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP) — A bases-loaded home run in the sixth inning by Hank Bauer was the knockout punch today in the New York Yankees' 9-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians, who suffered another blow in the temporary loss of first baseman Vic Wertz.

Wertz went out of the game with a groin injury after a fifth inning collision with the Yankees' first baseman, Bill Skowron, while the former was trying to field a low throw. Skowron was slightly shaken but remained in the game until removed in the seventh for defensive purposes.

The extent of Wertz' injuries was not immediately determined.

His First Of Career

Bauer's homer, his 19th of the season but the first grand slammer of his eight-year major league career, was a blast into the lower left-field stands of Yankee Stadium off Don Mossi, who had just relieved starter Bob Lemon with the bases full.

Lemon was the loser, suffering his seventh setback of the season. He was the first in a parade of four Cleveland pitchers. Mossi was followed by Cal McLish and Hank Aguirre.

Kucks Cops Twelfth

The winner was Johnny Kucks, who gave up a three-run homer to Al Smith in the fourth and who had to be relieved by Tom Morgan in the eighth when the Indians pushed over two more runs. Kucks' record now is 12-4, best statistically on the Yankee staff.

Andy Carey opened the fat sixth for the Yankees with a single to center. This was followed by a single by Gerry Coleman and, after an unsuccessful bunt attempt by Kucks, a walk to Gil McDougald on four straight pitches.

It was at this point that the veteran Lemon was removed and Mossi came in, only to be greeted by Bauer's grand slam blow.

The Yankees scored one run in the second inning on singles by Skowron and Joe Collins and a sacrifice by Carey. They added three more in the fifth, thanks to the first base accident which cut down Wertz.

Orioles' Wight Blanks A's, 4-0

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—Bill Wight pitched a six-hitter and Bob Nieman backed him up with a three-run homer as the Baltimore Orioles trimmed the Kansas City Athletics 4-0 tonight.

Wight struck out five and walked only one as he recorded his first shutout of the season in the first time he has opposed the A's all year. It was his fourth victory against seven setbacks.

Nieman sliced a "wrong way" homer off Art Ditmar with one out in the first inning after the fast-balling righthander had put Tito Francona aboard on a base on balls.

Centerfielder Harry Simpson then dropped George Kell's long hoist in right center for a two-base error to set the stage for Nieman's damaging wallop.

The Orioles added an insurance run in the second when Willy Miranda sneaked home on a run-down situation at second base as Vic Power tried vainly to cut off Wight.

Detroit Tigers Will Pick New Owners Monday

Attack On Veeck Called "Unfair"

DETROIT, July 12 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers will pick their new owners Monday afternoon.

While the club's board of directors was preparing today for the showdown meeting, flamboyant Bill Veeck was busy defending himself against a sharp attack on his methods of promoting baseball.

The free-dealing Veeck, the man with a million gimmicks, replied to an impassioned plea by H. G. Salsinger, sports editor of the Detroit News, to keep Detroit baseball out of Veeck's hands.

The veteran Salsinger, dean of Detroit sports editors, earlier in the week referred to Veeck as "a baseball Ringling" and said the heirs of the late Walter O. Briggs "owe at least one debt to his memory, and that is to put the future of Detroit baseball into the hands of those resolved to continue presenting the game with the same dignity, sincerity, enthusiasm and affection that he had for it."

Call Attack Unfair

Eleven Detroit men who are members of the Veeck syndicate in the $5,250,000 bid for the franchise answered first, calling it an "unfair and unwarranted attack." They cited Veeck's accomplishments as head of the Milwaukee club of the American Association and of the Cleveland and St. Louis clubs of the American League.

Said Veeck himself:

"I have never done anything in baseball that has been in poor taste. The closest thing to it was using the midget in that game in St. Louis. We're selling baseball and we're not selling hokum.

"First of all, we're out to win ball games. But I see nothing wrong in having a little fun. Sure, I did a lot of things to promote baseball and bring fans into the ball parks. And I brought 'em in too. If these things are bad, then I'm guilty."

"These things" include—in addition to using a midget — playing games in the morning and serving breakfast to shifts on their way to and from work, putting on huge fireworks displays, giving away orchids and nylon stockings to female fans, and letting the fans decide the strategy for an entire American League game.

Board To Get Bids

Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr., president of the Tigers, said today a three-man screening committee will present "one or two" bids to the six man board of directors Monday (3:30 p.m. EST). The directors, five of whom are members of the Briggs family, will submit their choice to the American League president, Will Harridge, and Commissioner Ford Frick for examination.

Pirates Beat Cubs, 5-4 and 2-1, Return To Fourth Place

Long Clouts Homer No. 18 In Nightcap

Dale Also Wallops Bases Full Triple; Kline, Face Score

CHICAGO, July 12 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates returned to fourth place in the National League today, sweeping a double-header, 5-4 and 2-1, from the Chicago Cubs before a crowd of 19,077.

Dale Long delivered a bases full triple and his 18th homer in the second game and batted in four runs. Elroy Face chalked up his seventh victory and snapped a personal four-game losing skein against the Cubs.

It was the first home run since June 9 for Long, who late in May set a major league record by hitting homers in eight consecutive games.

Face Rescues Rookie

Face came aboard in the third to rescue first time starter Gonzalo Naranjo.

Sam Jones, given a 4-0 lead in the first two innings, was tagged with his eighth loss. The Cubs held an 9-7 hitting edge.

Eddie Winceniak and Gene Baker drew first inning walks before Moose Moryn's 10th homer reached the right field seats for Chicago's 3-0 lead. It became 4-0 when catcher Harry Chiti clouted his fourth homer over the left field screen to open the second.

In the first game, catcher Jack Shepard doubled to score Long, who also had doubled, with what proved the winning run off bonus pitcher Don Kaiser in the fourth.

Kline Wins Eighth

The game's other two runs were both homers. Bill Virdon got his fifth to open the third. Chicago shortstop Ernie Banks blasted his 22nd with one out in the sixth.

Ron Kline gained his eighth win against nine losses by checking the Cubs on 6 hits.

Manager "Whip" Kreitzburg's Indians found their tomahawks yesterday and went on to scalp the Braves, handing the latter their first defeat of the season in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan League at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 6-5.

The Braves had won six in a row before being derailed yesterday. The victory gave the Tribe a 3-3 record and moved them into third place tie with the Athletics.

Pitcher Jim Stratton, who yielded only three hits and struck out 15 batsmen, won his own game in the top of the fifth inning with a tie-breaking single. Pope had walked, stole second, advanced to third on a passed ball and came home with the winning tally on Stratton's bingle.

A five-run rally by the Injuns in the fourth, was highlighted by John Balch's homer with two mates aboard, his second hit of the game. Williams hit a three-run homer for the Braves in the fourth stanza. Score:

Bill Stemple pitched the first four innings and notched his 7th victory without a defeat. He yielded one hit, walked two and struck out one. Harold Lear, who finished on the mound for the Rotarians, also yielded one hit, fanned three and issued four passes.

Keith Butler paced the Rotary hitters with a double and three singles, Lear had three hits and Bill Duling a pair, including a triple. Cornish and Sanders collected the losing team's hits.

Vaughn Hardesty, Country Club pitcher struck out nine and gave up three walks. Score:

The Phils broke loose just after Cincinnati had taken a 3-2 lead in the last of the eighth.

Stranahan Has Record 67 In Canadian Open

Ohioan Leads Field At End First Round

BOISCHATEL, Quebec, July 12 (AP)—Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, who won the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship over Royal Quebec's layout nine years ago, broke the course record today with a 67 and led the field in the first round of the $26,800 Open.

Stranahan, playing as a professional for the last two years, shot a five-under-par round that stood up all day against the high-class field.

Stan Leonard of Lachute, Que., was the last player with a hope of over-taking the Toledo muscle man, but fell short by one stroke and joined the record-equalling 68 brigade along with Bill Casper of San Diego, Calif., and Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Stranahan's record 67 beat by one stroke the mark made three years ago by Henry Martell of Edmonton.

Two strokes behind Stranahan at 69 were Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex.; Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Bud Holscher of Apple Valley, Calif., winner of the $26,800 Open in 1954.

Stranahan shot nines of 38-34 against Royal Quebec's 35-37 par and attributed the great round to his putting.

Russia Is Admitted To Tennis Federation

COPENHAGEN, July 12 (AP) — Russia took the first step today toward entering the Davis Cup tennis competition.

Russia has been building up its tennis resources for years, with the announced intention of entering the Davis Cup competition as soon as its athletes were deemed ready.

Piersall Hero, Bosox Win, 3-1

BOSTON, July 12 (AP)—Fiery Jimmy Piersall crashed a mighty two-run homer with one out in the ninth inning after twice making run-stealing catches afield tonight to propel Boston to a 3-1 victory over Chicago.

Piersall whacked loser Jack Harshman's 2-0 delivery for a drive high into the left field screen scoring behind Dick Gernert who had singled.

The blow resolved a 1-1 tie established in the previous inning and topped Jim's big night.

Piersall, with two out and a runner on first, turned in a masterful piece of running thievery on Sherm Lollar's deep poke in the fourth inning.

Playing in straightaway center, Piersall sprinted at an angle to cross behind Ted Williams and grab the ball in front of the scoreboard in left. It had appeared a sure double.

Harshman, who had homered in his own cause for the first run of the game in the eighth, flied to deep right center in the ninth with the bases full and two out but Piersall hauled it in to save disaster.

Trio $100,000 Races Carded For Saturday

Nashua And Swaps Will Go Postward

[By The Associated Press]

One of the thoroughbred racing's greatest bonanzas will come on Saturday when three races of $100,000-added value send a shower of greenbacks over Monmouth, Arlington and Washington parks.

On the afternoon's program will be the Monmouth Handicap at Oceanport, N. J., the Arlington Classic at Chicago and the Hollywood Golf Cup at Inglewood, Calif.—marking the first time three races of one hundred grand or more value have been held on the same day.

Many of America's great name stars will be in action in the three races, which will have a gross value of more than $400,000 if the fields line up as now indicated.

Millionaire Nashua will try to fatten the syndicate pocketbook in the Monmouth Handicap, first $100,000-added race for that seaside course.

Triple world record holder Swaps is a standout in the 17th running of the Hollywood Golf Cup, which has guaranteed the winner $100,000 net for the last seven years. The Gold Cup and Monmouth 'Cap, both for older horses, are over the mile and one quarter route.

At Chicago, Preakness winner Fabius hooks up with Swoon's Son, the speedy Midwest colt who is undefeated in four races this year. The Classic, won last year by Nashua, is a mile gallop for 3-year-olds.

Of the big name horses at the present time, only Kentucky Derby winner Needles will be idle. Needles is at Monmouth, but wants no part of Nashua now and will await the $100,000 American Derby at Washington Park, Aug. 18 where he'll meet other 3-year-olds.

Oddly enough, racing secretaries at the three tracks expect about eight horses in each of the golden gallops.

Adcock Hits Homer As Braves Triumph

MILWAUKEE, July 12 (AP)—Bob Buhl shutout the Brooklyn Dodgers on six hits and Joe Adcock belted a home run as the Milwaukee Braves took a 2-0 victory in the first game of a twi-night doubleheader tonight.

The decision was Buhl's fifth without a defeat over the defending champions this year. Buhl encountered his biggest trouble in the ninth ninning when the Dodgers loaded the bases on two singles and a walk after two were out, but failed to score.

The shutout was the eighth of the year for the Milwaukee pitching staff and the first of the season for Buhl who is now 10-5.

Adcock's homer, in the fourth, was his 13th this year and the 100th of his career.

Milwaukee scored its second run in the fifth on singles by Danny O'Connell and Eddie Mathews.

The second game was postponed on account of rain and will be played in a doubleheader Friday.

Probe Scholarships

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — The Montana Board of Education has ordered an investigation into athletic scholarships in the six schools of the University of Montana.

A board member, A. B. Guthrie Jr., Pulitzer prize-winning novelist, said, "By paying students to play football or other sports, we are are admitting the student is already corrupted."

Two of the schools compete in nationally recognized conferences. Montana State University at Missoula competes in the Skyline Conference while Montana State College at Bozeman is a member of the Rocky Mountain Conference.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, July 12 (INS) — Certainly imposing is the list of the first four pictures George Sidney will make for the George Sidney Productions at Columbia. He'll direct the much discussed "Andersonville," the "Jeanne Eagles Story" starring Kim Novak, "Pal Joey" with Rita Hayworth, Kim Novak and Frank Sinatra (Dorothy Kingsley is writing the sript and Fred Kohlmar will produce), and "The Great Sebastians," the Lunt and Fontanne play, for which Bella and Sam Spewak are writing the script and Judy Holliday is the lead.

The first of the four to be made is "The Jeanne Eagles Story," which goes in October. The deal George has with Columbia is a fabulous one. He gets a percentage on all films with which he is associated. His success with "The Eddy Duchin Story" is responsible for this.

Singer Dorothy Collins of "Hit Parade" fame on TV has paid a visit to 20th, Paramount and MGM to say that she is available to make a picture under her new contract. She opens at the Thunderbird in Las Vegas next week.

Dorothy has had so many offers, but could never accept them because under her TV contract she exclusively belonged to "Hit Parade." Under her new contract she has a right to withdraw from her TV show for eight weeks anytime during the year to make a picture.

To make the incredible story of Robert Briscoe, the first Jew ever to be elected lord mayor of Dublin, even more astounding — it's none other than Irishman Robert Ryan who has the inside to bring Briscoe's insipring story to the screen.

Bob, who is here making "Man in War," has been on the trans-Atlantic telephone almost daily talking to Mayor Briscoe with the result that Bob has been promised first consideration.

Ryan says, "This is one of the most inspirational stories of all time—and a lesson in tolerance and understanding that the world sorely needs at this time."

I was surprised to learn that Montgomery Clift has left for New York for about ten more days rest and recuperation before "Raintree County" goes back before the cameras at MGM on July 23. It was thought that Liz Taylor and the rest of the company were just waiting for Monty to be sufficiently recovered from his serious automobile accident before resuming the Civil War story.

But apparently—there are others in the cast, including Eva Saint Saint, now in Europe, still to be rounded up—and the studio has definitely set July 23 as the date to start this picture for the second time. Meanwhile, Monty will take it easy at his home in New York.

Ava Gardner, now in London starring in "The Little Hut," corroborates Porfirio Rubirosa's denial of any impending marriage between them.

"I've only seen Mr. Rubirosa twice," says Ava, "and that was with a group of other people."

Some lucky oriental beauty will be chosen either in Honolulu or Tokyo for the lead in "Saronaya." Sol Biano, Warner Brothers' talent executive, took off Tuesday, stopping first in Honolulu to test girls, then on to Tokyo to make additional tests.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

A complete rewrite of the ending of "The King and Four Queens" takes Clark Gable and Eleanor Parker back to St. George, Utah, for additional scenes.

"I'll have to ask Liz," Mike Wilding said when he was made a definite offer to take the Rex Harrison role in the road company of "My Fair Lady."

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Television & Radio

against a pool of light, or maybe you'll see the back of his head or just possibly he'll be upside down. Sometimes they open with a shot of the whole studio — lights, camera and all that stuff — and a guy running through all this, shouting, "Mr. Berle! Mr. Berle! We're on in five minutes!" Then there's the "Oh, hello there!" approach. To his overwhelming astonishment, a guy just finds himself staring down the throat of a TV camera after he'd only been rehearsing it all afternoon.

In Miss MacKenzie's case, the cute trick consisted of Miss MacKenzie dashing around to the dressing rooms of her guests — Phil Harris, Bobby Sherwood, and Cornel Wilde — and telling them she'd have to cut out their specialty numbers because the show was running overtime, thus introducing herself and her guests and consuming a lot of air time.

Just the same it was a very good musical show. Whoever selected the music had great taste. For one thing he looted "My Fair Lady" of some of its best tunes. Phil Harris sang — or rather recited — "Ordinary Man." He's no Rex Harrison but he did as well as anyone else could have done with a song Mr. Harrison has made peculiarly his own. Miss MacKenzie contributed "I Could Have Danced All Night" (which she isn't quite up to) and "On The Street Where You Live."

It was a very pleasant hour, and, also it looked as if it didn't cost a fortune to produce. Sometimes ingenuity and personality more than make up for a bankroll. I just wish the writers would take it easy in the cuteness department. Miss MacKenzie is cute enough without trying.

'Way back in the Pleistocene or Milton Berle Era of television, the comedians had everything their own way. Now it seems to be the singers who are running off with the prizes. Perry Como and Dinah Shore have proved that songs can not only attract an audience but hold on to it with much greater consistency than comedians. So we have the new "Vic Damone Show,' 'Patti Page, Julius La Rosa and Tony Bennett filling Perry Como's spot, Helen O'Connell on "The Russ Morgan Show," and heaven knows how many other singers in store. It will be a tuneful summer.

On the "Ernie Kovacs Show," a man threw knives at Mr. Kovacs. He missed. A cannon was fired at another actor, impersonating a weight-lifter and blew him through a wall. A stunt guy was billed as about to drive through a flaming hoop then crash into a wall — but he couldn't get the car started. There was also a ghostly ballet in a haunted castle in which only half of one ghost — the part from the waist down — took part. It was real crazy man.

Kovacs' humor is weird, ghoulish, and sometimes very funny. In the daytime, when all our critical faculties are reasonably relaxed I find him a lot of fun. At night, though, where he is now replacing Sid Caesar (NBC-TV 8 p. m., EDT, Mondays), the Kovacs humor seems a little special, a little unfinished, as if they made it all up as they went along. Fair to middling is about the best I can say of his new night-time show — but then it just started and may get better.

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP) — The stock market's run of six straight daily advances was broken today with a moderate decline on average.

But the strength in selected issues was so great that new highs for 1956 outnumbered new lows by a four to one ratio.

Steels, chemicals and motors took the brunt of the selling flurry. Coppers, which were the most solid gainers at the start, suffered least on the decline and came back best late in the day. Their performance followed a uniform lowering of the copper price to 40 cents a pound by leading producers.

The range of losses by pivotal stocks was from fractions to around 2 points but some went to 3 points or so. A few stock made sizable gains.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 60 cents to $186.50, with the industrials off $1.10l the rails 60 cents and the utilities 10 cents.

Among new highs were Aluminum Ltd., General Dynamics, Goodyear, Hilton Hotels, Kaiser Aluminum, Lukens Steel, Ohio, Match, Pittston Co. and Grace & Co.

The most active stock was Southern Production, up 1⅜ at 42¼ on 74,400 shares. Second was U. S. Pipe & Foundry, up 1⅛ at 29⅜ on 34,500 shares. Third was Raytheon, off 1⅜ at 13¾ on 28,300 shares as directors took no dividend action and earnings were reported lower than in the previous year.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 diam.	1 heart	1 spade	2 no trump
Pass	3 clubs	Pass	3 no trump
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Jack of hearts.

A gambit of a most unusual type is observed in the defense of the hand shown today, in that three tricks are deliberately conceded to the opposition for the purpose of gaining one unit of time. And it proved to be a very sound investment.

The auction was normal in all respects but for the question of the opening bid. Some players with hands of this type prefer to preempt with a call of three diamonds, but I would not undertake to quarrel with an opening bid of one which might easily turn out to have good strategic value.

The opening lead was somewhat of a lucky stab and yet it was based on logic. South's vigorous bidding indicates a great strength in spades and diamonds. It is, therefore, reasonable to expect that he has no special support for hearts. North made no effort to insist upon the major suit so that it cannot be too well reinforced.

East's side values are very likely in hearts, since he made a free bid and from declarer's bidding it can be gathered that East's spade suit itself is not very robust.

West, therefore, led the jack of hearts which was covered by the king and the ace. The seven of diamonds was returned and the ten went to West's queen. The nine of hearts was continued and declarer refused to cover with the ten. Nevertheless, East overtook with the queen, despite the fact that it established three good heart tricks in the dummy. He continued with the six of diamonds and declarer was now helpless. The diamonds were now established and declarer could do no better than run with his eight tricks.

Had East practiced false economy and permitted the nine of hearts to hold, the diamonds could not have been established. The ace of clubs would have been extracted from the West hand, permitting declarer to establish nine tricks.

Lane Likes Bucs' Chances

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Frank Lane, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, thinks the Pittsburgh Pirates have a good chance to finish in the first division.

As for Pirate Manager Bobby Bragan, who is constantly shuffling his lineup, Lane declares.

"They can say what they want to about Bragan—he's all baseball. He doesn't play the game by the book. He plays the best way he thinks will win games.

Coach Knows Work

WALTON, W. Va. (AP) — Lester Steele Jr. decided that coaching football, basketball and baseball without an assistant was just too much for one man. So he resigned all three jobs at Walton High School.

"Coaching three sports is a tremendous burden," he says. "I feel that it isn't fair to anyone concerned—especially the boys."

The board of education is thinking of hiring two men to replace him.

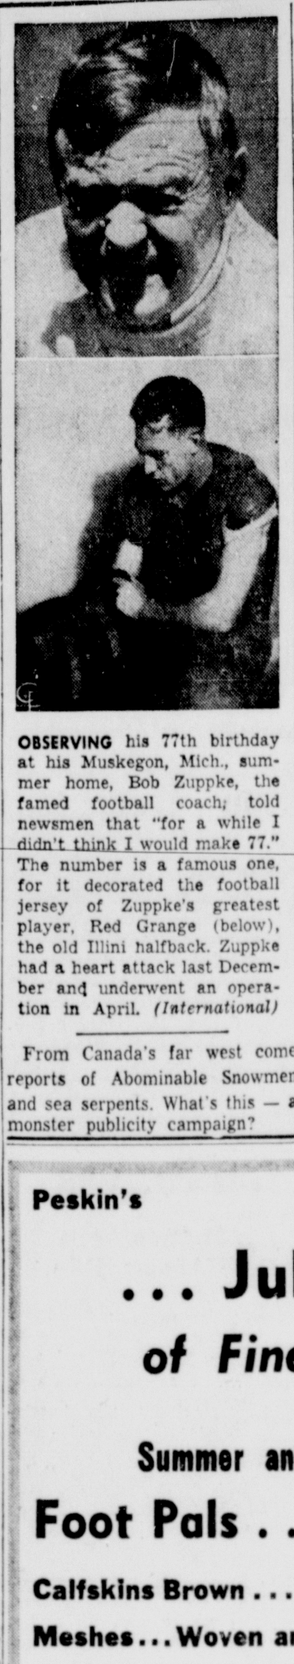
U. S. Decathlon Stars Seek Olympic Berths

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., July 12 (AP)—Three American contenders for the Olympic decathlon championship, a U.S. monopoly since 1932, will be ground out Friday and Saturday in the 10-event AAU test for athletic jacks-of-all-trades.

The record 43-man field also includes masters of specialties, such as the Rev. Bob Richards, No. 1 pole vaulter on the U.S. Olympic team; decathlon favorite Rafer Johnson, a team member in the broad jump, hurdlers Milt Campbell and Aubrey Lewis and high jumper Ernie Shelton.



OBSERVING his 77th birthday at his Muskegon, Mich., summer home, Bob Zuppke, the famed football coach, told newsmen that "for a while I didn't think I would make 77." The number is a famous one, for it decorated the football jersey of Zuppke's greatest player, Red Grange (below), the old Illini halfback. Zuppke had a heart attack last December and underwent an operation in April. (International)

Final Rites Today For "Pete" Cather, Former Hawk Coach

Final rites for William Roscoe "Pete' 'Cather, 49, of 36 Spring Street, Keyser, who died Monday at Baker VA Center, Martinsburg, W. Va., will be held at 1:30 p. m., at the Markwood Funeral Home, Keyser. Interment will be in Queen's Point Cemetery.

Cather was an outstanding football player at Emory and Henry College, Emory, Va., in the 1930s and was regarded as one of the top quarterbacks in the South, making many of the all-star college elevens.

He was one of Ridgeley High School's early coaches and tutored the only undefeated and untied football team ever turned out at the school across the Potomac. "Pete" coached basketball and football at Ridgeley in 1938 and 1939 and his 1939 eleven won eight consecutive games. The Blackhawks scored wins over LaSalle, Alumni, Hyndman, Keyser, Moorefield, Berkeley Springs, Romney and Piedmont. It was Ridgeley's first season in the P.V.C. but Parsons won the title with a 6-0 record while the Hawks had a 4-0 mark in that circuit.

Era Of The Singers

The eight to nine p. m. (EDT) Tuesday spot on NBC, normally sacred to Milton Berle, Bob Hope and similar stand-up-and-belt-'em comedians, was filled last week by Gisele MacKenzie, a slip of a girl normally found out "The Hit Parade."

Miss MacKenzie is a girl of formidable talent who can sing, play the violin and the piano, handle a comedy line, and at least go through the motions of dancing, and it has long been apparent that "The Hit Parade" didn't offer her sufficient scope for all those activities. On the Tuesday night "Chevy Show" she had it!

In my notes on "The Chevy Show," I find the word "cute" six times, the word "coy" once, which would seem to be an awful lot of archness for a single hour. And there was an awful lot. I suppose I ought to explain that the word "cute" has, in my lexicon, several meanings. When applied to Miss MacKenzie's version of a gay French song, "Le Fiacre," it means I like it.

When affixed to the opening of a show — as it was in this case — it means I got a little restive and wished they'd get on with the business at hand. Incidentally, the search for cute openings on television is getting to resemble the movies' frantic effort to make boy meet girl in the most unusual ways some years back. Boy used to encounter girl in revolving doors, or under awnings when they took refuge from the rain, or on the Observation Roof of the Empire State Building where she's poised to jump.

Yankees Trim Indians, 9-5, On Bauer's Grand Slam Belt

Delivers In Pinch, Vic Wertz Injured, Kucks Notches 12th

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP) — A bases-loaded home run in the sixth inning by Hank Bauer was the knockout punch today in the New York Yankees' 9-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians, who suffered another blow in the temporary loss of first baseman Vic Wertz.

Wertz went out of the game with a groin injury after a fifth inning collision with the Yankees' first baseman, Bill Skowron, while the former was trying to field a low throw. Skowron was slightly shaken but remained in the game until removed in the seventh for defensive purposes.

The extent of Wertz' injuries was not immediately determined.

His First Of Career

Bauer's homer, his 19th of the season but the first grand slammer of his eight-year major league career, was a blast into the lower left-field stands of Yankee Stadium off Don Mossi, who had just relieved starter Bob Lemon with the bases full.

Lemon was the loser, suffering his seventh setback of the season. He was the first in a parade of four Cleveland pitchers. Mossi was followed by Cal McLish and Hank Aguirre.

Kucks Cops Twelfth

The winner was Johnny Kucks, who gave up a three-run homer to Al Smith in the fourth and who had to be relieved by Tom Morgan in the eighth when the Indians pushed over two more runs. Kucks' record now is 12-4, best statistically on the Yankee staff.

Andy Carey opened the fat sixth for the Yankees with a single to center. This was followed by a single by Gerry Coleman and, after an unsuccessful bunt attempt by Kucks, a walk to Gil McDougald on four straight pitches.

It was at this point that the veteran Lemon was removed and Mossi came in, only to be greeted by Bauer's grand slam blow.

The Yankees scored one run in the second inning on singles by Skowron and Joe Collins and a sacrifice by Carey. They added three more in the fifth, thanks to the first base accident which cut down Wertz.

Patterson's Hand Pronounced Fit

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP) — The broken right hand of Floyd Patterson was pronounced fit and almost ready for action today.

Cus D'Amato manager of the big Negro, said "if Archie Moore meets him then we will have a new champion and a worthy successor to Rocky Marciano."

Moore and Patterson are the principal claimants to the heavyweight title Marciano resigned April 27.

A plaster cast was removed today from Patterson's hand, which he broke in winning a split decision from Hurricane Jackson June 8 in a fight considered an elimination contest on the way to the heavyweight championship.

Orioles' Wight Blanks A's, 4-0

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—Bill Wight pitched a six-hitter and Bob Nieman backed him up with a three-run homer as the Baltimore Orioles trimmed the Kansas City Athletics 4-0 tonight.

Wight struck out five and walked only one as he recorded his first shutout of the season in the first time he has opposed the A's all year. It was his fourth victory against seven setbacks.

Nieman sliced a "wrong way" homer off Art Ditmar with one out in the first inning after the fast-balling righthander had put Tito Francona aboard on a base on balls.

Centerfielder Harry Simpson then dropped George Kell's long hoist in right center for a two-base error to set the stage for Nieman's damaging wallop.

The Orioles added an insurance run in the second when Willy Miranda sneaked home on a run-down situation at second base as Vic Power tried vainly to cut off Wight.

Detroit Tigers Will Pick New Owners Monday

Attack On Veeck Called "Unfair"

DETROIT, July 12 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers will pick their new owners Monday afternoon.

While the club's board of directors was preparing today for the showdown meeting, flamboyant Bill Veeck was busy defending himself against a sharp attack on his methods of promoting baseball.

The free-dealing Veeck, the man with a million gimmicks, replied to an impassioned plea by H. G. Salsinger, sports editor of the Detroit News, to keep Detroit baseball out of Veeck's hands.

The veteran Salsinger, dean of Detroit sports editors, earlier in the week referred to Veeck as "a baseball Ringling" and said the heirs of the late Walter O. Briggs "owe at least one debt to his memory, and that is to put the future of Detroit baseball into the hands of those resolved to continue presenting the game with the same dignity, sincerity, enthusiasm and affection that he had for it."

Call Attack Unfair

Eleven Detroit men who are members of the Veeck syndicate in the $5,250,000 bid for the franchise answered first, calling it an "unfair and unwarranted attack." They cited Veeck's accomplishments as head of the Milwaukee club of the American Association and of the Cleveland and St. Louis clubs of the American League.

Said Veeck himself:

"I have never done anything in baseball that has been in poor taste. The closest thing to it was using the midget in that game in St. Louis. We're selling baseball and we're not selling hokum.

"First of all, we're out to win ball games. But I see nothing wrong in having a little fun. Sure, I did a lot of things to promote baseball and bring fans into the ball parks. And I brought 'em in too. If these things are bad, then I'm guilty.

"These things" include—in addition to using a midget — playing games in the morning and serving breakfast to shifts on their way to and from work, putting on huge fireworks displays, giving away orchids and nylon stockings to female fans, and letting the fans decide the strategy for an entire American League game.

Board To Get Bids

Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr., president of the Tigers, said today a three-man screening committee will present "one or two" bids to the six man board of directors Monday (3:30 p.m. EST). The directors, five of whom are members of the Briggs family, will submit their choice to the American League president, Will Harridge, and Commissioner Ford Frick for examination.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Charles A. Jewell, who left us three years ago today, July 13, 1953.
Down a road that's calm and peaceful
Guided by God's loving hand,
He has gone upon a journey
To a distant, brighter land.
And although our hearts are heavy,
With the sorrow we must bear,
It helps to bring us comfort
Knowing he is happy there.
Sadly missed but dearly loved by his

An Important Message For Parents

If your son is between 17 and 18½ years of age, he can start completing his military obligation now. He can enlist in a local unit of the Army Reserve now and still continue his high school education. The SPECIAL enlistment requires only six months of active duty training and this training DOES NOT INTERFERE with normal high school attendance. Since January, over 500 young men have enlisted in Army Reserve units in Maryland and the number enlisting is growing—many men who enlisted earlier under this SPECIAL program have completed their six months training and are now ineligible for the draft while they perform their reserve duty training with local units.

May we strongly suggest that parents inquire today and get the complete details on this SPECIAL enlistment. Some parents have been deeply disappointed because they were not fully aware of this SPECIAL program until after their son passed the age of 18½ years—the age limitations are specified by law and waivers on age are not permitted.

Full details can be obtained, during the day and on most evenings, at Army Reserve Training Center:

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, July 12 (INS) — Certainly imposing is the list of the first four pictures George Sidney will make for the George Sidney Productions at Columbia. He'll direct the much discussed "Andersonville," the "Jeanne Eagles Story" starring Kim Novak, "Pal Joey" with Rita Hayworth, Kim Novak and Frank Sinatra (Dorothy Kingsley is writing the sript and Fred Kohlmar will produce), and "The Great Sebastians," the Lunt and Fontanne play, for which Bella and Sam Spewak are writing the script and Judy Holliday is the lead.

The first of the four to be made is "The Jeanne Eagles Story," which goes in October. The deal George has with Columbia is a fabulous one. He gets a percentage on all films with which he is associated. His success with "The Eddy Duchin Story" is responsible for this.

Singer Dorothy Collins of "Hit Parade" fame on TV has paid a visit to 20th, Paramount and MGM to say that she is available to make a picture under her new contract. She opens at the Thunderbird in Las Vegas next week.

Dorothy has had so many offers, but could never accept them because under her TV contract she exclusively belonged to "Hit Parade." Under her new contract she has a right to withdraw from her TV show for eight weeks anytime during the year to make a picture.

To make the incredible story of Robert Briscoe, the first Jew ever to be elected lord mayor of Dublin, even more astounding — it's none other than Irishman Robert Ryan who has the inside to bring Briscoe's insipring story to the screen.

Bob, who is here making "Man in War," has been on the trans-Atlantic telephone almost daily talking to Mayor Briscoe with the result that Bob has been promised first consideration.

Ryan says, "This is one of the most inspirational stories of all time—and a lesson in tolerance and understanding that the world sorely needs at this time."

I was surprised to learn that Montgomery Clift has left for New York for about ten more days rest and recuperation before "Raintree County" goes back before the cameras at MGM on July 23. It was thought that Liz Taylor and the rest of the company were just waiting for Monty to be sufficiently recovered from his serious automobile accident before resuming the Civil War story.

But apparently—there are others in the cast, including Eva Saint Saint, now in Europe, still to be rounded up—and the studio has definitely set July 23 as the date to start this picture for the second time. Meanwhile, Monty will take it easy at his home in New York.

Ava Gardner, now in London starring in "The Little Hut," corroborates Porfirio Rubirosa's denial of any impending marriage between them.

"I've only seen Mr. Rubirosa twice," says Ava, "and that was with a group of other people."

Some lucky oriental beauty will be chosen either in Honolulu or Tokyo for the lead in "Saronaya." Sol Biano, Warner Brothers' talent executive, took off Tuesday, stopping first in Honolulu to test girls, then on to Tokyo to make additional tests.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

A complete rewrite of the ending of "The King and Four Queens" takes Clark Gable and Eleanor Parker back to St. George, Utah, for additional scenes.

"I'll have to ask Liz," Mike Wilding said when he was made a definite offer to take the Rex Harrison role in the road company of "My Fair Lady."

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

against a pool of light, or maybe you'll see the back of his head or just possibly he'll be upside down. Sometimes they open with a shot of the whole studio — lights, camera and all that stuff — and a guy running through all this, shouting, "Mr. Berle! Mr. Berle! We're on in five minutes!" Then there's the "Oh, hello there!" approach. To his overwhelming astonishment, a guy just finds himself staring down the throat of a TV camera after he'd only been rehearsing it all afternoon.

In Miss MacKenzie's case, the cute trick consisted of Miss MacKenzie dashing around to the dressing rooms of her guests — Phil Harris, Bobby Sherwood, and Cornel Wilde — and telling them she'd have to cut out their specialty numbers because the show was running overtime, thus introducing herself and her guests and consuming a lot of air time.

Just the same it was a very good musical show. Whoever selected the music had great taste. For one thing he looted "My Fair Lady" of some of its best tunes. Phil Harris sang — or rather recited — "Ordinary Man." He's no Rex Harrison but he did as well as anyone else could have done with a song Mr. Harrison has made peculiarly his own. Miss MacKenzie contributed "I Could Have Danced All Night" (which she isn't quite up to) and "On The Street Where You Live."

It was a very pleasant hour, and, also it looked as if it didn't cost a fortune to produce. Sometimes ingenuity and personality more than make up for a bankroll. I just wish the writers would take it easy in the cuteness department. Miss MacKenzie is cute enough without trying.

'Way back in the Pleistocene or Milton Berle Era of television, the comedians had everything their own way. Now it seems to be the singers who are running off with the prizes. Perry Como and Dinah Shore have proved that songs can not only attract an audience but hold on to it with much greater consistency than comedians. So we have the new "Vic Damone Show,' 'Patti Page, Julius La Rosa and Tony Bennett filling Perry Como's spot, Helen O'Connell on "The Russ Morgan Show," and heaven knows how many other singers in store. It will be a tuneful summer.

On the "Ernie Kovacs Show," a man threw knives at Mr. Kovacs. He missed. A cannon was fired at another actor, impersonating a weight-lifter and blew him through a wall. A stunt guy was billed as about to drive through a flaming hoop then crash into a wall — but he couldn't get the car started: There was also a ghostly ballet in a haunted castle in which only half of one ghost — the part from the waist down — took part. It was real crazy man.

Kovacs' humor is weird, ghoulish, and sometimes very funny. In the daytime, when all our critical faculties are reasonably relaxed I find him a lot of fun. At night, though, where he is now replacing Sid Caesar (NBC-TV 8 p. m., EDT, Mondays), the Kovacs humor seems a little special, a little unfinished, as if they made it all up as they went along. Fair to middling is about the best I can say of his new night-time show — but then it just started and may get better.

Moderate Decline Halts Six-Day Market Advance

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP) — The stock market's run of six straight daily advances was broken today with a moderate decline on average.

But the strength in selected issues was so great that new highs for 1956 outnumbered new lows by a four to one ratio.

Steels, chemicals and motors took the brunt of the selling flurry. Coppers, which were the most solid gainers at the start, suffered least on the decline and came back best late in the day. Their performance followed a uniform lowering of the copper price to 40 cents a pound by leading producers.

The range of losses by pivotal stocks was from fractions to around 2 points but some went to 3 points or so. A few stock made sizable gains.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 60 cents to $186.50, with the industrials off $1.10l the rails 60 cents and the utilities 10 cents.

Among new highs were Aluminum Ltd., General Dynamics, Goodyear, Hilton Hotels, Kaiser Aluminum, Lukens Steel, Ohio, Match, Pittston Co. and Grace & Co.

The most active stock was Southern Production, up 1⅜ at 42¼ on 74,400 shares. Second was U. S. Pipe & Foundry, up 1⅛ at 29⅜ on 34,500 shares. Third was Raytheon, off 1⅜ at 13¾ on 28,300 shares as directors took no dividend action and earnings were reported lower than in the previous year.

Chicago Board Of Trade

CHICAGO, July 12 (AP)—A sharp break in July soybeans featured a generally easy grain market on the Board of Trade today.

July soybeans broke almost 10 cents, the daily limit, near the finish.

Other sections of the market had much smaller losses and toward the finish wheat showed rallying tendencies.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 diam.	1 heart	1 spade	2 no trump
Pass	3 clubs	Pass	3 no trump
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Jack of hearts.

A gambit of a most unusual type is observed in the defense of the hand shown today, in that three tricks are deliberately conceded to the opposition for the purpose of gaining one unit of time. And it proved to be a very sound investment.

The auction was normal in all respects but for the question of the opening bid. Some players with hands of this type prefer to preempt with a call of three diamonds, but I would not undertake to quarrel with an opening bid of one which might easily turn out to have good strategic value.

The opening lead was somewhat of a lucky stab and yet it was based on logic. South's vigorous bidding indicates a great strength in spades and diamonds. It is, therefore, reasonable to expect that he has no special support for hearts. North made no effort to insist upon the major suit so that it cannot be too well reinforced.

East's side values are very likely in hearts, since he made a free bid and from declarer's bidding it can be gathered that East's spade suit itself is not very robust.

West, therefore, led the jack of hearts which was covered by the king and the ace. The seven of diamonds was returned and the ten went to West's queen. The nine of hearts was continued and declarer refused to cover with the ten. Nevertheless, East overtook with the queen, despite the fact that it established three good heart tricks in the dummy. He continued with the six of diamonds and declarer was now helpless. The diamonds were now established and declarer could do no better than run with his eight tricks.

Had East practiced false economy and permitted the nine of hearts to hold, the diamonds could not have been established. The ace of clubs would have been extracted from the West hand, permitting declarer to establish nine tricks.

Toynbee Sees End Of Europe's Rule In Africa

GENEVA, July 12 (AP)—Arnold J. Toynbee says it will be surprising if a European minority is still dominant in any African country 50 years from now.

The English historian and writer makes this prediction in an article published today in the ecumenical review of the World Council of Churches.

Toynbee says British grant of full self-government to India, Pakistan, Ceylon and Burma in 1947 "made it certain that all subject peoples in Asia and Africa would win the same status in the near future."

Noting that self-government already has been won by Indonesia, Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia, Libya, Tunisia, Morocco, French West Africa, the Gold Coast, Nigeria and Sudan, Toynbee adds it hardly can be long delayed in Algeria and Cyprus.

"What is going to happen in Kenya, British Central Africa and South Africa we do not know, but it would be surprising if a European minority were still dominant in any African country 50 years from now," he asserts.

The lesson learned in Asia and Africa, Toynbee reports, is that "the timing of the granting of self-government is all-important. If the former imperial power tries to hold on to its rule over its subject peoples until the latest possible moment, it will have to make a humiliating exit, and it and they will part as enemies."

He cites that as the history of the exits of the French from Syria, Lebanon and Indochina, of the Dutch from Indonesia and of the British from Egypt.

Toynbee contends it "is impolitic and disagreeable, as well as immoral, to try to hold unwilling subjects by force."

BARBAN LINER 'GIULIO CESARE' WELCOMED

H-Tests Still Going On

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—U.S. officials said today the hydrogen bomb tests in the Pacific are still under way and will probably continue until late August. But there is no apparent relaxation of the Atomic Energy Commission's ban on announcing individual tests.

A Nigerian witch doctor now advertises in his local journal. Proves again what we've always contended — for results, there's no magic like newspaper want ads!

Era Of The Singers

The eight to nine p. m. (EDT) Tuesday spot on NBC, normally sacred to Milton Berle, Bob Hope and similar stand-up-and-belt-'em comedians, was filled last week by Gisele MacKenzie, a slip of a girl normally found out "The Hit Parade."

Miss MacKenzie is a girl of formidable talent who can sing, play the violin and the piano, handle a comedy line, and at least go through the motions of dancing, and it has long been apparent that "The Hit Parade" didn't offer her sufficient scope for all those activities. On the Tuesday night "Chevy Show" she had it!

In my notes on "The Chevy Show," I find the word "cute" six times, the word "coy" once, which would seem to be an awful lot of archness for a single hour. And there was an awful lot. I suppose I ought to explain that the word "cute" has, in my lexicon, several meanings. When applied to Miss MacKenzie's version of a gay French song, "Le Fiacre," it means I like it.

When affixed to the opening of a show — as it was in this case — it means I got a little restive and wished they'd get on with the business at hand. Incidentally, the search for cute openings on television is getting to resemble the movies' frantic effort to make boy meet girl in the most unusual ways some years back. Boy used to encounter girl in revolving doors, or under awnings when they took refuge from the rain, or on the Observation Roof of the Empire State Building where she's poised to jump.

But that's nothing to the way the comedians get introduced these days. You may get your first glimpse of a TV star as a shadow

Boy, 12, Killed In Freak Target Practice Mishap

Victim Dies On Way To Hospital

A 12-year-old Piedmont boy was shot and killed yesterday afternoon in a target shooting accident in the hills on the outskirts of the Mineral County, W. Va., community.

Prosecuting Attorney Vernon E. Rankin of Keyser, said Beryle J. Whetzel, Jr., died en route to Potomac Valley Hospital shortly after the shooting. He was fatally wounded in the chest just below the heart, Rankin said.

The youngster, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Beryle J. Whetzel, of 24 East Fairview Street in Piedmont, had been helping his stepbrother, David Shoop, 16, and Paul McGoye, 17, both of Piedmont, shoot mark near the television and radio tower at the top of the hill .

Rankin said the two teen-age boys gave this version of the mishap:

Rifle Jams

The two older boys had been shooting apples from trees with a .22 calibre rifle most of the afternood. Young Whetzel had been picking up the empty cartridge shells ejected from the rifle, they said.

Sometime after 3 p. m. a cartridge failed to fire as McGoye was shooting. He attempted to eject the bad shell from the rifle by working the bolt. Whetzel moved in front of the rifle, either in an attempt to help him or to pick up some spent cartridges, when the gun fired as McGoye worked the bolt action.

The bullet struck Whetzel in the center of the chest and angled downward in his body, Rankin said.

McGoye ran about a mile to the home of Daniel Snyder to get aid while Shook stayed beside the injured boy. Snyder helped carry the boy, still—conscious from the hill and took him to the hospital in Keyser in his car.

Whetzel was pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital.

Inquest Scheduled

Rankin said an official inquest will be held before Justice of the Peace Anna Abramson in Piedmont Monday, July 23. He said investigation of the incident indicated it apparently was an accidental shooting.

Cpl. Evan Moody of the Keyser detachment of the West Virginia State Police, aided in the investigation. The state trooper said he found at least 26 empty cartridges in the trouser pockets of the victim. Both McGoye and Shook reenacted the shooting at the scene for the investigators.

Whetzel, who would have been a sixth grade pupil at Piedmont Elementary School this fall, was born in April 1944 in Luke. He attended the Assembly of God Church and Sunday school in Westernport.

Surviving are his parents, two sisters, Verna Lee and Linda C., both at home; two brothers, James H. Whetzel and William Richard Whetzel, also at home, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Moon of Westernport.

The body is at the Boal Funeral Home in Westernport.

Md. Workshop On Clothing Planned Here

Mrs. Edna Bryte Bishop, McDonald, Pa., creator of the Bishop method of clothing construction, will serve as consultant at a statewide workshop on clothing construction for home economics teachers to be held at Fort Hill High School starting Monday, July 23.

Miss Ruth C. McColly, supervisor of home economics in the Allegany County public schools, who announced plans for the two-week workshop, said that this will mark Mrs. Bishop's fourth appearance at a workshop in Maryland. She has attended two county-wide workshops here and one in College Park.

This coming workshop, which will run until August 3, is being sponsored by the State Department of Education and Miss Evelyn Miller, state supervisor of home economics.

Some 67 persons will attend the workshop. There will be representatives from 19 of Maryland's 23 counties and Baltimore city as well as two from Canada, one from the State of Washington and one from West Virginia.

Those selected for the workshop are supervisors, classroom teachers and adult education teachers who will be able to return to their respective counties and conduct in-service training programs in clothing construction for other teachers.

Mrs. Bishop will be assisted by Mrs. Marie Farrell, an adult education teacher from this county, and Miss McColly.

All sessions of the two-week workshop will be conducted at Fort Hill, either in the home economics classrooms or in the cafeteria.

Miss Yola Hudson, teacher at Fort Hill, will serve as business manager for the workshop. Housing accommodations for most of the workshop participants have been found in private homes. Many of Allegany County's home economics teachers will participate in the workshop.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster will welcome the participants and introduce Mrs. Bishop at the opening session.

Kiwanians Hear Report On Atomic Energy Uses

John E. Hibline of Baltimore, a representative of the National Coal Association, told the Cumberland Kiwanis Club yesterday at Central YMCA that in another 10 years about 10 per cent of all power in the United States will be generated by atomic reactors.

Discussing the economic competition likely to result from peaceful uses of the atom, Hibline said it is predicted that in another 10 years there will be a greater demand for coal than there is today.

$100,000 Suit Will Be Tried In U. S. Court

Originally Filed For Action Here

A $100,000 damage suit filed originally in Allegany County Circuit Court as a result of the runaway truck accident last October 19 which killed five persons in LaVale has been removed to U. S. District Court in Baltimore and is expected to be tried September 12 along with another action for $500,000.

The $100,000 suit was filed by Attorney Noel Speir Cook March 15 in behalf of Mrs. Sarah Virginia Lloyd, RFD 1, Frostburg, mother of Miss Grace Evelyn Lloyd, one of the crash victims.

On April 4 the defendants in the suit, Ray Wells, RFD 2, Dover, York County, Pa., owner of the runaway tractor-trailer; Daniel Motor Freight Inc., Warren, Ohio, which leased the truck, and Paul Stewart Myers Jr., RFD 2, Dover Pa., the truck driver, petitioned to have the case removed to Federal Court.

The $500,000 suit with which Mrs. Lloyd's case is scheduled to be coupled was brought by Mrs. Willa M. Fearer, also of Frostburg, widow of Clifford P. Fearer, owner and driver of the car which was smashed by the truck, killing all four occupants.

Mrs. Fearer, through Attorneys Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson, filed the $500,000 action for benefit of herself and three young children.

Claims brought by the heirs of the other three victims of the crash have been settled for a total of about $74,000. Those victims were Francis X. Spearman and Miss Nellie K. Thomas, both of Frostburg, and Samuel Brenneman of Springs, Pa.

St. Philip's Men Plan Ox Roast Picnic Sunday

The Men of St. Philip's Episcopal Church plan an ox roast picnic meal all day Sunday at Malamphy's farm on Christie Road, according to Rev. David C. Streett, vicar. Visitors for the event are expected from most of the communities in the Tri-State area.

An outstanding feature of the afternoon is a beauty contest under the direction of Edward Gates III. Judges will be announced at the picnic grounds.

Also on the program are various athletic events under the direction of Mrs. Greta McIntyre Hoes. The ox roast is under the general chairmanship of Bruce E. Gates. Garland H. Darr, Nial Keyes and Jack Powell will have charge of the gate. Paul Atkinson and William N. Wood are the chefs. William W. Stewart is head waiter and Charles L. Denson is coordinator.

Tickets, which include the meal and admission to all events, may be purchased in advance from the Men of St. Philip's or at the gate on Sunday. In addition, the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Philip's will sell refreshments.

Purple Heart Will Convene Here Today

National Commander To Attend Meeting

A. J. "Ted" Healy, of Madison, Wis., national commander of the Military Order of the Purple Heart, will attend the 15th annual state convention of the Department of Maryland, which opens here today.

Herbert McFarland, general chairman of the three-day convention, said last night he was notified earlier in the day that the national commander is expected to arrive here tomorrow and will attend the banquet and dance Saturday night at the Fort Cumberland Hotel ballroom.

Healy, according to McFarland, is in Washington for the purpose of making plans for the national convention scheduled next month in Lakeland, Fla.

Alice E. Reilly, department auxiliary president; Mrs. Beatrice G. Donovan, department auxiliary secretary and past national president, and Emma L. Hudson, past department auxiliary president, arrived in Cumberland yesterday evening.

An initiation of six candidates into the local auxiliary unit will be held this morning about 10:30 o'clock at convention headquarters, the Algonquin Hotel.

The department president and past national president of the auxiliary will be in charge of the ceremony. The Department of Maryland convention will open at 1:30 p. m. today with business sessions at the hotel.

Arrangements for the memorial service at the Washington headquarters at Riverside Park on Sunday will be made this afternoon, according to McFarland, who said registration of delegates will be held from about 4 o'clock until 6 o'clock this afternoon at the hotel.

The social event of the opening day of the convention will be a garden party this evening at the Purple Heart Center which is an "open house" affair. It will begin at 7 p. m.

In conjunction with the state meeting, McFarland said, Mountain Chapter 166 has completed tentative plans for a community project whereby a hospital bed or wheel chair will be available at no cost to persons unable to provide for such equipment.

Further information on the service may be obtained from McFarland at the Purple Heart Center. The beds and chairs are limited in number, he explained, and will be obtainable on a first-come, first-served basis.

Mrs. Virchie McFarland of this city is convention chairman for the auxiliary, while Mrs. Anna McCarthy heads the credentials committee.

Hot Shoes Cause Firemen To Don Their Gas Masks

Firemen from South Cumberland Company had to use gas masks when they answered an alarm yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Robertson, 15 East Laing Avenue.

The reason: a pair of wet tennis shoes cooking in the kitchen oven. Firemen said the owner had put them there to dry, then forgot them.

Other calls yesterday sent the fire company to Sullivan's junk yard on Ford Avenue at 12:55 a.m. to put out a fire in an old car seat, and to South Cumberland Salvation Army Corps, 505 Virginia Avenue, at 1:57 p. m., when a gas furnace unit became disconnected. There was no fire.

350 Boy Scouts At Camp During First 4 Weeks

Boy Scouts from all over the area have been taking advantage of the facilities offered at Camp Potomac, near Oldtown.

Ross O. Decker, Potomac Council camping and activity chairman, announced yesterday that 350 boys have attended during the first four weeks of the camping season at Camp Potomac.

Two weeks remain before the Boy Scouts turn the camp over for the remainder of the summer to the Girl Scouts.

Girls from the Tri-Councils will be at the camp the first week beginning July 29. After this, local Girl Scouts will be at the camp for the final three weeks of the summer camping season.

The camp is under the direction of Kenneth Babcock, who is an instructor at Frostburg State Teachers College. Wilbert Sifton is an assistant camp director; James Rankin, waterfront director; Joseph Graham, rifle instructor; Wallace Buchanan, handicraft director, and John Fatkin, provisional scoutmaster.

While at the camp the scouts have a varied program in which they may participate. Archery, field archery, rifle, swimming and handicrafts are a few of the many activities available. Awards are made weekly to winners of each sport.

It marked the second time in the past week the window has been found taken out.

Foliage Experts Spot Gas Leaks From Moving Truck

Experts trained to detect the effect of leaking gas upon foliage are used by the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company as part of a continuing program of reducing leakage to a minimum.

Details of the method of detecting leaks by foliage changes were related by Albert E. Lauderbaugh, chief engineer of the company, recently at a hearing before the Public Service Commission.

The company each summer employs a special service group, Heath Vegetatation Surveys, to detect leaks in its gas lines.

The firm, Lauderbaugh said, has trained forestry and foliage experts who can spot gas leaks by changes in the foliage.

A trained observer, he said, can lean over a bar set in the back of a pickup truck and spot changes in the color of foliage as the truck travels along the lines at 15 miles or more an hour.

When he spots a change in color, he said, the expert raps on the roof of the truck in order to stop the vehicle.

The expert will ask another member of the crew to try the test bar at that point, and they will put the test bar through, and aspirate a sample to determine whether or not there is a leak.

The company has line walkers, he added, who patrol lines constantly to detect leaks.

Other crews, he said, conduct bar-test surveys, checking all gate boxes; utility connections and all sewer connections in order to keep track of leaks.

Equity Suit Filed

Harold Dale Valentine yesterday filed an equity suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against Grace Marie Valentine.

Today Is Final Day To Purchase Bicycle Tags

Today is the last day to get your bicycle tags, youngsters!

Mrs. Vivian Turley, clerk for the traffic division of the Cumberland Police Department, said approximately 1,029 bicycle permits have been issued to bike owners in the city. Last year there were 1,750 tags issued, which means there are some 700 bikes without the new permits and tags.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn gave bike owners a two-weeks reprieve beyond the first (July 1) deadline, until July 15. However, the bike registration office at Police Headquarters will not be open Saturday or Sunday.

Chief Flynn warned that bicycles without new tags will be confiscated for a month after the 15th.

Woman Injures Hand In Court House Door

Mrs. Jean K. Brotemarkle, 31, wife of Allen Brotemarkle, 326 Pear Street, had part of the middle finger of her left hand amputated yesterday afternoon at Memorial Hospital, where she was admitted about 4 p. m.

Attendants said she caught her hand in the swinging door at the entrance of the Allegany County Court House. Mrs. Brotemarkle was holding the door open while pushing a baby stroller through, when the door slipped and smashed her finger.

'Missing' Gas Poses Mystery In PSC Hearing

Objectors Say Consumer Pays

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—Reports on several million cubic feet of "missing" gas were filed today with the Public Service Commission.

Questions over where the gas has gone were the core of resistance to a request by the Cumberland Gas & Allegheny Gas Co. to increase rates.

Hearings on the proposed increase ended today with written briefs to be submitted by Sept. 1 to the Public Service Commission.

Objectors to the increase were Wilfred McQuaid, representing the people at large, Thomas B. Finan, Cumberland's solicitor, and Gorman E. Getty, attorney for Allegany County.

They concentrated their fire on what has happened to many millions of cubic feet of natural gas which the company paid for and never received or distributed and didn't collect money for.

The money represented would have an effect on determining whether the company is getting a fair return on its investment which in the final analysis is the basis for PSC approval of rates.

Wants 11% Boost

Cumberland and Allegheny claims it has not received a fair return despite two rate increases since 1952. It wants to increase rates an overall 11 per cent on residential consumers to bring in $295,000 more, of which it will keep $147,500 after paying taxes.

The opponents first put on the stand Harold Snyder, a consulting engineer from Keyser, W. Va. He testified that Cumberland and Allegheny is mysteriously losing more gas than is normal, in his opinion.

Snyder claimed normal loss—called unaccounted gas in the business—for the company should have been 576,629,000 cubic feet last year. Instead, it was 1,265,996,000, which cost $180,283 on the entire system operated by the company, which also serves West Virginia.

Snyder said the loss on the Maryland system, which has about 21,000 customers, amounted to $102,000.

A. B. Lauderbaugh, chief engineer for the utility, sought to discredit Snyder's system of figuring the loss and also testified a "normal" figure such as arrived at by Snyder did not take into consideration variables among companies.

The gas is lost after it is put into the system through leaks, difference in temperature, pressure variations and geographical locations.

The Cumberland attorneys were joined by Wilmer Fell Davis, a member of the PSC, in questioning a report which they requested from the company on its purchase of a gas field at Terra Alta, W.Va., in 1951 for four million dollars.

Company figures showed it estimated gas reserves at 33,400,000,000 when it bought the land. At the end of last year, reserves were estimated at 11,741,000,000 after only about 11 million cubic feet had been taken out.

Charge The Consumers?

"Don't you feel the reserves were slightly slanted?" asked Davis. "You miscalculated by one-third and are going to charge the consumers for the miscalculation."

(The four million dollar purchase price is included in the company's book value of its investment in Cumberland and Allegheny on which it is basing its argument

Fire Training Work Continues

The Cumberland Fire Department has begun the second phase of its summer training schedule, utilizing about four days each week for the program.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker said the first part of the training program was completed in the past three weeks. The second part of the schedule began yesterday.

The approximately 60-man department has been divided for the program with 30 men already having received instruction designed to promote better teamwork among the firemen.

The instruction courses, under the direction of Assistant Chief Robert C. Long, are being held at Potomac Street, and in the Civil Defense building at Constitution Park.

Each of the four stations in the city is taken as a team for instruction in hose and nozzle work and the use of various tools, equipment and fire-fighting apparatus.

The department uses men off duty in its training schedule while the remainder remain on duty at the stations. Radio contact is maintained with the crews in the field in event of emergency.

Later phases in the training schedule will include ladder work at Central Fire Station and use of gas masks and rescue apparatus. The program is expected to extend into September, Chief Parker said.

Wheat Quota Voting Set

The Allegany County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee office at 37 Washington Street will be open from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m. Friday, July 20, to accept votes from the 11 eligible wheat growers in the annual wheat marketing quota referendum.

Miss Elizabeth A. Hoover, manager of the ASC office, said that last year only one of the 11 eligible growers voted in the referendum and he opposed the quotas. Two years ago two of the nine eligible voted and they split, one favoring and one opposing the quota. In the first referendum in 1953, nine of the 14 eligible voted. Five opposed the quotas and four favored them.

Earlier this week Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson announced that the national average wheat price support for 1957 production, if quotas are approved in the July 20 referendum, will be $2 per bushel.

If quotas are not approved by two-thirds of those voting, the available support level under legislative provisions will be at 50 per cent of parity, or about $1.21 a bushel on the basis of current parity estimates.

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Charles A. Jewell, who left us three years ago today, July 13, 1953.
Down a road that's calm and peaceful
Guided by God's loving hand,

An Important Message For Parents

If your son is between 17 and 18½ years of age, he can start completing his military obligation now. He can enlist in a local unit of the Army Reserve now and still continue his high school education. The SPECIAL enlistment requires only six months of active duty training and this training DOES NOT INTERFERE with normal high school attendance. Since January, over 500 young men have enlisted in Army Reserve units in Maryland and the number enlisting is growing—many men who enlisted earlier under this SPECIAL program have completed their six months training and are now ineligible for the draft while they perform their reserve duty training with local units.

May we strongly suggest that parents inquire today and get the complete details on this SPECIAL enlistment. Some parents have been deeply disappointed because they were not fully aware of this SPECIAL program until after their son passed the age of 18½ years—the age limitations are specified by law and waivers on age are not permitted.

Full details can be obtained, during the day and on most evenings, at Army Reserve Training Center:

Toynbee Sees End Of Europe's Rule In Africa

GENEVA, July 12 (AP)—Arnold J. Toynbee says it will be surprising if a European minority is still dominant in any African country 50 years from now.

The English historian and writer makes this prediction in an article published today in the ecumenical review of the World Council of Churches.

Toynbee says British grant of full self-government to India, Pakistan, Ceylon and Burma in 1947 "made it certain that all subject peoples in Asia and Africa would win the same status in the near future."

Noting that self-government already has been won by Indonesia, Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia, Libya, Tunisia, Morocco, French West Africa, the Gold Coast, Nigeria and Sudan, Toynbee adds it hardly can be long delayed in Algeria and Cyprus.

"What is going to happen in Kenya, British Central Africa and South Africa we do not know, but it would be surprising if a European minority were still dominant in any African country 50 years from now," he asserts.

The lesson learned in Asia and Africa, Toynbee reports, is that "the timing of the granting of self-government is all-important. If the former imperial power tries to hold on to its rule over its subject peoples until the latest possible moment, it will have to make a humiliating exit, and it and they will part as enemies."

He cites that as the history of the exits of the French from Syria, Lebanon and Indochina, of the Dutch from Indonesia and of the British from Egypt.

Toynbee contends it "is impolitic and disagreeable, as well as immoral, to try to hold unwilling subjects by force."

ITALIAN LINER 'GIULIO CESARE' WELCOMED

H-Tests Still Going On

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—U.S. officials said today the hydrogen bomb tests in the Pacific are still under way and will probably continue until late August. But there is no apparent relaxation of the Atomic Energy Commission's ban on announcing individual tests.

A Nigerian witch doctor now advertises in his local journal. Proves again what we've always contended — for results, there's no magic like newspaper want ads!

73 BUSHELS TO THE ACRE

ROY MAYES of near Elsberry, Mo., harvested more than 73 bushels of wheat to the acre this year. He harvested 1,406 bushels and 30 pounds from his government-measured field of 19.2 acres. The variety was Pawnee and the test weight at the Missouri Farmers association elevator in Elsberry was 61. (International)

Work Starts On First AEC Medical Center

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—Work has started on construction of the nation's first Atomic Energy Commission medical research center. It will contain a nuclear reactor designed specifically for medical research and therapy.

Malan Construction Corp., of New York, which recently received a $5,141,879 contract from the AEC, announced the start of construction today.

The one-story medical center, which will form a part of the Brookhaven National Laboratory at Upton, N.Y., will cover 2.7 acres of an 11-acre site.

The entire medical research center, including the reactor, is scheduled for completion in 1958.

Boy, 12, Killed In Freak Target Practice Mishap

Victim Dies On Way To Hospital

A 12-year-old Piedmont boy was shot and killed yesterday afternoon in a target shooting accident in the hills on the outskirts of the Mineral County, W. Va., community.

Prosecuting Attorney Vernon E. Rankin of Keyser, said Beryle J. Whetzel, Jr., died en route to Potomac Valley Hospital shortly after the shooting. He was fatally wounded in the chest just below the heart, Rankin said.

The youngster, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Beryle J. Whetzel, of 24 East Fairview Street in Piedmont, had been helping his stepbrother, David Shoop, 16, and Paul McGoye, 17, both of Piedmont, shoot mark near the television and radio tower at the top of the hill .

Rankin said the two teen-age boys gave this version of the mishap:

Rifle Jams

The two older boys had been shooting apples from trees with a .22 calibre rifle most of the afternood. Young Whetzel had been picking up the empty cartridge shells ejected from the rifle, they said.

Sometime after 3 p. m. a cartridge failed to fire as McGoye was shooting. He attempted to eject the bad shell from the rifle by working the bolt. Whetzel moved in front of the rifle, either in an attempt to help him or to pick up some spent cartridges, when the gun fired as McGoye worked the bolt action.

The bullet struck Whetzel in the center of the chest and angled downward in his body, Rankin said.

McGoye ran about a mile to the home of Daniel Snyder to get aid while Shook stayed beside the injured boy. Snyder helped carry the boy, still—conscious from the hill and took him to the hospital in Keyser in his car.

Whetzel was pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital.

Inquest Scheduled

Rankin said an official inquest will be held before Justice of the Peace Anna Abramson in Piedmont Monday, July 23. He said investigation of the incident indicated it apparently was an accidental shooting.

Cpl. Evan Moody of the Keyser detachment of the West Virginia State Police, aided in the investigation. The state trooper said he found at least 26 empty cartridges in the trouser pockets of the victim. Both McGoye and Shook reenacted the shooting at the scene for the investigators.

Whetzel, who would have been a sixth grade pupil at Piedmont Elementary School this fall, was born in April 1944 in Luke. He attended the Assembly of God Church and Sunday school in Westernport.

Surviving are his parents, two sisters, Verna Lee and Linda C., both at home; two brothers, James H. Whetzel and William Richard Whetzel, also at home, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Moon of Westernport.

The body is at the Boal Funeral Home in Westernport.

Md. Workshop On Clothing Planned Here

Mrs. Edna Bryte Bishop, McDonald, Pa., creator of the Bishop method of clothing construction, will serve as consultant at a statewide workshop on clothing construction for home economics teachers to be held at Fort Hill High School starting Monday, July 23.

Miss Ruth C. McColly, supervisor of home economics in the Allegany County public schools, who announced plans for the two-week workshop, said that this will mark Mrs. Bishop's fourth appearance at a workshop in Maryland. She has attended two county-wide workshops here and one in College Park.

This coming workshop, which will run until August 3, is being sponsored by the State Department of Education and Miss Evelyn Miller, state supervisor of home economics.

Some 67 persons will attend the workshop. There will be representatives from 19 of Maryland's 23 counties and Baltimore city as well as two from Canada, one from the State of Washington and one from West Virginia.

Those selected for the workshop are supervisors, classroom teachers and adult education teachers who will be able to return to their respective counties and conduct in-service training programs in clothing construction for other teachers.

Mrs. Bishop will be assisted by Mrs. Marie Farrell, an adult education teacher from this county, and Miss McColly.

All sessions of the two-week workshop will be conducted at Fort Hill, either in the home economics classrooms or in the cafeteria.

Miss Yola Hudson, teacher at Fort Hill, will serve as business manager for the workshop. Housing accommodations for most of the workshop participants have been found in private homes. Many of Allegany County's home economics teachers will participate in the workshop.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster will welcome the participants and introduce Mrs. Bishop at the opening session.

Kiwanians Hear Report On Atomic Energy Uses

John E. Hibline of Baltimore, a representative of the National Coal Association, told the Cumberland Kiwanis Club yesterday at Central YMCA that in another 10 years about 10 per cent of all power in the United States will be generated by atomic reactors.

Discussing the economic competition likely to result from peaceful uses of the atom, Hibline said it is predicted that in another 10 years there will be a greater demand for coal than there is today.

$100,000 Suit Will Be Tried In U. S. Court

Originally Filed For Action Here

A $100,000 damage suit filed originally in Allegany County Circuit Court as a result of the runaway truck accident last October 19 which killed five persons in LaVale has been removed to U. S. District Court in Baltimore and is expected to be tried September 12 along with another action for $500,000.

The $100,000 suit was filed by Attorney Noel Speir Cook March 15 in behalf of Mrs. Sarah Virginia Lloyd, RFD 1, Frostburg, mother of Miss Grace Evelyn Lloyd, one of the crash victims.

On April 4 the defendants in the suit, Ray Wells, RFD 2, Dover, York County, Pa., owner of the runaway tractor-trailer; Daniel Motor Freight Inc., Warren, Ohio, which leased the truck, and Paul Stewart Myers Jr., RFD 2, Dover Pa., the truck driver, petitioned to have the case removed to Federal Court.

The $500,000 suit with which Mrs. Lloyd's case is scheduled to be coupled was brought by Mrs. Willa M. Fearer, also of Frostburg, widow of Clifford P. Fearer, owner and driver of the car which was smashed by the truck, killing all four occupants.

Mrs. Fearer, through Attorneys Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson, filed the $500,000 action for benefit of herself and three young children.

Claims brought by the heirs of the other three victims of the crash have been settled for a total of about $74,000. Those victims were Francis X. Spearman and Miss Nellie K. Thomas, both of Frostburg, and Samuel Brenneman of Springs, Pa.

Purple Heart Will Convene Here Today

National Commander To Attend Meeting

A. J. "Ted" Healy, of Madison, Wis., national commander of the Military Order of the Purple Heart, will attend the 15th annual state convention of the Department of Maryland, which opens here today.

Herbert McFarland, general chairman of the three-day convention, said last night he was notified earlier in the day that the national commander is expected to arrive here tomorrow and will attend the banquet and dance Saturday night at the Fort Cumberland Hotel ballroom.

Healy, according to McFarland, is in Washington for the purpose of making plans for the national convention scheduled next month in Lakeland, Fla.

Alice E. Reilly, department auxiliary president; Mrs. Beatrice G. Donovan, department auxiliary secretary and past national president, and Emma L. Hudson, past department auxiliary president, arrived in Cumberland yesterday evening.

An initiation of six candidates into the local auxiliary unit will be held this morning about 10:30 o'clock at convention headquarters, the Algonquin Hotel.

The department president and past national president of the auxiliary will be in charge of the ceremony. The Department of Maryland convention will open at 1:30 p. m. today with business sessions at the hotel.

Arrangements for the memorial service at the Washington headquarters at Riverside Park on Sunday will be made this afternoon, according to McFarland, who said registration of delegates will be held from about 4 o'clock until 6 o'clock this afternoon at the hotel.

The social event of the opening day of the convention will be a garden party this evening at the Purple Heart Center which is an "open house" affair. It will begin at 7 p. m.

In conjunction with the state meeting, McFarland said, Mountain Chapter 166 has completed tentative plans for a community project whereby a hospital bed or wheel chair will be available at no cost to persons unable to provide for such equipment.

Further information on the service may be obtained from McFarland at the Purple Heart Center. The beds and chairs are limited in number, he explained, and will be obtainable on a first-come, first-served basis.

Mrs. Virchie McFarland of this city is convention chairman for the auxiliary, while Mrs. Anna McCarthy heads the credentials committee.

Hot Shoes Cause Firemen To Don Their Gas Masks

Firemen from South Cumberland Company had to use gas masks when they answered an alarm yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Robertson, 15 East Laing Avenue.

The reason: a pair of wet tennis shoes cooking in the kitchen oven. Firemen said the owner had put them there to dry, then forgot them.

Other calls yesterday sent the fire company to Sullivan's junk yard on Ford Avenue at 12:55 a.m. to put out a fire in an old car seat, and to South Cumberland Salvation Army Corps, 505 Virginia Avenue, at 1:57 p. m., when a gas furnace unit became disconnected. There was no fire.

Foliage Experts Spot Gas Leaks From Moving Truck

Experts trained to detect the effect of leaking gas upon foliage are used by the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company as part of a continuing program of reducing leakage to a minimum.

Details of the method of detecting leaks by foliage changes were related by Albert E. Lauderbaugh, chief engineer of the company, recently at a hearing before the Public Service Commission.

The company each summer employs a special service group, Heath Vegetatation Surveys, to detect leaks in its gas lines.

The firm, Lauderbaugh said, has trained forestry and foliage experts who can spot gas leaks by changes in the foliage.

A trained observer, he said, can lean over a bar set in the back of a pickup truck and spot changes in the color of foliage as the truck travels along the lines at 15 miles or more an hour.

When he spots a change in color, he said, the expert raps on the roof of the truck in order to stop the vehicle.

The expert will ask another member of the crew to try the test bar at that point, and they will put the test bar through, and aspirate a sample to determine whether or not there is a leak.

The company has line walkers, he added, who patrol lines constantly to detect leaks.

Other crews, he said, conduct bar-test surveys, checking all gate boxes; utility connections and all sewer connections in order to keep track of leaks.

Equity Suit Filed

Harold Dale Valentine yesterday filed an equity suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against Grace Marie Valentine.

Today Is Final Day To Purchase Bicycle Tags

Today is the last day to get your bicycle tags, youngsters!

Mrs. Vivian Turley, clerk for the traffic division of the Cumberland Police Department, said approximately 1,029 bicycle permits have been issued to bike owners in the city. Last year there were 1,750 tags issued, which means there are some 700 bikes without the new permits and tags.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn gave bike owners a two-weeks reprieve beyond the first (July 1) deadline, until July 15. However, the bike registration office at Police Headquarters will not be open Saturday or Sunday.

Chief Flynn warned that bicycles without new tags will be confiscated for a month after the 15th.

'Missing' Gas Poses Mystery In PSC Hearing

Objectors Say Consumer Pays

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE, July 12 (AP)—Reports on several million cubic feet of "missing" gas were filed today with the Public Service Commission.

Questions over where the gas has gone were the core of resistance to a request by the Cumberland Gas & Allegheny Gas Co. to increase rates.

Hearings on the proposed increase ended today with written briefs to be submitted by Sept. 1 to the Public Service Commission.

Objectors to the increase were Wilfred McQuaid, representing the people at large, Thomas B. Finan, Cumberland's solicitor, and Gorman E. Getty, attorney for Allegany County.

They concentrated their fire on what has happened to many millions of cubic feet of natural gas which the company paid for and never received or distributed and didn't collect money for.

The money represented would have an effect on determining whether the company is getting a fair return on its investment which in the final analysis is the basis for PSC approval of rates.

Wants 11% Boost

Cumberland and Allegheny claims it has not received a fair return despite two rate increases since 1952. It wants to increase rates an overall 11 per cent on residential consumers to bring in $295,000 more, of which it will keep $147,500 after paying taxes.

The opponents first put on the stand Harold Snyder, a consulting engineer from Keyser, W. Va. He testified that Cumberland and Allegheny is mysteriously losing more gas than is normal, in his opinion.

Snyder claimed normal loss—called unaccounted gas in the business—for the company should have been 576,629,000 cubic feet last year. Instead, it was 1,265,996,000, which cost $180,283 on the entire system operated by the company, which also serves West Virginia.

Snyder said the loss on the Maryland system, which has about 21,000 customers, amounted to $102,000.

A. B. Lauderbaugh, chief engineer for the utility, sought to discredit Snyder's system of figuring the loss and also testified a "normal" figure such as arrived at by Snyder did not take into consideration variables among companies.

The gas is lost after it is put into the system through leaks, difference in temperature, pressure variations and geographical locations.

The Cumberland attorneys were joined by Wilmer Fell Davis, a member of the PSC, in questioning a report which they requested from the company on its purchase of a gas field at Terra Alta, W.Va., in 1951 for four million dollars.

Company figures showed it estimated gas reserves at 33,400,000,000 when it bought the land. At the end of last year, reserves were estimated at 11,741,000,000 after only about 11 million cubic feet had been taken out.

Charge The Consumers?

"Don't you feel the reserves were slightly slanted?" asked Davis. "You miscalculated by one-third and are going to charge the consumers for the miscalculation."

(The four million dollar purchase price is included in the company's book value of its investment in Cumberland and Allegheny on which it is basing its argument

Fire Training Work Continues

The Cumberland Fire Department has begun the second phase of its summer training schedule, utilizing about four days each week for the program.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker said the first part of the training program was completed in the past three weeks. The second part of the schedule began yesterday.

The approximately 60-man department has been divided for the program with 30 men already having received instruction designed to promote better teamwork among the firemen.

The instruction courses, under the direction of Assistant Chief Robert C. Long, are being held at Potomac Street, and in the Civil Defense building at Constitution Park.

Each of the four stations in the city is taken as a team for instruction in hose and nozzle work and the use of various tools, equipment and fire-fighting apparatus.

The department uses men off duty in its training schedule while the remainder remain on duty at the stations. Radio contact is maintained with the crews in the field in event of emergency.

Later phases in the training schedule will include ladder work at Central Fire Station and use of gas masks and rescue apparatus. The program is expected to extend into September, Chief Parker said.

Wheat Quota Voting Set

The Allegany County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee office at 37 Washington Street will be open from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m. Friday, July 20, to accept votes from the 11 eligible wheat growers in the annual wheat marketing quota referendum.

Miss Elizabeth A. Hoover, manager of the ASC office, said that last year only one of the 11 eligible growers voted in the referendum and he opposed the quotas. Two years ago two of the nine eligible voted and they split, one favoring and one opposing the quota. In the first referendum in 1953, nine of the 14 eligible voted. Five opposed the quotas and four favored them.

Earlier this week Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson announced that the national average wheat price support for 1957 production, if quotas are approved in the July 20 referendum, will be $2 per bushel.

If quotas are not approved by two-thirds of those voting, the available support level under legislative provisions will be at 50 per cent of parity, or about $1.21 a bushel on the basis of current parity estimates.
